SPLENDID TALK TO THE STUDENTS

EVANGELIST SUNDAY WAS WELL RECEIVED.

Learning to Do Common Things in an Uncommon Way, One of the Points in Logical Address.

THE YELL.

"What's the matter with Sunday?
"He's all right.
"Who's all right?
"Sunday."

Wednesday morning at 10:45 o'clock, Rev. W. A. Sunday delivered a very interesting address to the student body in the assembly room of the local High school. The entire Sunday party and a number of ministers were also present as were the mothers and fathers and friends of the students to hear on what line the evangelist would address the school. Mr. Rodeheaver opened the meeting by having the entire audience sing hymn No. 32 from the revival hymnals and at the conclusion, Mr. Rodeheaver played a beautiful selection on the trombone.

When Mr. Sunday took the platform, he was greeted with loud applause from the audience and seemed very much impressed with the enthusiasm shown by the students of the school. At this time Mr. Sunday was presented with a beautiful bouquet of white roses from the members of the school as a token of their esteem for the great evangelist and his noble work, also the interest he has hsown in the scholars of this school. He passed the token to Mrs. Sunday.

Mr. Sunday spoke mainly along the lines of "Doing Big Things," and general education and citing instances in the lives of great men who were of lowly birth and yet made a success in life, which came mainly through the perseverance of what was assigned to them. Booker T. Washington was an illustration of what might be done by a person with grit and determination, as was Abraham Lincoln and many others.

Several times the evangelist became humorous and brought forth applause and laughter from the students and his language was savored with very little slang.

Scored Street Loafers.

Mr. Sunday scored on the street loafers and young men around the city who were nothing but killers, and showing how the United States government was put to an extra expense just as the result of carelessness on the part of letter writers. Here Mr. Sunday also cited incidents from the lives of world famed writers and sculptors. One of his strongest points was that perseverance, lots of peppirint and ginger was necessary to success in this age. "Pay attention to the little things and the bigger things will naturally come to you, he said. "Have faith and confidence in your own ability and don't dely upon some one else to get your lessons; they will not be with you when doing your life work. Develop a spirit of kindness and don't look for and talk about flaws to others. Be ladies and gentlemen, it always pays. The supposed tough and braggard never is desired in the presence of good company and they never succeed.

Following these preliminaries "Billy" Sunday began his address. The talk was nothing more or less than a lot of good hard-headed advice from a man who has lived in and graduated from the schools of experience and hard knocks, and in part he said:

Relates Experience.

"This reminds me of when I was a schoolboy and my chief thoughts was how to get notes to the girl I liked best without being caught. I have learned since then that an education is not to inculcate a lot of facts but to discipline the mind and learn how to gain by using my own efforts. Daniel Webster after he had graduated from college and was on his way home could not think of anything but a theory in geometry and he kept repeating that over and over in his mind but that was not all he learned. If it had been he would not have made the name he did for himself. The object of an education is to make a tugboat powerful enough to sink a battleship, to make force and power of mind. There are two kinds of education, that which you receive and that which you give. Don't think your education is complete when you receive your diploma, not at all, you are only in the primary department of learning then. All your education is not gotten out of a book.

Common Things.

"To be best educated you must learn to do common things in an uncommon way. When I was 14 years old I did all the janitor work around a school of this size and I could dust a room as big as this in two minutes. One time the teacher, who was one of those old-fashioned and what I thought was a regular buttinsky sort of a woman, threatened to report me for not doing better work and I determined not to give her a chance to get me fired and cleaned the school as it had never been cleaned before. This caused the teacher to change her mind and compliment instead of reporting me and I determined then and there that if I could get a compliment out of that woman I could surely do my work to satisfy anyone if I tried hard enough."

Rev. Sunday again cited instances from Booker T. Washington's life and told how that colored man had walked 160 miles to a college which he wanted to attend and had been turned down because there was no room for him and then how he persevered and succeeded in winning his way into the college and graduating with honors.

Don't Be a Trailer.

"Don't be a trailer and keep off the merry-go-round of fads, don't lie and cheat and use ponies in your examinations." When you do this you are not cheating your professors and teachers, you are cheating yourselves out of the respect and the knowledge which you are supposed to have already had. Keep your head above the average and let your buckets down where you are and pick the things that are nearest you. Form good habits and keep good company and you will succeed."

