THE STAGE

Howe's Life-dramas.
"Ever, quick, true sound accompaniment every action in every picture in Lyman H. Howe's Life-dramas to be seen in Fairmont at the Grand, matinee and night, Friday. A company of imitators produce every vocal, musical or mechanical sound known to the human ear. In this detail as in many others, Mr. Howe is not only the pioneer, but without a peer. The exhibition is, therefore, not only a perfect reproduction of sight and life motion, but no less a perfect sound-reproduction. These means make every scene an actuality—"a living, talking reality." So many sounds are made in so many different ways by simple matter. But it seems simple only because they are so familiar. To reproduce many of them requires not only skill but tireless ingenuity. When an imitator has mastered them, still more is required of him. He must rehearse them patiently for weeks so as to produce them in instant unison with the action in the picture. Just as it takes many months of research in ev-

SCENE FROM "AT CRIPPLE CREEK," AT THE GRAND TO-NIGHT.

"The Eastman Case," the new four-act drama of contemporary life by Paul Wilstach, will have its first New York presentation early in December.

Arthur omers Roche, son of the United States Ambassador at Italy, is at work on a comic opera. The play is a dramatization of a book written by his father.

Reginald De Koven and Stanislaus Stange are at work on a musical play which the Shuberts will present at one of their New York theaters during the coming season.

R. H. Burnside and Gustave Kerker, having made a great success with "The Tourists," are at work on another new musical play which the Shuberts will produce during the season.

Edward Knoblauch, whose play, "The Shulamite," in which Lena Ashwell, the celebrated English actress, is being starred in this country, is at work on a dramatization of "Esther Waters" for Yvette Guilbert.

Richard Mansfield has broken all attendance records at the Grand opera house in Chicago with his production of "Peer Gynt." The demand for seats has been so overwhelming that no other play will be given and it will have been acted for five weeks consecutively when the engagement ends next Saturday.

Rida Johnson Young, with two successes to her credit—"Brown of Harvard" and "Glorious Betsy"—is at work on a new play which will have an early production on Broadway. One of Mrs. Young's earliest and best hits was a play called "Byron," in which her husband, James Young, starred some seasons ago.

The President Wants Evidence

SAYS HE HAS POWER TO RE-INSTATE MEMBERS OF DISMISSED COMPANIES ON PROOF OF INNOCENCE.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—President Roosevelt holds that he has the power to re-instate in the army any of the members of the three companies of the Twenty-fifth regiment of colored infantry, who were discharged without honor, as a result of the trouble at Brownsville, Texas, some time ago, if the circumstances of any individual case justify such action. Whether he will avail himself of that power, according to the President, will depend on such evidence as may be presented to him in the case of any one or more soldiers which will tend to clearly exculpate them from any participation in the incident. This is in conformity with the announcement he made while away to Secretary Taft when the latter had telegraphed the President, stating that application had been made by a number of persons for a re-hearing. The President wants evidence, not deductions, as he told some of his callers, of non-participation, before anything may be done.
Those who talked with the President on the subject found him unyielding in his original stand in the matter with the exception that in individual cases where the facts warranted it, he said the man might be reinstated.
Some statement is expected from the White House in a few days defining the President's attitude and clearly outlining his reasons for ordering the discharge of the three companies of men. He is awaiting certain data bearing on the subject and some communications from persons interested before making any statement.

A CURSORY COURSHIP.

From the New York Sun.
The curfew's peal long since had ceased,
The dog star shone above;
A melancholy collic sang
To his early lady love.
His love he chanted doggedly
In plaintive barcarole;
Yet from her kennel curtained close,
No courtesy cheered his soul.

Wants 200-pound Wife.

Fort Edward Dispatch to the New York World.
George Marshall, of Granville, a widower, advertised for a wife who could tip the beam at 200 pounds, was opposed to race suicide, was charitable inclined, had a soft voice and quiet demeanor, and could bake good bread. No society butterfly, clubman, or physical culturist need apply, he added.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

From the New York Press.
A woman never to argue so much that she never does it without arguing that she isn't.
Some men are so self-satisfied that when they have a dream about giving away money they are proud of it when they wake up.
Life seems to be made up of mowing the lawn when there is no furnace to be stoked and when there is no mowing to be done of stoking the furnace.

No Operation

Mrs. Malinda Akers, of Basham, Va., writes: "I had what doctors call 'prolapse,' and couldn't stand straight. I had pain in my back and shoulders, and was very irregular and profuse. Doctors said an operation was needed, but I couldn't bear the thought of the knife. After taking three bottles of Wine of Cardui, I could walk around. Can now do my housework and am in splendid health."
Cardui is a pure, vegetable, medicinal essence, especially adapted to cure women's diseases. It relieves excessive periodical pains, regulates irregularities, and is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy for all sick women. In successful use for over 70 years. Try it.

STOP A MOMENT!

Don't rush madly through this life without a little thought about INSURANCE.
Each man owes it to himself and those dependent on him to provide against contingencies. The ravages of fire, the horror of an accident, may shut off the present means of living. An insurance policy at this time would be a comforter in the time of trouble, etc.
