

THE WEATHER—Fair and warmer to-night and Saturday.

Jacobs-Hutchinson Block, Fairmont, W. Va.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

OUR XVII ANNUAL OPENING
Of Coats, Suits and Furs Will Be Held
Tuesday, October 16, 1906

In the language of the circus we might say that this opening is "often imitated but never equaled." We've been keeping them so long that there is never any question about the success of them.
YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED to be with us all day, from eight in the morning until closing time—six o'clock—in the evening.
As usual we will serve COFFEE and CAKE, will treat you to an excellent musical programme, and show you the finest line of

Women's, Misses' and Children's READY-WEAR-GARMENTS
Display and Sale of
ORIENTAL RUGS

All Next Week, Commencing Monday, Oct. 15

Mr. S. Moradian, who was with us some months ago, will be with us all next week with his Fall Line of Oriental Rugs, and we urge all who are interested to see his collection.
Those who bought from him before are well pleased with their rugs and Mr. Moradian tells us he will have a much larger stock than before. Displayed on Carpet Floor commencing next Monday.

New Imported Bohemian Glass

It may surprise a great many people to know that we import this beautiful ware, instead of buying it from a jobber.
That accounts for our low prices on it.
Nothing could be more acceptable for a wedding present.
We show Vases, Olives, Bon Bon, Cologne Bottles, Salads and Rose Bowls. All fine goods, fairly priced.

"Libby" Cut Glass—New Stock

Everybody knows that "Libby" stands first among the cut glass makers of the country, yet at our department store prices, it costs no more than an inferior quality. For instance, the following:

- VASES, $3.50 to $15.
- SALAD BOWLS, $3 TO $25.
- SUGAR AND CREAMS, $4 TO $12.
- OLIVES, $2 TO $7.50.
- SALTS AND PEPPERS, $3.50 SET.
- MUSTARDS, $3.50.
- VINEGAR CRUETS, $2.50 TO $3.50.
- SPOON TRAYS, $2 TO $3.50.

New Art Ware—"Rozane"

Looking for something pretty and unusual, yet not expensive for a gift or personal use? Buy "Rozane," in one of the five patterns we show. Different from any art goods you ever saw, yet it costs less.
We show "Rozane" in the following patterns—Egyptian, Woodland, Royal, Della Robia and Fondji. And one worth a visit.

Judge Haymond

I stated to him that I would help draft such a bill, and went with him to his room in the Kanawha Hotel, and there we together dictated to his stenographer what I presume was afterwards presented to the Legislature as the bill to create the Criminal Court for this county, although I never did read the bill in full, after the night it was prepared. The next day, just after dinner, Mr. Shaw handed to me in the lobby of the Kanawha Hotel what he said was the typewritten copy of the bill which he and I had prepared and dictated to the stenographer the night before, and requested me to look at that portion which I had suggested, which I then did, and in a few minutes returned the bill to him, saying that so far as I could then observe, I having read only a portion of the bill, it was all right. I did not ask him, nor did he tell me, when or by whom the measure would be introduced in the Legislature, and I did not request any member of either house to introduce, or vote for the proposed act, at Charleston, or any where else. As I have already stated, I left Charleston on Saturday night, or rather about 4 o'clock on Sunday morning, and did not return to that city any more during the session of the Legislature. After the bill was introduced, and a fight was made against it, Mr. George M. Jacobs asked me to write a letter to some member of the Legislature advocating the passage of the bill, but I declined to do so, or to take any part in the controversy.

As I then understood it, my services were sought because of my acquaintance with the Intermediate Court, and not because of any influence that I may or might have had with the members of the Legislature in the passage of such a law. Except as a lawyer, and as a practicing attorney of this county, I had no interest in retaining the Intermediate Court, or in creating the Criminal Court. I did not have then, nor have I now, any desire to again enter the judiciary, and even if I had had any thought of ever being called upon to preside over the proposed Criminal Court, I could not have hoped to have received that honor at the hands of Governor Dawson. In this connection I beg to say that I have never joined in the hue and cry for the abolition of the Intermediate Court, as I firmly believe this Court could be made a very useful tribunal for the speedy and economical trial of various kinds of litigation.

I was not aware at the time that I accepted the nomination for the House of Delegates from the recent Democratic convention that one of the planks in the platform calls for the abolition of that Court; and I will not say that had I known of such a provision I would have declined the nomination. But I do say that as I have accepted the nomination and am now a candidate on that convention's platform, if I am elected to the next Legislature I will most certainly advocate the repealing of the law creating the Intermediate Court.

WILLIAM S. HAYMOND.

THE SUNDAY GAME

Will Be a Record Breaker if Weather Is Good.

If the weather continues for the next two days as at present there will be an immense crowd in attendance at Sunday's ball game between Pittsburg Nationals and Fairmont. This will be the last game of a very successful season for the locals and they will make a supreme effort to chalk up one more victory. The line up has not yet been given out, but the following players will be in the game: Conaway at first, Wayman, Cole and Gibbs in the outfield, McCarthy behind the bat, Kreuger or Schuler at second, Wessel, Fortney or Groninger at short, and Deiters, Ridgely or Hinton at third. Almost any combination from this bunch of infielders, all of whom are at the disposal of the local management, is capable of putting up a fast game. Kreuger is one of the fastest catchers in this vicinity. The other players are so well known as to require no comment. Pittsburg will have all her old favorites in the game: Deacon Phillips, Sam Leever, Clarence Beaumont, Eddie Phelps, Bob Ganley, Tommy Leach and the other stars. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock sharp. General admission will be 50c and children 25c.

DROP in at some high priced merchant tailor shop where you know the swaggiest dressers in town are in the habit of going, and look at the patterns and the styles. Ask what he wants to tailor a suit to measure out of the cloth you fancy, then come back here and see if we've not precisely the same sorts of fabrics and just as extreme styles in

College Brand Clothes

made in New York City. "The Clothes that KEEP men young."
The only difference would be that on the one hand we'll want only about half of what he asks, and on the other hand, we'll save you all the bother of repeated try-ons, the delay of waiting and not knowing how the finished suit will look.
College Brand Clothes are the only clothes in the world, created just for chaps in their big teens and little twenties, and for men who are young enough in spirit to want young men's clothes. They're swaggar, smart and snappy—they're IT!

THEY COST $10 to $22.50.
