

THE BLIND SEE.

Whitehall, N. Y., Feb. 23, 1891.

My daughter, aged 12 years, was seized five months since with inflammation of the eyes, and during the greater part of that period has been entirely blind.—She had been treated by our physicians in vain. When placed under Dr. Liston's care, her eyes bore the appearance of raw, bloody beef, and were sightless, the edges were smeared with pus and matter, and the lids so swollen as to oblige her face. In four days under his care she could see, her eyes nearly natural, and I can scarcely realize enough that her sight is restored and a career of usefulness again opened to her.

SODENSKY SNOWDY

I assisted in holding the child when the Doctor examined her eyes, and can testify that the case was not overdone in the above statement.

ALONZO SELDEN.

ALBANY, May 1st, 1891

I hereby certify that eight years since I lost my sight by inflammation and ulceration of the eyes and remained blind until operated upon by Dr. Liston a month since. I can now see to read, write and do my daily work. I consider my case the more remarkable as several distinguished surgeons, among them Dr. March said I could never be helped.

THE DEAF HEAR.

Mr. Alonzo Selden, of Whitehall, was cured of long standing deafness by Dr. Liston in ten minutes.

From Glen Falls Message, March, 1890.

A SINGULAR CASE IN OUR MINDS—Mrs. Hathaaway, of Glen Falls, but now residing in Sandy Hill had been unable to get down for nearly three years without at once going into convulsions, and of these she has had forty-seven hours. Not the least singular feature in her case was, that she was unable to lie down except at stated times, and was obliged to rise at a certain hour or the convulsions would arouse her. She could sit down in a chair when it was in motion, but the moment it stopped she was convulsed. Treatment seemed of no avail, and dozens of physicians after treating her case without benefit gave up in despair. At one time she could rest she had was while under the influence of chloroform.

On his late visit to this place, Dr. Liston was consulted, and an extract from a letter dated March 18th shows the result. "I was at our house on the Sabbath there was a particular stage of the Thursday noon when the patient was lying down, when dinner was ready she could not get up, she was so weak and had to be carried up. She said the appearance of her face was a large quantity of blood was a high fever, and she was very weak."

I have the certificate, and some months ago I was cured of my deafness by Dr. Liston.

A son of the Hon. Lyman Johnson, Esq., General of the State of New York, had a polypus removed from the ear a short time since by Dr. Liston at the Albany General Infirmary.

From the Utica Herald.—Yesterday Dr. Liston removed several large polypi from the head of Mrs. Pittman of this city. Mrs. Pittman has suffered many years by this loathsome disease, that has been slowly undermining her constitution, and cannot but be thankful she is well rid of such an unpleasant incubus. A polypus with its roots weighed over thirty grains.

From the Albany Daily Gazette.—Mrs. White, of this town, has suffered for twelve years from a polypus in the nose. One was extracted by the late Dr. White, seven years since, and her sufferings were renewed. She called at the Albany General Infirmary a few days since, and six Polypi, with their roots removed by Dr. Liston, at one sitting, in less than an hour, and with much less pain than the former one had costed. The following is an extract from her letter:

"My head feels very well, but the only complaint I can breathe through a great deal better. I do not cough up so much, neither is there so much charge from my head."

From the Albany Daily Gazette.—We know of several neighbors who have been cured by Dr. Liston, and we recommend him as a skillful physician and a kind man.

Journal.—Dr. Liston's practice is unobscured, commendable, and to be commended. From the National Herald.—Dr. Liston's recommendations are such as cannot fail to convince that he may be implicitly confided in.

Mr. Peter J. Hay, of West Troy, was cured of long standing deafness by Dr. Liston in ten minutes. I was at our house on the Sabbath there was a particular stage of the Thursday noon when the patient was lying down, when dinner was ready she could not get up, she was so weak and had to be carried up. A son of the Rev. Mr. Liston, of Troy, N. Y., cured of a most distressing deafness of many years standing, by Dr. Liston. He is the bottom of the pleasure of seeing that the world is a better place as he was before coming under his care.
