First Ward

Death of Mrs. Thomas Barnes.

Mrs. Eliza Jane Barnes died at Cook Hospital Tuesday, August 13, at 11:55 o'clock. Mrs. Barnes had been an invalid since February, 1905, at which time she received serious injuries from a fall, from which she never fully recovered. She was taken very sick about six weeks ago and about one week ago was removed to Cook Hospital but all efforts to save her life were unavailing and her death occurred at the time mentioned. Mrs. Barnes was born December 28th, 1830, near Morgantown, and was the daughter of John and Lucsy Dorsey. Was married to Thomas Barnes April 13, 1852, at Uniontown, Pa., and had lived in this ward ever since her marriage. The deceased is survived by her husband and four children, Miss Lucy at home, Mrs. J. L. Hall, of Fairmont, Mrs. D. D. Leonard, of Clarksburg, and Mr. Charles B. Barnes, of Loch Lynn Heights.

Mrs. Barnes had been a member of the Diamond street M. E. Church for twenty-five years and was also a member of the M. E. Aid Society and was a woman highly esteemed by all who knew her. She bore all her sufferings with patience and Christian fortitude and the whole community mourns her loss. The funeral services were held at the home on State street this afternoon at three o'clock, conducted by Rev. Bent. Interment was made in Maple Grove Cemetery. Mr. Fred L. Jenkins was the undertaker in charge.

Entertained at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Travis, of Haymond stret, entertained at 12 o'clock dinner to-day complimentary to Mrs. Sallie Boggess, Misses Clara Caldwell and Lizzie Hindman, Glenn and Tibert Boggess, of Pittsburg. Covers were laid for twelve and an elaborate course dinner was served.

HOW TO DISINFECT THE SICK ROOM

PRECAUTIONS THAT OUGHT TO BE TAKEN AFTER CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Thorough disinfection after contagious diseases means the burning of such things as carpets, mattress, comforts, blankets and curtains, unless it is possible to subject them to the action of steam. With the room stripped of all draperies, etc., wash all the furniture with bichloride of mercury in solution.

To make the solution pour a gallon of boiling rain water upon four ounces of the salt, stir it till dissolved, let cool and dilute it one-half. After washing with it thoroughly, rinse in tepid water and rub dry. When the things are outside wash the paint and walls with the same solution, also put plenty of it in the water for washing windows. If there is a closet, wash it all over inside, and afterward fill any cracks with soft putty. Wash the floor, slopping it freely with the bichloride first, as danger lurks in every grain of dust, says the August Delineator. After the washing——not sooner——open windows from the top and let stand a few minutes. Shut them tight, and paste paper over the cracks about them, also over any cracks in the wall, and a double sheet over the fireplace. Tack a strip of tin around the inner edge of the door so that when the door shuts, the tin will close the crack. Next put a big iron pan in the middle of the floor, set an iron skillet in the middle of it, and put into the skillet a pound of flowers of sulphur, stick in a short fuse, light it, and go outside, shutting the door. In five minutes look inside to make sure the sulphur is well afire. It will fill the room with thick, stifling smoke. It will also bleach out and destroy any colors on walls or ceilings.

Leave the room shut for twenty-four hours, then open and air well. Remember that bichloride of mercury is deadly poison.

Restored to Health and Gained Flesh by Taking Father John's Medicine.

I attribute my good health to Father John's Medicine. I had a very bad cough caused by catarrh and bronchial trouble. I had used all kinds of patent medicines without receiving any relief. Finally a friend told me to try Father John's Medicine and I am happy to say that wonderful remedy relieved my cough and cured my throat trouble. It also added several pounds to my weight, as I was considerably run down," says Mrs. A. E. Hughson, 30 Yarmouth St., Boston, Mass. Cures throat and lung troubles, makes flesh and strength. Moore Predicts World Upheaval

EARTHQUAKES, FIRES, RAILWAY DISASTERS AND FINANCIAL CRISIS COMING.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—"Old Moore," in his almanac for 1908 predicts the usual assortment of startling happenings all over the world. Earthquakes, fires, railway disasters, notable deaths, financial and diplomatic crisis are generously strewn over the almanac's pages and "Old Moore" has a particularly heavy calendar of accidents and incidents for London.

In January a national calamity will occur to St. Paul's and the London tram cars will help the rates by their profits. In May a claimant will arise to a large London estate and in July the people of London will be threatened with the collapse of the Nelson Column, the Duke of York's Column or the Monument. The latter half of the year will be comparatively uneventful, but about the time of Christmas eve sixty-five engines and five hundred firemen will be busy in a danger zone in the city of London.

Experiments in wireless telephony are shortly to be conducted on an extensive scale in England. For some time past a number of experts have been making investigations in Germany and Denmark, and Dr. Lee Forest is also conducting a series of interesting experiments in America. So successful have the experiments in Denmark, for instance, proved that two persons twenty-five miles apart speaking into instruments totally unconnected by wires, were able to converse distinctly. Even greater results are anticipated in England within the next few weeks.

