WOODSTOCK NEWS

V. N. G. Encampment.

The annual encampment of the First Infantry, Vermont National Guard, will be held at the state camp grounds, near Fort Ethan Allen August 4 to 13 inclusive.

The muster this year will be an "old time" muster with evening parade in dress uniform and "Governor's day," when the members entitled to them, will receive the veteran service medals for service in the Vermont National Guard.

Company G will leave on the 10.20 a. m. train August 4th, and return the 13th. The company has 53 men; all are interested in the service, and the organization, now under command of Capt. K. A. Pember, is in excellent shape.

Special Premiums for Apples.

Another special premium for exhibitors at the Windsor County Fair is offered by R. D. Ransom, as follows: For the best ten plates of fall or winter apples, grown on one farm, not less than five apples to a plate, first premium $5.00, second $3.00, third $2.00.

Special premium offered by E. A. Spear. For the best half bushel of apples grown on trees sprayed with Sherwin-Williams lime sulphur or arsenate of lead, $2.00; for second best $1.00.

New By-laws for the Village.

The voters of the village, about 75 of them, assembled at the special meeting Tuesday evening and held an unusually protracted session.

The acts of incorporation and the by-laws of the village are to be printed for general distribution. It was voted to instruct the trustees to renew the equipment at the stone crushing plant at an expense not exceeding $200.

Proposals relating to the health of the village, removal of garbage, etc., the testing of dairy herds, were presented by Dr. C. W. Kidder, and were adopted as additional by-laws with few dissenting votes.

A somewhat drastic proposal forbidding the moving of buildings through the streets was voted down, and the following by-law was then adopted:

No building, that would obstruct a street, shall be moved through the village streets, without a vote of the village at an annual meeting or at a meeting regularly called.

The meeting discussed the matter of regulating the speed of automobiles, a problem which has vexed greater minds, without reaching any conclusion as to just what was a safe and reasonable speed in the city limits. This by-law was then adopted:

The Trustees are hereby instructed to enforce the provisions of the Automobile Law of the State within the village limits.

The trustees were directed to have the crusher plant insured if it seemed advisable.

Reduce Parcel Post Rates.

Plans for the extension, improvement, and reduction in rates of the parcel post have been announced by Postmaster-General Burleson.

The changes, which are to become effective August 15, include an increase from 11 pounds to 20 pounds in the maximum weight of parcels; a material reduction in the postage rates in the first and second zones, and the abandonment of the parcel post map as a means of computing rates and for it of a rate chart individualized to every post-office in the United States.

While, for the present, the maximum weight limit of 20 pounds and the reduction in rates will apply only to the first and second zones, from any given post-office, a distance of about 150 miles, the changes directed constitute the first long step toward a universal extension of the system and a general reduction in the rates of postage on parcel matter.

Mrs. Amelia Howard Chapman, a writer of song words, died at her home in Windham Friday. She was 57 years old and is survived by her husband and three children.

WOODSTOCK NOTES

Mr and Mrs Charles C. Bates of Rochester, N. Y., are at the Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Bradley and son have returned from Lowell, Mass.

Mrs. W. E. View visited friends in Bellows Falls Saturday.

Mrs. H. C. Howland and Ray Carbrino returned from Claremont, N. H., Sunday.

Mrs. Ida Newell Chamberlin, an elocutionist of ability, from the Detroit school of Elocution and English Literature, will give an entertainment at the Christian church August 5th.

Mrs. Leph Johnson Canfield, mother of Rev. H. L. Canfield; died July 17, of cancer, at a Pasadena, Calif., hospital, in her 79th year. She had been ill and a sufferer for six months or more. Her husband survives her at the age of 85 years.

She was born in Ohio of Revolutionary ancestry, her grandfather Daniel Curtis, serving, according to family tradition, "from Bunker Hill to Yorktown." Mr. and Mrs. Canfield were married 56 years ago, and for 55 years Mr. Canfield has been in Universalist ministry. Mrs. Canfield had an exceptional mind and both she and her husband have been interested and active in many of the progressive movements of past years.

