

THE FUTURE'S A SEALED BOOK

So the wise man takes no chances. You don't look for, you don't want, a fire in your home or store. Sure it won't come? Don't know—hope not? Please tell us, as neighbors, why you don't insure, if you don't. That's all—except that we have both 'phones.

Mr. George McAllister, formerly of Benton's Ferry, but now of Nebraska, who recently returned on a visit among friends, is reported to be sick of pneumonia followed with rheumatism.

Mrs. Frank Love, of Opeliska, was a social caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Jones, of East Park avenue, on Friday afternoon last.

Miss Marie Powell, of Wapnesburg, Pa., is visiting her brother, Mike Powell, and wife, of East Park avenue, for a few days, after which she will go West to visit her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Bailey, of Pittsburg, arrived in the city on Saturday for a few days' visit with Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Latham, of East Park.

Constable J. S. Walker left the city yesterday in charge of young Robert Chase for the Reform school, the latter having been convicted some weeks ago of incorrigibility by Squire Swindler, and was held awaiting orders of commitment.

The Pochontas Lodge held a meeting at their hall on Merchant street last Friday evening. After completing the regular programme of business, an hour was spent in social pleasure together.

The "Jolly Jokers" will meet on Tuesday (to-morrow) evening, at the home of Miss Ella Davis, of Columbia street. Every joker is expected to be present with something crisp and new for the pleasure of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Vang, who have shipped their household goods, left Skinner's Tavern to-day for Wheeling as their future home, where they will board for the time being at the Bellevue Hotel.

Miss Orda Stealey, of Merchant street, left the city to-day for Morgantown, where she will enter the contest given by the W. C. T. U. for the diamond prize medal. Having won the prize in previous contests given, we can but wish that she may be equally successful on this occasion.

Mrs. M. E. Drummond, of Chicago, and the mother of Mrs. Fred L. Jenkins, of Merchant street, arrived in the city on Saturday, being called here on account of the illness of her daughter, but whom we are glad to report is at present somewhat improved in condition.

The regular weekly dance, under the auspices of the Monongahela Club, was given at their hall on Saturday evening. There was the usual good attendance by the members and their invited friends, and an all round good time enjoyed by all present. The music was furnished by Clayton and Epstein.

George Adams has completed his street paving contract, and is now at work on the side walks, while Columbia and State streets are now both open to the traveling public, and thanks to George and the city, are on a solid foundation.

Not Wholly a Failure. The impression gained credence from the failure of the juvenile serenaders to locate their would-be victims on Friday evening that they therefore wholly escaped the older ones lying in wait. This, however, was not the case, since the active participants report to us that they succeeded in locating them the first pop, and that so soon as they arrived on this side of the river, the unwary groom was taken in charge by his assistants and escorted by them to the Monongahela club hall, while his new wife was purloined by others of their party to a place of temporary safety. In the interim intervening, the remaining squad paid their respects to their fellow-member lodged at the hall, in a manner he may not have thought the most pleasant or becoming. Nevertheless for the time being he was in their power, and what they did to him in person was a plenty for one member so highly honored in their social club as he, and when through with their improvised programme, left no doubt in his mind that his secret ways had been found out by them, for they treated him as the rules of the club demanded in the case of infidelity to the tenets of their social order. After extorting repentance and a show of humility for the deception played upon his fellow members of the club, they then returned him in safety to his newly wedded wife, elsewhere in waiting, and there left him to reflect upon the new experiences which arise from a change made in our former mode of living, and especially when clandestinely sought without the proper permission.

Caught Napping. Mrs. Charley Meredith, with the assistance of her friends, gave a party and so completely surprised her "hubby" that he frankly confessed he had been caught napping. It occurred on Tuesday evening and in honor of his 22d birthday. The family friends and relatives were there in full force, where they had refreshments, music and social pleasure befitting the occasion. Charley does not particularly desire to feel the burden of increasing years, but thinks with the many presents received and the special attentions paid him in honor of this recurring event, that he would be glad to thus celebrate even more frequently.

Tiresome Monotony. The fire laddies of station No. 2 complain that things are distressingly monotonous in their special department at present. We note, however, that Liberty Travis is again able to glide down the pole in case of an emergency call, since his unexpectedly shaking hands with old Tom's hind heels a few nights ago. The sudden layout which he received from Tom's thump on his thigh, was such that he will quite vividly remember as a trainer for some time to come, but it may be that old Tom was as tired of the monotony as the rest of them, and hence this new system of exercise introduced to relieve the tedium of inactivity.

