

EULALIE PLANS A LECTURE IN AMERICA

...of King of Spain has been... to divorce her...

PARIS, July 18.—Threatened with being deprived of her income, granted by the civil list of Spain, the Infanta Eulalie is planning to make a lecture tour in America...

Further details were forthcoming yesterday of the trouble between the princess and the royal family.

The Princess is willing. They have been separated for twelve years, in that time they have met and have been cordial in their greetings.

Great surprise and indignation has been caused by the announcement that she intends to divorce the Prince...

Mr. Briand, former Prime Minister, now Minister of Justice, has been approached on the question of citizenship.

Prince Antoine favors his wife's divorce, chiefly for economic reasons.

Eulalie is about to publish another book on philosophical religions and moral questions, and it is predicted that the King's custody will fall heavily on her this time.

WILL FLY MISS SMITH TO GO IN THE AIR GAME

NEW YORK, July 19.—Helen Woodruff Smith, of Stamford, who "went up in the air" when Russell Griswold, a chorus boy, better known as "Ruzzie-lamb," sued her for $50,000 of the million and a half left her by her father, because he declared his boyish affections had been damaged, is going to take another flight.

This time it is not one of fancy with the Stamford Brunhilde's Siegfried, but a truly material one. She is having a monoplane built. It is not one for just two persons either. This time Miss Smith will take more than one passenger along.

Miss Smith was sued for breach of promise in October, 1911, by young Griswold, who made public letters in which he was addressed as "Ruzzie-lamb." He lost the suit, but not before the letters of Miss Smith signed "Brunhilde," "Helle-lamb" and "Henne" had been dragged before the eyes of a smiling public.

Miss Smith divorced her former husband, twice mayor of Stamford, and daughter of the late James D. Smith, who was president of the New York Stock Exchange, declared in court that the love of "Ruzzie-lamb" was puppy love.

At any rate the soul flight was not successful, and as her spirit must take occasional jaunts into the ethereal regions, she has determined to become an aviator.

The monoplane planned by her is of the largest type yet constructed. She will sit at the wheel herself when it has been thoroughly tested. It will have an enclosed body like the cockpit of a boat, and to avoid the sometimes too-loving caresses of the wind—a wind shield.

Miss Smith intends to sail from Long Island across the Sound to her home in Stamford.

At his death, Commodore Smith left his daughter the major share of $1,500,000, a number of motor cars and a large estate at Glenbrook, known as Linden Lodge. She lives there with her thirteen-year-old son, Dickenson Schuyler Cummings.

DAILY FASHION TALKS BY MAY MANTON A DAINTY AND PRACTICAL SLIP.

THE princess slip is one of the most useful garments a girl can own. This one can be made of lingerie material and take the place of the corset cover and petticoat to be worn beneath any dress, or it can be made of muslin, either white or colored, to be worn beneath the frock of transparent material. It can become a perfectly plain, simple slip or a very dainty garment, according to the manner in which it is treated. On the figure, the slip is made of mercerized batiste with trimming of embroidery and beading. The flounce makes an attractive finish but it is not necessary, for many girls like a plainer slip either with a hem or a narrower frill. The back can be made in habit style or with an inverted plait.

For the 16 year size, the slip will require 6 1/2 yards of material 27, 5 1/2 yards 36 or 4 yards 44 inches wide; with the flounce, as illustrated, 1 yard 27 or 3 1/2 yard 36 or 44 inches wide with 3 yards of embroidery 4 inches wide, 9 yards of insertion and 4 1/2 yards of beading.

REID HELD AS FUGITIVE; IS UNABLE TO GIVE BOND WYOMING

DUBLIN, July 19.—Premier Asquith again to-night was the recipient of another ovation at the hands of Dublinites. Both inside and outside the theatre Royal where he made an address, Mr. Asquith, who was accompanied by his wife, was greeted by enormous crowds who repeated the welcome they gave him last night.

CHARLES M. REID, the California man arrested by the local police Thursday on information furnished by the police of Columbus, Ohio, that he was wanted for embezzlement on the coast, was arraigned yesterday morning on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, and was committed to the county jail and held pending the arrival of officers from the coast.

On the information on which Reid was arrested the authorities were instructed to release him under $5,000 bond, $3,000 in cash and the rest in collateral.

On Reid's person when searched were found pawn tickets for diamond rings, ear rings, brooches, etc., totaling $12,000, a note for $1,900, several money orders amounting to $200, all of which had been sent to Frisco, $30 in cash, a railroad ticket from Chicago to San Francisco, and a bank book for a California bank. Papers found in a hand satchel indicate that he was mixed up in a Texas land deal of some sort with a lottery connected with it.

It is said that Reid was mixed up in some kind of a scheme in which the winners in some kind of a lottery proposition could either take their prizes in cash or merchandise and it is said Reid stepped out with both and this accounts for the numerous pawn tickets found on him.

Yesterday Reid wired to Mrs. A. P. Reid, at Los Angeles, Cal., who he claimed to be his step-mother, as follows: "Have a lawyer in San Francisco at once. Trouble I don't know what arrested here. You give bond for my appearance or settle it and I will send you the money. It must be serious. Please hurry. Give me particulars here soon. Chief of police."

Another telegram was sent to Jack Anselmi of Columbus, O., asking him to locate Reid and get $2,000 and come to Wyoming.

The Columbus police have been asked to look up three men who get left in the rear of a motor car. It is also asked of a black and white dog who was seen in a Columbus hotel and the Columbus police have been asked to locate the dog.

Two suspension bridges for use in Abyssinia have recently been taken in hand in Khartoum, Egyptian Sudan. One has already been sent to Gambela. Mr. Walker, who has spent some years in Adis Ababa, is in charge of their erection.

SUICIDE PREMIER GIVEN OVATION BY COUNTRYMEN

VIENNA, Austria, July 19.—A surprisingly high percentage of suicides in the Austrian army is revealed by official statistics just published. These show that 2,614 suicides and 450 attempts at suicide of officers and enlisted men have occurred in the last ten years. The figures are the highest for any army in Europe and the proportion is sixteen times greater than that of the total suicides in the entire population of the monarchy.

Motives were ascertainable in only about one-half the cases. The records show that the most frequent causes were fear of punishment, low pay, unwillingness to serve in the army and ill treatment. The high number of suicides is all the more remarkable because it is generally considered that Austrian soldiers are well treated in comparison with those in some of the other states.
