SUNDAY SCHOOL PUPILS IN PARADE

The Tacoma Times, Saturday, Oct. 1, 1910

The Wreck of the Maine as It Looks Today.

Above, the Party of a J. W. Gough Making a Preliminary Inspection of the Wreck of the Maine that has remained an enigma to the public since the disaster. The New York Times has published a series of photographs of the wreck, including those in this issue, showing the condition of the boilers and the general appearance of the ship. The boilers are intact, but the hull is half submerged, and the decks are covered with debris.

The Maine is Ordered to Be Sold in 1897.

The U.S. government will sell the Maine in 1897, according to the New York Times. The sale is expected to raise about $300,000, which will be used to defray the costs of the wreck.

The Sultan is Homesick Will Quit U.S.

The Sultan of Turkey is homesick and is expected to return to his country soon, according to the New York Times.

NEW INTERURBAN DONE IN TWO YEARS

The new interurban line between Tacoma and Olympia is completed in two years, according to the New York Times.

The Churches

The Presbyterian Church, the Congregational Church, the Methodist Church, and the Catholic Church are all holding services on Sunday.

The Window at the White Cat

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

A Great Mystery Novel by a Famous Author

The Window at the White Cat

A gas heater that pleases the eye and comforts the body.

The Vumbi Odorous Gas Heater

When the heater is large operation, the house becomes hot and the heat is more pleasant.

HEAT DISTRICTS

THE TACOMA TIMES

Saturday, Oct. 1, 1910

H. W. Lueders

One of the Nominees for Superior Judge

According to the official record of the county, H. W. Lueders, one of Tacoma's leading lawyers for 25 years, has been declared elected over H. F. Burchet by 112 votes, after a close and spirited contest.

Mr. Lueders is one of Mr. Burchet's warmest personal friends, and remarked to a friend that he expected that Mr. Burchet was not among the successful candidates.

His sympathies are with the old school, among whom he has many friends.

Mr. Lueders is 62 years old, born at Millburn, Illinois, and served in a farm and in a military school. He was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of Illinois in 1894, and in the 18 years since has represented perhaps 5000 cases, representing many important cases in the federal court, state supreme court and superior court of the State of Illinois.

He is one of the most popular and prominent barristers in the State, with a large practice in Chicago, representing a number of the young men who are now in the courts.

He is esteemed as one of the Judges.

A Gas Heater that pleases the eye and comforts the body.

When the heater is large operation, the house becomes hot and the heat is more pleasant.