MOMENTOUS EVENT.

The Birth of a Powerful New Political Party at Cincinnati.

ITS COMING IS ANNOUNCED

By a Wonderful Exhibition of Lung Power in Music Hall.

A YELLING MASS OF HUMANITY

Adopts a Wonderfully Constructed and Decidedly Variegated Platform. Ignatius Donnelly Says the Day's Work will Affect the Politics of the Country for the Next Fifty Years. Some Remarkable Scenes—A Split Occurs on the Prohibition Question Before the Party is an Hour Old. The "People's Party" is the Name Decided On.

CINCINNATI, O., May 20.—A political giant was born into the world to-day.

It is the literal truth to state that no more wonderful exhibition of lung power at a natal event was ever heard than in Cincinnati Music Hall this afternoon. From the moment in the morning when the great gathering of farmers and wage workers voted eagerly for making a national executive committee a part of the programme, the result was to a certain extent foregone. All doubt was removed in ten seconds when, toward evening, after scenes of almost unprecedented turmoil, the fresh, clear countenance of Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, beamed from the rostrum upon the struggling, yelling mass of humanity in the convention, and with a dignity befitting his words announced that the committee had become a unit for starting a third party in the Nation without another instant's delay. It was marvellous to see the effect on delegates and spectators alike. Fatigue, forebodings, quarrels vanished as if struck by lightning. Breathless and hushed the listening hundreds waited as Donnelly continued earnestly: "We think we have performed a work that will affect the politics of this country for the next fifty years."

That was enough. The audience could contain itself no longer, but with dynamic force exploded in a terrific thunder of applause. A sensational feature of the proceedings following Donnelly's announcement came after the platform proper had been adopted. A Californian named C. W. Miller endeavored to thrust before the convention a resolution pledging the new party to the prohibition cause. The convention would not listen to such a resolution at such an early stage of the new party and it was promptly fired. To-night it is reported that many members of the National Reform organization had withdrawn from the party because of the defeat of the resolution.

THE DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The New Party is Born Amidst Turbulent Scenes—The Platform.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, May 20.—When the convention began to-day's proceedings, there was a great deal of anxiety expressed as to the platform. In the convention Gen. Weaver, Jerry Simpson, and others strongly opposed to the third party idea, were not to be seen; they were stubbornly laboring with the Committee on Platform.

The session was opened by prayer by Rev. Gilbert DeLamater, the Greenback Ex-Congressman. Reports from the several committees now helped to kill time, pending exciting developments expected when the Committee on Platform was ready to report.

FREE AND EASY.

Chairman Power, of the Arrangements Committee, pathetically announced he had received but $36 and expended $365. A collection was taken up, and amidst the chink of dimes, the chairman joyfully announced two whole five dollar bills had been donated, while a tanner came floating down from Kansas. Jesse Harper, a Greenbacker from Illinois, began to tell stories, but was shut off by the report of the Credentials Committee. The total number of delegates was 1,417.

A man named Grover, of Wisconsin, created a terrific uproar at this point by standing up on his chair, and swinging his arms like a wind-mill and starting a harangue in opposition to a third party. Yells of "shut up," "sit down," etc., had no effect, until a sergeant-at-arms seized the man from Wisconsin and rammied him down into his chair. Mrs. Helen Gongar, of Indiana, plead for a prohibition plank.

United States Senator Peffer then was introduced as permanent chairman. He said the convention was divided on minor matter, but thanks to God they were united on this—that the money power must be deposed. Let them only keep in the middle of the road. In conclusion Mr. Peffer said he did not defeat Ingalls, but the men and women of Kansas did.

A BARE SCENE.

Here a scene occurred simply impossible in any other political gathering. A colored delegate from South Carolina asked to have his fare paid home, adding the reason why many other colored men were not present, was that they were poor. He added, as he eyed the almost empty hats that were being passed around, it was well they were not present. He was handed a lot of small change collected and retired.

After a discussion, the five minute rule was adopted. It was necessary to apply the previous question rule before a vote could be obtained on the report of the Committee on Order of Business, then it went through like a cannon ball, eliciting the wildest applause. One man shouted that it meant a third party, as it provided for a National Committee.

Then pandemonium broke loose, hats and canes flying through the air, amidst which Peffer opened up his powerful lungs and declared the convention adjourned till 2 p. m.

Mrs. Gongar, in her speech, denounced a banquet to be held to-night, declaring that the brewers were backing that project.

When the convention reassembled, several letters were read against a third party, one from L. L. Polk, causing a breeze. Ignatius Donnelly, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, then set the convention on fire by saying the Committee on Platform was unit for the organization of a third party. He said there were only two alternatives, either ignore a third party or divide the friends of reform.

He gave way to Mr. Schilling, of Wisconsin, who read the platform.

