The speaker made the plea for—The union of all Christian force irrespective of creeds, for the conquest of evil; for the suppression of the liquor and vice traffic; for a large spirit of brotherliness, and for the reign of universal peace, when war's banner shall be forever furled, and the energy now spent on war shall be used for the advancement of the cause of Righteousness and Truth.

The Judgment of Four Wise Men on the Liquor Traffic

Abraham Lincoln

"The liquor traffic is a cancer in society, eating out the vitals and threatening destruction, and all attempts to regulate it will only prove abortive. There must be no attempts to regulate the cancer, it must be eradicated."

William McKinley

"The liquor traffic is the most degrading and ruinous of all pursuits. By legalizing this traffic we agree to share with the liquor seller the responsibilities and evils of his business. Every man who votes for license becomes of necessity a partner of the liquor traffic and its consequences."

Theodore Roosevelt

"It (the liquor traffic) tends to produce criminality in the population at large and law breaking among the saloon keepers themselves. When the liquor men are allowed to do as they wish they are sure to debauch not only the body social but the body public as well. If the American people do not control it, it will control them."

W. J. Bryan

"The average saloon is the most disreputable place in the community; it is a bureau of information on vice; it is the first place one would enter to inquire for a gambling hall or a disorderly house. It is likewise the first place visited by the officers of the law when they are looking for a criminal, and the first place closed in case of riot or disturbance."

Early Morning Fire

Last Thursday morning a fire, supposed to have been caused by an overheated stove pipe, destroyed the tenement house on Park street, owned by Mrs. Ellen E. Gallup, and occupied by Mrs. Gallup, Chas. Wiltshire Mrs. Wm. Brill and Harry Brown. The fire started in the west part of the house, occupied by the Wiltshire family, and the strong northerly gale, which was blowing at that time, sent the flames quickly through the entire building.

The fire alarm was rung at 4:45 o'clock and the Morrisville Fire Department quickly responded, but were greatly hampered in their work as they were unable to use the nearest hydrant. In spite of the bitter cold, the thermometer registering 30 degrees below zero, the firemen with their many helpers, fought valiantly to save the building, many of the men suffering much from exposure.

The house was valued at about $2000 with an insurance of $1250. None of the household goods were insured, but many of them were saved. Neighbors very kindly cared for the families rendered homeless.

There was a generous response to roll call with quotations from Spanish and Italian authors.