Ian MacLaren's Estate.

The filing of final papers shows that the Rev. Dr. John Watson, of Croxas "Ian MacLaren," left an estate of which the net personalty amounted to $250,000. After certain minor bequests he left the residue of his property to his wife for life, with the remainder divided equally between his sons, John, Francis, Henry and Frederick, on attaining the age of 25 years. He further directed with reference to his copyrights and other rights in his published of unpublished works that his trustees should have in their absolute discretion the fullest power of publication and sale.

Mrs. Arthur Holland, interviewed, explains the coming Woman's Congress thus:

"The Woman's Congress is one of the most necessary organizations of our day. We will take a single illustration to prove my words. A husband gives his wife a $10 bill to buy a new hat. She is very busy and asks him if he will go out and buy it for her. He does so, searches the shops, and with the best intentions in the world, chooses a Parisian model which is absolutely unsuitable.

"His wife knows that he has done his best, but the hat is useless to her and she blames herself for not going out in the first place, because she knows best what style would prove suitable to her.

"It is exactly the same with the congress. Our candidates in Parliament are willing to do their best for us, but only women can judge what is best for women and that is the foundation stone of our movement.

"We intend to employ women only in our congress, even to the printing There must be one exception and that is the legal adviser.

"Women over 24 years of age will be eligible to vote, and each voter will be presented with a badge, which must be shown at the poll before her vote can be registered.

"It is proposed that the election of members to the congress shall take placein six months, by which time the scheme will be thoroughly voiced and the organization will be complete.

"As the candidates must finance their own elections, it is desirable, in the event of any very able woman wishing to represent a section and being financially unable, that a reserve fund shoul' be in hand, so that grants can be made where the candidates can not themselves influence support.

Corelli Flays Men.

"To put it bluntly, and plainly," Miss Corelli writes, "a great majority of the men of the present day want women to keep them.

"It is not a manly or a noble desire: but as the kind of men I mean have neither the courage nor the intelligence to fight the world for themselves, it is, I suppose, natural to such inefficient weaklings that they shoul'—seeing the fierce hea' and contest of competition in every branch of modern labor—gladly sneak behind a woman's petticoats to escape the general fray.

"But the point to which I wish to call the attention of the more thoughtful of my readers is that these very sort of men (when they have secured the ignoble end of their ambition, namely, the rich woman to live upon, under matrimonial sufferance), are the first to run down women's work, women's privileges, women's attainments and women's honor. The man who owes his dinner to his wife's unremitting toil is often heard to speak of the 'uselessness' of women.

"The woman who paints a great picture is 'unsexed'; the woman who writes a great book is 'unsexed'; in fact, whatever a woman does that is higher and more ambitious than the mere act of flinging herself down at the feet of man, and allowing him to walk over her, makes her in man's opinion unworthy of his consideration as woman; and he fits the appellation 'unsexed' to her with an easy callousness which is as unmanly as it is despicable.

MANY MORMONS IN THIS STATE

FIFTEEN ELDERS AND OFFICIALS HAVE HEADQUARTERS AT CENTRAL CITY.

HUNTINGTON, Aug. 14.—Recent developments indicate that Central City is being made headquarters for a large body of Mormon elders, or, in the authorized version of the sect, elders of the church of the Latter Day Saints. The party with headquarters there at present numbers fifteen, and may be catalogued as follows: One president, one secretary, and thirteen elders.

While it is not known that any proselyting has been attempted within the city limits, it is known that the elders are waging a vigorous campaign in the adjacent rural districts of West Virginia and Ohio, working the Big Sandy, Twelve Pole and Guyandotte valleys persistently and systematically.

For a number of years the Mormons have been remarkably successful in Wayne county and within three years a large number of converts have removed to the Mormon settlements in Missouri, and some to Utah and Idaho. Whole families have been known to embrace the faith and many of these have emigrated in a body to the west.

The elders now canvassing Southern West Virginia travel in pairs, preaching wherever they can obtain an audience, and distributing tracts from house to house.

The elders now stopping at Central City are men of magnificent physique and elegant address, finely educated and ready with a plausible and catchy story setting forth the doctrines which comprise the chief tenets in the Mormon faith.

W. B. REDUSO for LARGE WOMEN

Restrains tendency to overfleshiness, and moulds the over-developed proportions into graceful outlines hitherto thought to be attainable only by slighter figures.

This splendid result is attained by an unboned apron extension which reaches down over the abdomen and hips, giving the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

This feature absolutely eliminates the necessity of any harness-like devices and straps, hitherto deemed essential on corsets of this kind.

Reduso Style 750—(For tall stout women), which is illustrated here, is built as per description, with medium high bust. Made of a durable coutil, in white or drab. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 22 to 36. Price, $5.00

Reduso Style 760—(For short stout women), is the same as style 750 except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white and drab coutil. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 24 to 36. Price, $3.00

W. B. NUFORM & ERECT FORM CORSETS can be found on sale at dealers everywhere at $1.00 and up.
