

LAWS OF VERMONT.

SESSION OF 1856.

No. 5.—An act providing for the reference of actions in the County Court.

Sec. 1. The act entitled "an act relating to the reference of actions in the County Court," is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. When an action is so referred, (otherwise than on the agreement of the parties, as already provided by law,) it shall be the duty of the commissioner or commissioners, to and the questions raised in the case, and with their decision thereon, report to the court such facts as they judge to be proved.

Sec. 3. On such report, the court shall render such judgment as is warranted by the facts reported, unless either of the parties shall, at the time at which the report is made, elect to try the case before a jury.

Sec. 4. Each party shall furnish a statement in writing of the material particulars in which he claims to be aggrieved, and the relief which he seeks, and the trial, the report shall be prima facie evidence of the facts.

Sec. 5. The verdict shall be specifically on the facts put in issue by the statement above mentioned, and the court shall render such judgment thereon as is warranted by law on the facts found.

Sec. 6. The judgment so rendered, either with or without trial by jury, shall be final and conclusive between the parties, and shall not be subject to review.

Sec. 7. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, November 18th, 1856.

No. 6. An act relating to the Judiciary.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. The act entitled "an act relating to the Judiciary," approved November 13, 1849, is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The supreme court shall hereafter consist of one chief judge and five assistant judges.

Sec. 3. The judges of the supreme court shall, previous to the session of each county court, assign one of their number to preside at such court; but shall not assign any one of their number to a county in which a case is pending in which he shall have been counsel.

Sec. 4. Each judge of the supreme court shall be a chancellor, and shall have and exercise, for and throughout the state, all the jurisdiction and power which now are, or hereafter may be, vested in a court of chancery.

Sec. 5. All the judicial powers and duties, whether in law or equity, which now appertain to the circuit judges within their respective circuits, shall hereafter vest in and be incumbent upon the members of the supreme court in the respective counties in which they may at any time act.

Sec. 6. All former laws providing for the division of the state into judicial districts, and all laws inconsistent with this act, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 7. No judge shall sit at the trial of any case in banc, which he shall have previously tried in nisi prius.

Sec. 8. This act shall take effect on the first day of November, A. D. 1857.
Approved, November 19, 1856.

No. 7. An act relating to proceedings and costs in suits at law.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. In any action hereafter brought, counts in trespass may be joined with counts in trespass on the case, including trover, in one declaration, if for the same cause of action. And when they are so joined, the pleadings thereon shall be conformable to the law regulating the pleadings in the action of trespass, and the right and rule of damages shall be governed by the law applicable to the count or counts which the party elects to plead.

Sec. 2. In actions of assumpsit, debt on simple contract and trespass on the case, including trover, if the defendant proves the general issue, but relies on special matter of defense as payment, release, accord and satisfaction, a judgment recovered for the same cause or other matter operating to extinguish the right of action which once existed, he shall file with such plea within the time allowed by the practice of the court for filing special pleas, a notice in writing specifying the intended matter of defense under such plea.

Sec. 3. The party against whom matter is specially pleaded to maintain and avoidance in answer to matter by him antecedently alleged, may by a general form of denial traverse and put in issue all the material facts so pleaded by the other party.

Sec. 4. When any action pending in any county or supreme court shall involve the trial of several and distinct issues, or of several and distinct claims, the court in taxing the costs shall allow to each party the costs accruing upon such of said issues or of said claims as he shall prevail upon.

Sec. 5. When the plaintiff in any action in any county or supreme court shall recover judgment for only a nominal sum for debt or damages, the court may in their discretion make such order in respect to the allowance of costs to the plaintiff as shall be just and equitable; provided, that in no case shall the costs so allowed exceed the rate prescribed by law.

Sec. 6. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, November 18, 1856.

No. 8. An act in addition to chapter twenty eight of the compiled statutes, entitled "the supreme and county courts."
It is hereby enacted, &c.

No. 10.—An act to amend section three of chapter thirty-four of the compiled statutes, relating to disposition of witnesses.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. Section three of chapter thirty-four of the compiled statutes, is so amended as to read as follows: Notaries public and masters in chancery, shall have the same power to take depositions, and to issue subpoenas and attachments, and to issue subpoenas and attachments, and to witness to appear before them or any other court or tribunal, that justices of the peace now have, and all depositions taken by a notary public, or master in chancery, agreeably to law, shall be admitted on the trial of any civil case in any court of law.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, October 27th, 1856.

No. 11.—An act relating to the proof of Marriage in criminal prosecutions.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. In prosecutions for crimes and penalties, when it shall become necessary on the part of the prosecution to prove the fact of the marriage of the respondent, acts of cohabitation by the respondent, with the supposed wife or husband, as the case may be, as well as other acts, admissions and declarations of the respondent, tending to prove such marriage, shall be admitted in evidence as competent testimony to prove such fact.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, October 31st, 1856.