His Rod in the Pickle. A warrant has been sworn out before Squire Swindler by W. S. Sample, the Humane officer, against Prof. H. C. Ferguson, of the Second ward school, charging him with unlawfully assaulting and beating James E. Turner, one of his pupils. The case is set for hearing to-morrow (Tuesday) evening in the Squire's court of justice, and from the rumors of evidence to be introduced the case promises to be an interesting, if not the most pleasant one, for the parties implicated. Its adjustment, too, may serve to show how far other teachers may or may not go in punishing pupils under like circumstances.

City Hospital. Miss Nancy Arnett, of the city, who was in the hospital for treatment, was dismissed on Saturday; also Mr. Anthony Rulle, of New England, undergoing treatment for some time past was pronounced well and dismissed for his home on Saturday, a happy man once more.

Miss Maggie Williams felt for Unlown, on Saturday morning, where she was called to nurse a special case. That our nurses are so frequently called there and elsewhere, from their regular duties speak well for their reputation.

Reunion. It is urgently requested that the old soldiers and their friends may not forget the county reunion, under the auspices of the G. A. R., to be held in this city on Thursday and Friday next, for which an excellent programme has been arranged and grand time promised. Let everybody come and bring their friends, and help to make it a general rally in honor of the old soldiers and in behalf of the cause they espoused and the principles they maintained for the perpetuity of a great and more prosperous nation.

Reopened Yesterday. Rev. Moran went to Downs yesterday to preside at the re-opening of the Presbyterian church there, which has been greatly improved in its structure by the erection of a vestibule and bell-tower in front where a new bell has been placed as the gift of the Endeavor Society. A beautiful rotunda has also been added in rear of the pulpit for the benefit of the choir. Dr. Ely of Morgantown, was present upon invitation to preach and otherwise assist in the services.

CLEANLY WOMAN. Eronously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff. Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow in healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WEST VIRGINIA LOST THE GAME.

Disastrous Beginning of the Season for the Varsity Boys. West Virginia's football season started off yesterday in a disastrous manner with Ohio university. This was the second team met last year, and we defeated it at that time by 28 to 0. Yesterday the Ohio boys took West Virginia into camp by a score of 9 to 6. The Buckeye team averaged about 160 pounds stripped, and West Virginia no more. As regards weight and time of training, both teams had an equal advantage. The Ohio team was much bigger, faster, and better than last year. Under the coaching of McFarland, who played at one time on West Virginia's team, the Ohio boys have been drilled into a good team. West Virginia on the contrary, is probably somewhat weaker than when we met this team last year.

Naturally, the defeat does not tend to make the rooters any too cheerful, but there are those who point to the fact that West Virginia last year started in with an inglorious defeat and at the end of the year was the strongest in her history. The coach, captain, and team are not discouraged, but they are sobered by the defeat.

FINE OPENING

The West Virginia Wesleyan College at Buckhannon has opened for the new school year with the largest enrollment of new students ever known in its history. It is estimated that double the number of new students are entering this year that enrolled last year. The work of the school in all its departments opens well.

H. H. ROGERS TALKS.

Against Hearsay, for One Thing—The Country's Great Prosperity.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 1.—Henry H. Rogers was in Milwaukee Saturday to attend the annual meeting of the Milwaukee Road. He seemed willing to talk to newspaper men, and said: "I do not believe it will be possible for Hearsay to win in New York, and personally I think it would be bad for New York and the country if he became Governor. He carries a tremendous influence, largely, I think, by reason of his papers. The large business interests could not well be served, in my judgment, by his advancement in political life.

"This country is not only enjoying a greater degree of prosperity than ever before, but I can see no termination of it. Nature is taking care of us, and there is no room in the United States for the grumbler or the man who says things are going to everlasting destruction. Ben Brewster used to say: 'I can't see prosperity anywhere; prosperity is not in sight; I'm sitting on its coattails.'

"I tell you there is no room here to-day for any Brewsters. The country is bounding forward and I think it's going to keep bounding in a safe substantial manner.

"I feel very sorry for Mr. Lawson in the recent deep grief which he has sustained," said Mr. Rogers. "And his grief is something most touching and pathetic, as I learn. I have never been in Lawson's office, but of course I have seen and met him in New York,"—with a smile.