THE PLATFORM. The committee on resolutions submitted the platform agreed upon. It states that this time has arrived for what should be known as the People's Party of America; the platforms of St. Louis, Ocala, Fla., and Omaha are endorsed. These platforms presented by industrial organizations demand the abolition of National Banks; demand free and unlimited coinage of silver; the passage of laws prohibiting alien ownership of land; government control of means of communication and transportation; the election of President and senators by a direct vote of the people.

This committee further resolves: That we urge united action at the conference called for February 22, 1892, by the leading reform organizations; that a national central committee be appointed by this conference, to be composed of three members from each State; that this central committee shall represent this body at the national conference in 1892, and unite with all reform organizations there assembled. If no satisfactory arrangement can be effected, this committee shall call a national convention not later than June 1, 1892, for the purpose of nominating candidates for President and Vice President. Also that the members of the central committee for each State can conduct an active political agitation in their respective States.

Several resolutions, not a part of the platform, were presented. They favored eight hours a day, and condemned the action of the World's Fair in regard to low wages.

WILD ENTHUSIASM.

The reading of each plank was loudly cheered, as was the name "People's Party of the United States."

One minor plank, recommending universal suffrage, was received in a chilly way. The plank demanding treasury notes to pay soldiers equivalent to coin, was received rather unfavorably, but it was stated that it was the idea of the only soldier on the committee.

After this had been explained a wild yell of exultation over the platform arose from a Texan, and the colored delegate echoed it, and the convention went wild, ending the session in a storm of cheers, and singing "Good bye, old parties, goodbye."

The following are among the National Committee:

New York—Jacob H. Studer, Joel J. Hoyt.

Ohio—Hugo Preyer, J. C. H. Cobb, H. F. Barnes.

Pennsylvania—R. A. Thompson, F. R. Agnew, Lewis Edwards.

West Virginia—Luther C. Shinn, George W. Hammett, Thomas C. Keeny.

TOO MUCH LAUGH.

The Joy of a Pennsylvania Man is Likely to Cause His Death.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 20.—A queer case has just attracted the attention of the doctors here, that of John Doringler, a prosperous farmer of Wrights-town, Bucks county. Doringler is laughing himself thin and to death, and, in addition, it is believed he is fast losing his reason. Three months ago he weighed 175 pounds, but now he weighs 110 pounds, and fears are felt for the worst. The old axiom is laugh and grow fat, but in this case it is laugh and get thin. Recently the Philadelphia & Reading railroad extended its line through Doringler's farm. He was so delighted when the first train, March 1, passed through, that he began to laugh. He has been laughing ever since, and the doctors must stop him or he will die.

The Charleston Not Heard From.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 20.—The Charleston has been three days at sea since leaving Acapulco, and not a word of her movements has reached the State Department. She should reach Panama to-morrow night, unless she meets the Itata in the meanwhile. Secretary Tracy said to-night that American interests at Iquique would not suffer, as the Americans occupied a strictly neutral position.

Female Badgers Caught.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Mary Williams, alias Mary Monroe, and Alice Shaw, two of the slickest badger and confidence women in the city, were arrested early this morning charged with robbing Charles Edgar, a drummer from Chicago, of twelve dollars. The women were arraigned in Police Court several hours afterwards, but as Edgar failed to appear they were discharged.

Letter-Carriers Statue to S. S. Cox.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The Board of Aldermen unanimously adopted a resolution granting the letter-carriers to erect a statue to the memory of the late Samuel S. Cox, Member of Congress, at the junction of Astor Place and Eighth street.

Big Lumber Fire.

HOUSTON, TEX., May 20.—Fire this afternoon destroyed the lumber mill of the Phoenix Lumber Company. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $40,000. In addition the mill of Grille Co. and seven stores and thirty cottages were consumed. Loss unknown.

A Fatal Fall.

TITUSVILLE, PA., May 20.—This evening Mrs. Ann McBride, aged 65, mother-in-law of Conductor J. Carroll, of the W. N. Y. & P. Railroad, fell down cellar stairs at Carroll's residence, West Walnut street. She died in two minutes.

National Lutheran Meeting.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—The National English Evangelical Lutheran conference opened here to-day. The conference meets every 3 years and some important questions are to be passed upon.

STILL AFTER CAMPBELL.

The Governor's Enemies Determined to Defeat His Chance.

NEAL'S REPORTED WITHDRAWAL

Was Not Based on a fact, at Least that is What Knowing Ones Say—The Democratic Situation in Ohio Grows Desperate—The Latest Gossip.