No. 12.—An Act in addition to Section ten of Chapter fifty-three of the Compiled Statutes, relating to the rendering of accounts by Executors and Administrators.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. Section ten of chapter fifty-three of the compiled statutes is amended so as to read as follows: It shall be the duty of the probate court to examine every executor, administrator, guardian and trustee, upon oath, as to the truth and correctness of his account, before the same shall be allowed by the court; provided, however, that the probate court, in its discretion, may dispense with such examinations, when no objection is made to the allowance of the account, and the truth and correctness of it is satisfactory established by other competent testimony.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, November 6, 1856.

No. 13.—An Act in addition to chapter thirty-eight of the compiled statutes, relating to ejectment.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. The thirty-fourth section of chapter thirty-eight of the compiled statutes is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The provisions of said chapter, relating to ejectment, shall not extend to any person, who shall enter upon and take possession of lands after the passing of this act.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, October 31, 1856.

No. 14. An Act authorizing the tender of amended actions to recover damages for any act or neglect.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. In all cases of claims for damages for any act or neglect of any town, corporation, officer or other person, such town, corporation, officer, or other person may, at any time, either before or after the commencement of any action, to three days before the commencement of the term of the court to which such action is made returnable, if before the county court, or to twelve days before the commencement of any subsequent term of said court to which such action may be continued, or to twenty four hours before the time of trial, if before a justice of the peace, tender to the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, in money amended for the injury complained of, with the costs then accrued. And if the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, shall refuse to receive the same and the defendant shall bring into court the sum so tendered, then if in the opinion of the court, the defendant acted in good faith in the matter complained of, the plaintiff shall recover no costs accruing after such tender, unless he shall recover a larger sum in damages than the amount of damages so tendered, but the defendant shall be allowed in the discretion of the court, to recover his costs which shall have accrued after such tender.

Sec. 2. Section thirty-three, of chapter twenty-three of the compiled statutes, is hereby repealed, but this repeal shall not affect any tender made under the provisions of such section, but the same proceedings shall be had as though this act had not passed.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, November 18, 1856.

No. 15.—An Act in alteration of chapter thirty-two of the compiled statutes, relating to trustees.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. Section two of chapter thirty-two of the compiled statutes shall not be construed, in any action hereafter brought to include any wages or compensation due for work and labor performed by the principal debtor in person or by his wife or any minor child of such debtor, after the service of the trustee process upon the trustee.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, November 14, 1856.

No. 16.—An Act in addition to the laws regulating trustee process.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. No person shall be adjudged a trustee of any other person, by reason of such person having in his hands any moneys due or belonging to the debtor as his debtor as a member or officer of the general assembly or as a juror attending any county court.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, November 14, 1856.

No. 17.—An Act in addition to the provisions of section eight of chapter thirty-six of the compiled statutes, relating to new trials.
It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. The provisions of section eight of chapter thirty-six of the compiled statutes, and the relief granted therein, are hereby extended to all persons, against whom judgment has been or shall be rendered by a justice of the peace, by default, and who have been, or shall be, deprived of their day in court, by fraud, accident, or mistake.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.
Approved, October 31st, 1856.

BACH'S
American Compound.
THE subscribers would respectfully ask the attention of the People of Vermont, to the claims of

BACH'S AMERICAN COMPOUND,
As one of the best preparations before the public for the relief and cure of the following complaints: Bronchitis, Ministers' Sore Throat, Croup, Asthma, Scurvy, Nipples, Mercerial Taints, Fever Sore, Scrofula, Ulceration of the Lungs and Stomach, all Nervous Complaints, Female Weakness and Irregularities, Fluor Albumi, (or Whites), Coughs arising from an Irritated Throat, Piles, Weak Stomachs—in fact, in any case of WEAKNESS, INFLAMMATION, OR IMPURE BLOOD, USE THIS REMEDY.

In the city of Auburn, where this medicine is prepared, and the Proprietors reside, a large list of the most reliable and respectable proofs of its efficacy have been furnished, and its voluntary promptings of those who have been relieved and cured of long standing and extremely aggravated affections of the above complaints, and its great desire to extend its knowledge, and promote the good of others who may be similarly afflicted.

Its influence has been peculiarly happy in all cases of Bronchitis and Throat affections, from slight to Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration. Also in some of the most distressing cases of Female Weakness and Irregularities, and many other complaints enumerated above.

We have also some strong cases of this character in our own State, in which it has been used with wonderful success, where for years it sorts to many other remedies have failed to afford relief. Its ingredients, among which is a compound fluid extract of "BEECH DROPS," OR "CANCER ROOT," and other valuable ingredients, which is perfectly safe and harmless, requiring the exercise of no special care in regard to the habits of the individual, beyond that ordinarily necessary.

From a personal knowledge of these facts, I do not hesitate to say to all who are in any way afflicted with Bodily Weakness, Debility, Inflammation, Impure or Stagnant Blood, that is recommended in the strongest assurance of Relief and Cure.
