HOME FROM WEDDING.

Guests Tell of the Marriage of A. Brooks Fleming and Miss Dodson.

Gov. A. B. Fleming, Miss May Bloch, Miss Elizabeth Watson, Messrs. Walton Miller and George W. Fleming returned last night from Columbus, Ohio, where they attended the marriage of Mr. A. Brooks Fleming, Jr., and Miss Amy Jeanette Dodson, which was solemnized on Thursday night in that city. The marriage was celebrated in the parlors of the Hotel Lincoln, which were beautifully embellished for the occasion in garlands of southern smilax, palms, ferns and masses of white chrysanthemums. Rev. J. Patterson, of the Central Presbyterian church performed the marriage ceremony, using the beautiful ceremony of the Presbyterian church which has recently been arranged by Dr. Henry Van Dyke. The bride was given away by her stepfather, Mr. God Dyer, of Columbus. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Geo. Watson Fleming, of this city. The bride wore a beautiful imported gown of white with garnishings of seed pearls and sequins and the lace-decoration of the bodice was a family heirloom and was worn on the wedding gown of her mother. There were thirty-five guests present at the wedding, which included the relatives of the bride and groom. Following the ceremony a reception was held, the guests including only the very intimate friends of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left on the midnight train for Philadelphia and are to-day witnessing the football game between the U. of P. and Michigan. They are expected home within two weeks. Unusual interest has surrounded the marriage of these two prominent young people, the groom having been born here, where he has always resided with the exception of four years when he was a resident of Charleston during the administration of his father as governor of the State of West Virginia. Miss Dodson, now Mrs. Fleming, has visited friends here on several occasions and her many friends will be glad to welcome her as a resident of the city. She is prominent in Columbus society circles.

All the relatives who attended the wedding have returned home with the exception of Mrs. George Watson Fleming, who is the guest of Mrs. Charles Edwin Ward, at Charleston, and Mrs. George Thomas Watson, who went on to Cincinnati to spend a week with her mother, Mrs. Rose Prussing. Mr. George Watson went from Columbus to Philadelphia.

Thanksgiving Fair.
Elaborate arrangements are being made by the ladies of the Catholic Church for their annual Thanksgiving Fair, which will be held during Thanksgiving in the basement of the church on Jackson and Monroe streets. The fair will be opened on Thanksgiving day and will be continued through Friday and Saturday. Each evening a dinner will be served by the ladies. Turkey and all the good things that go with a turkey dinner will be served for the small sum of 25 cents. On Saturday evening a number of prizes will be offered in drawing contests. The first prize will be a lot in Bellview addition and five other prizes amounting in value from $5 to $20 will be given away. Tickets for Saturday evening are already being sold. The price is $1, and admits the holder to a chance for all of the prizes offered. In addition to the supper and prizes, a number of booths will be arranged where beautiful fancy work will be on sale. Several beautiful pieces of hand embroidered work have been donated to the fair and many ladies are engaged in making all sorts of fancy articles.

An effort is being made to have an unusually fine display of dressed dolls, and there will be candy booths and fortune tellers.

This may be the last fair which will be held by the Catholic ladies, as an edict went forth in church circles last year forbidding the holding of fairs, but a special permission was obtained by them to hold this one, a privilege which may not be extended to them again. These fairs have become very popular with Fairmont people and this year will no doubt be a banner year.

Ye Hypocrites!

LONE STAR SHEDS A LITTLE LIGHT ON RELIGIOUS CONDITIONS IN HIS TOWN.

RIVESVILLE, Nov. 17.—What kind of religion do the people of this country need and what kind have they got, is a query in the mind of the writer. The church we will admit on the theory it is supposed to represent is the life of the cause and the light of the world, but what has of late been troubling the minds of the so-called sinner or nonprofessor is to know how, when and where to follow this light which only seems to shine in the winter time and diminishes or returns back to nonentity and darkness in the summer time.

There seems to be a class of people who set themselves apart in their own estimation from the nonprofessor or sinner about the time protracted religious services or meetings come in season, but previous to the above time they are as shy of the visible duties of what is set forth in the obligations they are under to the church and to God as a peafowl that has lost his so-called Christians expect the sinner to think of the light they represent is a study of no little importance. The question is how can they collect enough nerve to face a nonprofessor or sinner and even ask them to join them or the church the same old stick in the mud on the truck again and that's all there is to it.

Another question, have such supposed Christians a superior right over the nonprofessor to a per cent, which would justify them to approach the sinner or nonprofessor in the church during services in regard to joining church or other matters pertaining to religious affairs more than the nonprofessor has the so-called Christians?

True, there surely is some what we can safely call old stand bys, whose daily walks show to the world that they are doing all they can to make their own salvation sure and to set a good and as near a godly example before the world as they possibly can, and they are the church, the light and the life of the cause and the sinner, no difference how vile, will absorb the words or actions of such old honest standbys into his soul when the narrow contracted winter imitator who tries to steal the bait off the Christian's hook would cause them to lose interest in their own souls' salvation as well as in others. We have both kinds in this immediate section of country and any one denying the assertion, if he can get access to the class leaders' books of the various churches in this section of country, will not say the writer has lied or at least told a very big one. Look at the books and count noses. The sinner is getting tired of this wolf in sheep's clothing and those who have been for a long time shoving it on to the people have about got to the limit. Too many hypocrites and gossipers, women and men for the size of the platform. They all can't dance at once any more. If you have a right to judge us and call us sinners because our names are not on the class books, haven't we a right to ask you why you are violating the laws of the land, the laws of God and the church that we know you belong to? Say, give us a rest before you provoke us to wrath with limitations and shoddy that you would not risk or use yourselves. This is not meant for you, but you know who it is meant for don't you?

George Comantia, who has been in the east on a business trip for several days, has written a postal card to his friends here stating that he will be home on 55 to-night and will bring his wife along. When George left here a week ago it was suspected that his business was matrimony. He gave no information, however, and his friends are on the fence now as to whether the wife will be a reality or that George is getting it back on them.
