THE TRIBUNE, Olympia, Wash. Telephone No. 47. J. McLEAFER, Publisher and Business Manager.

National Republican Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, OF INDIANA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, WHITELOW REID, OF NEW YORK.

THE DAILY AND WEEKLY TRIBUNE guarantees its circulation is more than the combined circulation of all other newspapers in Thurston County.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Correspondents of THE TRIBUNE will please bear in mind that no communications will be published excepting over the author's real name. Brief letters upon current topics will always receive attention, and if found available, will be used with the conditions above named.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE will be found on sale every evening at the following named places: J. BENSON STARR, the Chilberg block, on Main street. C. E. LEIGHTON, 113 Fourth street. CITY BAKERY, 117 Fourth street. OLYMPIA HOTEL.

ENGINEERING.

It is believed by a large number of citizens that there is nothing in the charges against Engineer Lemon made by Councilman Siskels. The latter is a brick-maker or blacksmith by trade and knows nothing about engineering. The former is a civil engineer by profession and has steadily pursued that profession for some years. Now that the city engineer has denied the charges as false and malicious under oath and if the charges are proven false and malicious by Mr. Siskels he is promptly removed. If Mr. Lemon is found incapable he should also be removed. That is fair. The work of Mr. Lemon's predecessor is known to have been crooked in almost every particular. That engineer was recommended to the old city council by Colonel Nick Owings and was an especial protégé of Councilman Siskels, who never protested against his outlandish "engineering" work, which has caused the taxpayers of the city so much trouble and expense. THE TRIBUNE has all along had entire faith in the ability and integrity of Millard Lemon.

THE COLOR LINE.

Some time ago T. Thomas Fortune, editor of the Age, a weekly newspaper in New York, was refused a glass of beer in a New York hotel. He brought suit and recovered $100 damages. Mr. Fortune is a gentlemanly looking mulatto. The other day Henry T. Downing, a wealthy and intelligent colored man, editor of the Message and formerly United States consul in St. Paul de Louisa, entered a high-class Brooklyn restaurant and was ejected by the cashier. Downing said that the waiter refused to serve him with food, and when he insisted on his civil rights he was turned out of doors with violence. The restaurant people charged that he was ejected because he was intoxicated. Downing was arrested and spent a night in the station house, and then was arraigned in the police court, but his counsel secured an adjournment of the case. Mr. Downing threatens to sue the proprietor of the restaurant, and an interesting litigation may be the result. Mr. Downing's paper is the organ of the democratic colored citizens, and Mr. Downing himself was appointed to office by President Cleveland. He was not intoxicated, but he was a black man and that was sufficient, if he was a democrat—which by the way was the politics of the restaurant keeper and the cashier. Color makes a difference some times. For instance: Suppose the elegant Seattle democrat Duke Lewis, with his fine broadcloth, kid gloves and high silk hat, were to enter a street car and see a seat vacant on one side of the car along side of a big ugly and burly looking white woman with a basket on her lap full of cabbages, fresh fish, hamburger cheese etc., and on the other side a vacant seat along side of the handsome, well dressed mulatto girl from Olympia. Where do you think the Democratic would sit down? Don't all speak at once.

Reid's Ancestry.

Whitehead Reid, the republican candidate for vice-president, is of Scotch ancestry. His mother, Marian Whitehead, is a descendant in a direct line from the late Ronald, his paternal grandfather, who settled in this country toward the close of the last century, bought a portion of the land on which the city of Cincinnati stands, but finding that a condition of the sale required him to run a ferry across the Ohio river, every day he abandoned the land rather than violate the Sabbath, and moved to Xenia, Green county, Ohio.

Stories of Early Days.

The publication of the stories of adventure told by the early settlers of Washington, both in the daily and weekly, and their promise to be thoroughly interesting, in order to put these stories within easy reach of all the readers of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, has been arranged to have the weekly Ledger sent to each of our subscribers who will send us 75c. Those who are not subscribers can secure both THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE and the weekly Ledger for the extremely low price of $1.75 in advance. Send in your order at once, so you will miss none of the stories.

Before Starting on a Journey.

A person usually desires to gain some information as to the most desirable route to take, and will purchase tickets via the one that will afford him the quickest and best service. Before starting on a trip to Chicago or any point east, you should provide yourself with a map and time table of the Wisconsin Central lines. The trains run on this route are vestibuled and are equipped with Pullman's latest drawing room sleepers, elegant day coaches and dining cars of latest design, built expressly for this service, and are exquisite in furnishings and convenient and comfortable in every detail that they have no superior in the east and west.

The dining car service is the most elegant ever inaugurated, and is operated in the interest of its patrons.

Fare trains via the Wisconsin Central lines leave Minneapolis at 12:45 p. m. and 6:25 p. m., and St. Paul at 1:30 p. m. and 7:15 p. m., making frequent connection with all trains from the west and southwest.

For tickets, time tables, berth reservations, etc., apply to G. P. ARMSTRONG, and T. A. Minneapolis, Minn., or James C. Pond, general passenger and ticket agent, Chicago, Ill. ml3-tf
