Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c and $1.00. For sale at all drug stores. Be sure to mention this paper.

A Pioneer Among Telegraphers

Charles E. Bliss, an old-time telegrapher and former postmaster at Bangor, Me., died last week after a brief illness. He was born in Bradford, Vt., July 22, 1833. Mr. Bliss was one of the first operators to read by sound. In his early days he was employed in Boston. He is survived by a son and a daughter, Rev. Alfred V. Bliss, pastor of Winslow Mass., Congregational Church of Taunton, and Mrs. C. A. Ufford of Dorchester Mass.

Who Shall Begin?

Within the church there is a life that either repels or draws those who are outside the church, says the Sunday School Times. If a church is occupied with controversy, and there is a spirit of dissension among the members, one who is outside is not drawn by this fact to seek fellowship with that group. Many a church to which no accession of membership has come in a long while, may fairly ask itself whether the life in that church is hospitable to the convert. In one neighborhood where church dissension and rivalry had worked much harm, a number of persons who desired to unite with one or another of the churches delayed so doing, and one of them said to a friend: "We are only just waiting for some one to begin." No one seemed eager to be the first to enter into a local fellowship where strife was in the atmosphere. Many a church may have, just outside its doors, those who are waiting—waiting for the church itself to begin to show that it is a center of the Christian fellowship of love and service. It is not enough to say that those outside ought to come in. Those who are within often need to begin by making sure that the fellowship of believers to which they invite others is a Christian fellowship.

Look Higher.

Any outlook on life is likely to prove disappointing unless it is an upward one. The student of art or literature, too easily satisfied with his own attainments because they are not so very far behind those of his companions, needs the warning "Look higher!" In order that he may rightly estimate what he has gained, he needs to adjust his scale of values by comparison with the work of the great masters. His models should not be the mediocre but the giants! The same message comes in those matters that concern the life of the soul. Even the Christian believes, who has much to stimulate and teach him in the lives of those of his fellows whose faithfulness and zeal have made them conspicuous in the history of the church, must still look higher, not unto these witnesses, but "unto Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith."

BIG SURPRISE TO MANY IN MORRISVILLE

Local people are surprised at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. A. L. Cheney states that this simple remedy antiseptizes the digestive system and draws off the impurities as thoroughly that a SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY.

Our Green Mountain Chain

Oh, Grand old chain of mountains
My thoughts I turn to thee
As from my quiet cottage
I view thy scenery,
Nears now the shades of evening
All forms are seeking rest;
The wind is so thy blowing
Dark clouds from out the west.
Old Luna's light falls softly
Down o'er our hill and vale,
While your fair crests rise proudly
Above our common scale,
Far circled in the distance
As far as can be seen
Are thy towering walls about us
Robbed in their garb of green.
You stand as a faithful sentinel
One grand old Emerald chain
No blizzard o'er can reach us
Or furious hurricane.
Well guarded by thy walls of strength
We can sink in sweet repose
'Til we natl again a glorious moon
Whose soft radiance o'er us flows,
Away in the clear blue distance
Lies Man-field's upturned face,
Communing twixt earth and heaven
In his wondrous state of grace.
As long as our streams flow onward
Our country and state remain
Vermont, our fair Goddess
Will wear her Emerald chain.

The Druggist's Diagnosis.
People who go to apothecaries to have their diseases prescribed for occasionally get very strange diagnoses. One day a farmer, wearing a long countenance, is said to have entered an apothecary's shop and remarked, "I seem to have something queer in my stomach, and I want you to give me something for it."
"What are your symptoms?" the apothecary asked.
"Every little while something seems to rise up and then settle back again, and by and by it rises up again."
The apothecary put his chin in the palm of his hand and meditated. "Look here," he said gravely, "you haven't gone and swallowed an elevator, have you?"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Raphael is Not Romantic.
Raphael not only could not paint a landscape; he could not paint people in a landscape. * * * His figures have always an indoor look—that is, a set, determined, voluntary, dramatic character, arising from their own passions, or a watchfulness of those of others, and want that wild uncertainty of expression which is connected with the accidents of nature and the changes of the elements. He has nothing romantic about him.—William Hazlitt.

What "Vikings" Means.
"Vikings" is the term that applies to the Scandinavian warriors—call them pirates, if you like—of the eighth to the eleventh century. The term applies to the rank and file as well as to the chiefs and means, fundamentally, pirates or robbers.—New York American.

Champagne Bottles.
One reason why champagne bottles are so dear is that machinery cannot be used to make them. Long power alone can secure the necessary uniform thickness of the glass. A bonus is given to workmen who have had years of experience.—Exchange.

Perhaps It Would.
If princes knew when to speak and women to keep silent, courtiers to say what they thought and servants to conceal it, the whole world would be at peace.—Chinese.

Please Don't.
Oh, yes, we think a good deal of the girl's voice next door, but it wouldn't do for us to put our thoughts into words.—New Orleans Picayune.

He Certainly Will.
Wright—I have half a mind to become a newspaper man. Penman—Oh, you'll need more mind than that.—Yonkers Statesman.

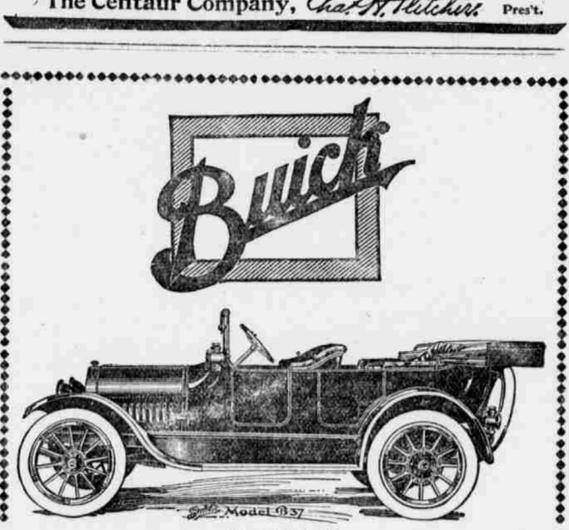

Husbands Have Been Known to Do It.
A Manhattan woman was "working" her husband's initials in some napkins when a woman peddler dropped in the other day. "I don't see why you put his initials on those napkins," said the peddler woman. "What on earth would you do with them if he happened to get a divorce?" The owner of the napkins had to admit that she had never thought of that.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop."
When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicines I ever took."
If the careworn, run-down women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderful, strength creator and body-builder, and we sell it under a guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.
P. S. For any skin trouble try our Sazo Salve. We guarantee it.