An inspection of fire escapes on the Woodstock school building is announced for next Tuesday at 10 a. m. by an unsigned handbill circulated Thursday. There are some things not right about the present fire escape: The doors open in, which is enough to condemn it, and it is approached from the school rooms by several steps. The plan endorsed by Colonel Dearborn, whom Woodstock knows is somewhat interested in the subject, and whose literature and quotation marks are very familiar, is to run the fire escape, which is on the Linden street side of the building, from the second story to the terrace, thus avoiding a descent of one flight to the ground. And this plan is favored as quite practicable by citizens who have looked over the ground.

A cow owned by Charles K. Thompson was killed by lightning during a thunderstorm last week. This is the third he has lost within a year—one by sickness, one by lightning, and the other was killed by an accident in the pasture.

Misses Vivian Canfield and Marjorie Brown are passing a week at Medford, Mass., and from there go to Ferry Beach, near Old Orchard, Me., for three weeks.

G. H. Day has added two planers and a tilting saw table to the equipment of his woodworking shop.

Mrs. E. Thales Enmons, with her two children, of Geneva, N. Y., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Townsend.

Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Brackett sail from Boston for London today. Dr. Brackett will attend the medical congress to be held there.

At the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening the theme of the sermon will be, "An Ideal Life."

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Faulkner sailed from New York this week for Germany, leaving Woodstock Saturday. They expect to return here in September.

E. I. Benson was in Boston a few days this week.

Rev. Charles H. Wells of Newark, N. J. is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Snodgrass of Kansas City, Mo., is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Morgan.

Mrs. Arthur B. Wilder and Miss Ruth Wilder are in Saratoga, N. Y., for a week.

Rev. Benjamin Swift attended the ordination of Rev. Ray Andrew Chapman as pastor of the First Congregational church at Sharon on Tuesday, and gave the charge to the candidate.

A blacksnake and an adder engaged in brief battle in the yard of Mrs. George W. Marble's home last Sunday. The blacksnake had a deadly hold and would probably have finished the adder, but Mrs. L. M. Fairbanks, Mrs. Marble's daughter, ended the struggle with a tui outter.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church is sending flowers this year, as usual, to the Flower Mission in Boston. Any one having flowers is asked to leave them with Mrs. Herbert Freeman Friday of each week, before noon.

Hunters' licenses are this year to be issued to residents of the state for 75 cents each. Non-residents of the state and unaturalized citizens must pay $10 each for the privilege of hunting in Vermont. Each hunter must have his license with him and exhibit it on demand to any officer or to the owner of the land upon which he may be hunting.

Mrs. W. D. Parsons of Oak Park, Ill., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Saul.

Dr. C. L. Dana returned to New York Thursday, and today sails for England, to join his daughter, Miss Marjorie F. Dana.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

Report of the Work of the Club the Past Year.

The Woodstock Arts and Crafts association reports a very successful year in the work accomplished. At the recent annual meeting Rev. Benjamin Swift was re-elected president, Rev. H. L. Canfield secretary, and the latter will also act as treasurer, as Col. F. S. Billings will be in Europe the coming year.

Eighty people received instructions in one or another of the classes that were conducted. The classes maintained were carpentry, drawing, basketry, raffia, cane and rush seating and pottery. The latter was taken up last year for the first time. Much interest was shown in the work and excellent and artistic pieces were produced.

The Saturday afternoon teas are a new feature introduced during the year. The sales department, established early in the winter under the name of Woodstock Craft Shop, is achieving a surprising success. Already no less than 87 people have consigned to it their handiwork which has fulfilled the requirements of the exacting standards of the jury to whom all articles must be submitted before being placed on sale. Sales amounting to over $300 were made during the first six months of the existence of the department, and through its encouragement home industries are being established in remote localities and many isolated people by this means find another opportunity of getting in touch with an outside world.

The headquarters of the Arts and Crafts work has come to be in a real sense a social center. Here meet the senior and junior branches of the Y. M. C. A., The King's Daughters, The Mothers' League, and here meet committees and here lectures are given, food sales held, and various groups of people assemble who do not require the accommodations of a larger auditorium. In short the Arts and Crafts association is performing a distinct service for the community and is thrice worthy of the generous support of our town's people.

The association intends the coming year to continue its work along the lines followed last year, but may add new features as opportunity or need may suggest.

Following is a summarized report of the treasurer, exhibiting the receipts and expenditures incident to the maintenance of the work:
