FAREING WEATHER IN JULY would cause great discomfort and loss, but fortunately it is seldom known. A vast amount of misery is caused in this season, however, by impoverished blood, poor appetite and general debility. These conditions may be remedied by enriching the blood and toning the stomach with Hood's Sarsaparil. This medicine seems to put new life into the whole physical system, simply because of its wonderful power to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood, create an appetite and invigorate the digestive functions. We advise you to get a bottle and try it if you are not feeling just right. It will do you more good than a six weeks' vacation. It is the best medicine money can buy.

The Montpelier friends of E. H. Miller, the Representative from Dunsmuir, in the Legislature of 1888, who has died, had the pleasure of listening to his oratorical, baritone voice during that session, will be pleased to know that Mr. Miller has been nominated by the Republicans of Windham county as one of the Senators from that county in the coming Legislature.

Rev. W. W. Foster, one of the oldest members of the Troy Conference, died suddenly on Thursday at his home at Round Lake, N. Y. Dr. Foster was seventy-nine years of age and was a native of Vermont. He was a member of the Troy conference in 1848, his first appointment being at Hinesburgh. He had also had parishes at Whiting, Easton, Bridport, and at Cheshire, Lower and New Ashford, Miss., the latter place being his last. He was a faithful pastor until his retirement from active service in 1891.

George M. Carpenter received word Friday evening that his wife, on which a wife and daughter Gertrude were riding on Washington street, was struck by a swiftly moving piece of iron apparatus, and was fatally injured. The young lady is pleasantly remembered in Montpelier where she spent the summer two years ago. It is not thought her injuries will be fatal, and it is hoped they will not be of a lasting character.

Some six hundred people from Barre and this city attended the summer theatre at Dowsy Park Monday evening. The Carleton combination, which created a "frost" at the theatre, have gone somewhere, no one cares where, and the new management has put on a company of six people this week which, if Monday night's performance is a criterion, is bound to be very popular. The specialties are of as high an order as any vaudeville ever seen in this section and have made a decided hit.

Bethany church was closed on Sunday, and the congregation, by special invitation, worshipped at Trinity church. At the morning service Rev. C. O. One of the main objects in view is to charge for the branches selected. Among the instructors outside of those above named will be A. F. Stockbridge of the Boston festival orchestra, violin and cello; Lee S. Tilton, Sr. of St. Albans, cornet and brass instruments; J. E. St. Clair of Boston, clarinet. A first class teacher in harmony and theory.

The old Lippincott novels and general literary attractions seem to be left little to be desired by the reader, but the new Lippincott advertised elsewhere in this paper offers a more entertaining literature that is especially bright and charming. Among its contributors are the notable authors of the times who will supply its members with complete novels. Its twelve yearly issues constitute twelve complete story books and the price is now only $2.50 for the year. The Lippincott comes twelve times a year. Each number is better than a book from the library, and the cost is only about 20 cents a number. The reader doesn't have to go after it, nor return it when read, and there are no dues. Subscribe at any time, and the publisher will send you the next issue. Subscriptions taken at this office.

A woman came in on one of the night trains Friday night and going to the Montpelier House registered as J. Roberts with one trunk and a suitcase, and was assigned a room. As she did not put in an appearance down stairs Saturday, the day clerk went to her room in the afternoon to find the trunk and suitcase, and she was there that she did not. Sunday morning she asked that a physician be sent for as she was ill. Dr. I. H. Fluke was summoned and found the woman in a state of collapse. The woman was about to become a mother. She was at once removed to the Heaton hospital where she gave birth to a daughter Sunday evening. The only additional information learned in regard to the woman is that she claims to have come from Prince Edward Island.

MRS ERASTUS HUBBARD.

Arabella G., widow of the late Erastus Hubbard, died Monday afternoon at her home on Main street, aged eighty-four years. Ever since the death of John E. Hubbard, her beloved son, Mrs. Hubbard has been gradually failing, although she was confined to her bed only a week. She was attacked by no particular disease, it was simply a gradual letting go of life and death came painlessly.

Mrs. Hubbard was born in Chelsea, November 26, 1815, and was a daughter of the late Amos Blake. She married Mr. Hubbard May 2, 1837. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard lived two years in Chelsea, and then came to Montpelier where she had since resided. A quiet, gentle soul who loved her home and family she made many friends in Montpelier during her life, and much sympathy had been felt of late for her in age and loneliness. Mrs. Mary B. Peck of Montpelier, a half-sister, is the only surviving near relative.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock from her late home at 29 State street. Burial will be in Green Mount cemetery.

GOSHEN, ILL.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.: "Dear Sir: Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O cereal was sent to my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

Respectfully yours,
A. C. JACKSON, M. D.

THE FOURTH AT CABOT.

The celebration at Cabot proved a grand success. Everything passed off in fine style and was pronounced by the guests to eclipse all predecessors. The street parade and procession was even more than was expected or anticipated equaling those of even large towns in past years and attractiveness, considerable skill and taste being noticeable.

Quite a number of good-natured take-offs presented themselves. Among the features of the parade was the elegant bicycle bogy and turnout of Mrs. Julia Herrick, the trimmings, trappings, etc., being arranged in artistic style and grace which was indeed striking and handsome. Our saddle, P. D. Baudin, also had an equipment well worthy of mention and a first place. The arrangement for the display of his property was a float with a tall beautifully covered structure, draped in colors, bunting, etc., which made a marvelous effect.

The electric light plant of Cabot was brought out in good style, doing credit to its originators. The outfit setting forth the creamery officials presented a ludicrous, laughable phase, quite unaccountable, and the vehicle and occupants represented the Marshfield creamery test of 1,500 quarts took the cake of folly. All the places of business were represented in appropriate style and get-up, attesting to the high spirit of the business men. In the bicycle parade Marjorie Wells got first prize for the best-trimmed wheel; Ada Bilodeau second and Ada Nelson third.

In the bicycle race A. H. Heath received first prize, the second one being divided between the next two best by agreement. All the other races, etc., passed off in fine shape with a good number of spectators. The special feature of the afternoon was the contest between the base ball teams of Woodbury and Marshfield, resulting in a victory to the former by a score of 12 to 0. The game was well played throughout and keenly watched by the crowd.

The fireworks in the evening brought out a large crowd who beheld the finest display in pyrotechnics ever seen in town. By a party who counted the number gathered it was stated that about 3000 gathered to witness the sports. The parade committee expressed their thanks to those who so materially assisted them. The day was conspicuous on account of the civility and good behavior of everybody, no cases of intoxication being reported. Everybody went home well pleased and satisfied, thus closing a successful day to merchants and all in every way.

These sentences amount to $500 and the costs will add about four years to his sentence. Exceptions will be filed and the case taken to the Supreme Court. Gower is now in jail in Manchester but will probably furnish $10,000 bail which will be accepted, pending the decision of the Supreme Court.

SAISIFIED WITH THE TICKET.

Representative J. W. McGoary of Burlington, one of the delegates at large from Vermont to the Democratic national convention at Kansas City, was at the Pavilion today. In conversation with a JOURNAL reporter Mr. McGoary expressed his entire satisfaction with the Democratic ticket, and predicted its success at the polls in November. He expressed his belief that Stevenson's name on the ticket will enable the Democrats to carry Illinois and Indiana. "It will be a battle all along the line," said Mr. McGoary, "but I honestly believe that Mr. McKinley is not so popular as he was four years ago, and that Bryan has more friends than he had then."

In regard to the close vote on inserting the 16 to 1 plank in the platform Mr. McGoary said that he was satisfied with it, and that meant enough electoral votes to elect Bryan.

Mr. McGoary is counting on at least seven electoral votes in Vermont. He is confident that the Democratic ticket, and believes enough Republicans will be with them to pass a high license bill. He believes, at all events, that no matter what the result of the vote against a referendum bill, that would give the people of the State a real voice on the question.