In closing Mr. Sunday said that he was glad of the chance to come to the school and be with the students, as they have helped him to succeed with the cheery smiles and happy faces.

MR. RODEHEAVER ADDRESSES BOYS

AT WELL ATTENDED MEETING IN Y. M. C. A. AUDITORIUM.

Mr. Sunday to Speak to Boys Next Friday Afternoon at Close of Tabernacle Services.

On Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association, Mr. Rodeheaver of the Sunday party, delivered the second of his addresses to the high school boys, many being present. The meeting was opened by the school singing one of the hymns, and Mr. Rodeheaver called upon Ray Chapman and Emil Vass, both members of the high school quartette, to render their song which they were requested to prepare at the last meeting, and at the conclusion the boys were applauded for their splendid work.

The talk yesterday was along the same lines as Mr. Rodeheaver has been speaking to the boys and forcibly encourages manhood and the correct care taking of the body. The address was very interesting and there was probably not a boy present that did not take some lesson from the course of his talk.

On next Friday afternoon at 2:45, Rev. Mr. Sunday will address the boys and all of the male students of the high school are requested to attend, as Mr. Rodeheaver stated that Mr. Sunday has something good in store for those who attend in the way of "Advice to the young men." Special music will be rendered by the quartette and the members of the basket ball team, and Louis Horseman will introduce his comedy songs.

Mr. Rodeheaver announced at the close of his talk to the boys that it was his intention of organizing a St. Paul's chapter in the form of a boys' club some time in the near future, and that all of the high school boys would be greatly interested in the work, as there would be just enough secret work to keep up the interest, and the initiation which would be very mild would be an added amusement. The object is to be for the young men to refrain from all immoral habits.

QUESTIONS FOR SUNDAY TO ANSWER

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Sir:—Please publish in your paper a few questions for Billy Sunday.

1. Hello Billy, what is religion?
2. What is Sanctification?
3. Are you Sancitified?
4. Do you show me any passage of scripture in the Bible where it says preach to (women only) and behind closed doors.
6. Didn't you announce and deliver a sermon (to men only) on March 10, 1912, and you advertised for people to come ye one and all for the printers ink is not black enough, it was tough and vulgar again Billy look at question No. 1, what is religion?

Leave out liars, thieves, molly lutes, mutts, and all slang.

8. Why can't you preach the scripture as written.
9. Why can't you preach to men, women, and children all together, now and forever more? Is there a woman in the City of Wheeling who professed to be a Christian, who will say on Thursday night, Husband I am going to hear Billy Sunday tonight, but you can't go, he will take me in and lock the door then his language is too tough for you to hear you can wait out side and bring me home?

Is there a man in the City of Wheeling, who wants his wife to go where he can't go? Is there a woman who cares to go where her loving husband can't go? Will our county court, our prosecuting attorney, our mayor of Wheeling, our chief of police and deputies police stand by and see your mothers and wives and your daughters insulted? If they need medical advice let them conduct their family physician and not trust a fakir. Officers of the law preform your duty, make him file a copy of his speech with.

I am a Christian, my wife is a Christian. I love her and she loves me, and if we can't go arm in arm and sit side by side and hear true religion preached, we will stay at home, and have our family prayer and retire. If my wife was to go and be vilified, slandered and assaulted her, Billy Sunday could not carry enough life insurance or get enough police to save him. I would spill his life blood upon the dirty streets of Wheeling.

You and if not decent stop it, as you would a drunken brawl or prize fight, as he holds no license pays you no taxes, but sucks the coin from your pocket, as a leech sucks the strickling blood to sustain life.

Will write you more Billy and sign my name too.

RONEYS POINT MAN.

DOCTOR PINCHED THE BURGLAR

REECE THOMAS CAUGHT IN BELLAIRE PHYSICIAN'S OFFICE.

Taken to Police Headquarters and Turned Over to the Authorities For Trial.

Late last evening, Dr. J. M. Hensley, a well known Bellaire physician, heard a noise in his office, which is directly under his sleeping rooms, and on investigation he learned that a burglar was at work. The doctor crept down stairs and took the man into custody apparently without resistence. He then took him to police headquarters, where he turned him over to Chief Mahone.

The man gave his name as Reece Thomas, and his home as Pittsburgh. He is about thirty-five years old. On his person were found five spectacles and cases, but there was no other evidence to show that he was a professional burglar. The case is rather a mysterious one. The man will be arrainged before Mayor Wassman this morning.