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—The Democratic opponents of Governor Campbell have not by any means laid down their arms. Indeed the onslaught led by John R. McLean and Lawrence T. Neal is increasing in bitterness each day and promises to become one of the most sanguinary political contests of its character within the political history of the State. The report that Lawrence T. Neal had drawn out of the fight was far from true, although it comes from a reliable source that there were negotiations between the Chillicothe statesman and the governor with that end in view. Whatever overtures were made, however, proved fruitless, and in the language of the times, Mr. Neal may correctly be regarded as "still in it." The Neal-McLean combination have established an elaborate literary bureau, and have old time organizers visiting "the boys" throughout the State. Colonel Sim Donovan, who has achieved considerable notoriety as a political missionary, has been engaged by the combination and is at present making a tour of the State. Several politicians of similar characteristics have been commissioned for like missions and are working at various points against Campbell. Mr. S. E. Johnson, McLean's Washington correspondent, came on here a few days ago, and is in charge of the bureau with headquarters at the Neil House. The work of defeating Campbell has been sifted down into a still hunt, and while the Enquirer is publishing interviews from prominent members of the party who have arrayed themselves either for or against the Governor, the combination is getting in its work among those who are either on the fence or inclined toward Campbell.

The indications are that Mr. Neal may overreach himself in his fight against Campbell, as there is a scheme on foot to down him in a manner least expected, if the opportunity is presented at the proper time. The Campbell men, who feel confident of the Governor's renomination, intended to have revenge. In the event that Campbell is renominated they will vigorously oppose the proposition to have the State convention endorse Neal for the United States Senate. The Neal men have labored under the delusion that should their leader fall short of the gubernatorial nomination, such a strong sentiment would have been worked up for him that after his defeat in the convention, or withdrawal before that event, a resolution endorsing him for the Senate would go through with a great hurrah.

GENERAL HARRIS.

He is a Candidate for Lieutenant Governor and Not for State Treasurer.

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—The friends of General Harris, of Preble county, take exception to the systematic misrepresentations circulated to the effect that he is a candidate for State Treasurer on the Republican ticket. These misrepresentations have placed General Harris in a false position, not only so far as he himself is concerned, but as regards the gentlemen who are candidates for the Treasuryship. General Harris is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and for that alone.

Ohio Will Have a State Ticket.

CINCINNATI, O., May 20.—The Ohio delegation in the National Union Conference held an adjourned meeting to-day, and an address to be presented to the people of that State was read and adopted. It provides for a State convention to nominate candidates, and recommends that local tickets be placed in nomination in all the counties.

NEARING THE END.

The K. of L. will Continue the Strike Six Weeks—Men Flocking to Work.

SCOTTDALE, PA., May 20.—The Knights of Labor convention here has resolved to continue the strike six weeks longer. The operators refused to confer with committee, stating the sliding coal scale is the only one they will accept, and the men must return or be locked out. The operators report an increase of 1,000 men at their works during the past week.

A split has occurred between the Knights of Labor and United Mine Workers over the refusal of the former to allow an equal representation in the convention. As a result an order has been issued by the United Mine Workers' officials calling upon their members to return to work. Large numbers of men have gone back to work to-day, and by the first of next week it is thought all the United Mine Workers will have returned to the mines, thus breaking the strike.

Postoffice Robbed.

COFFEYVILLE, KAS., May 20.—The postoffice here was burglarized Monday night. About $500 in stamps and the same amount in money, all the registered letters and the money order books were stolen. No clue to the robbers.

Killed by Indians.

CLIFTON, ARIZ., May 20.—The report is confirmed that Nat. Whittle, a miner on Blue Canon, has been killed by Indians. The Indians were in ambush close to his house and shot him twice through the body. The Indians are headed east towards New Mexico.

Steamship News.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Arrived—Steamer City of Paris and Wyoming, from Liverpool; State of Nebraska, from Glasgow. The Wyoming is aground in the Swath channel, and a schooner, E. J. Hamilton, laden with lumber, is ashore at Sandy Hook.

A TERRIFIC STORM

From the Alleghenies to the Missouri—Great Damage Done—Many Lives Lost.

CHICAGO, IND., May 20.—A severe electric storm, accompanied by rains and high winds, passed over this city this evening. The storm was general and raged from the Alleghenies to the Missouri river and westward. Telegraph service was interrupted; in Michigan and Missouri the wind in some sections attaining the proportion of a hurricane, doing great damage to property, and probably causing loss of life. In most of the Western States the rain was needed and will greatly benefit crops. At Mexico, Missouri, a tornado killed a dozen people.

Joseph Kendall's house and barn were blown down, Kendall having a narrow escape. James Ballard's house was blown down. There was a mowing machine carried about 100 yards and literally torn to shreds. An iron roller, weighing 1,200 pounds, was picked up and broken to pieces. A calf was lifted and carried a quarter of a mile, six horses killed and chickens plucked clean of feathers. The cyclone passed to the east carrying destruction with it. There is no doubt great destruction of property and life has occurred further east. Great trees were taken up by the roots or broken off. The scene at these places is terrible in the extreme.

Mr. Morris was standing by his house holding his baby when the cyclone struck him, dashing the child a hundred yards away against a tree. He found his family scattered in every direction. The width of the cyclone was 300 yards and about twelve miles long.

A Destructive Storm.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—Additional particulars just received of the terrific hail storm near Gainesville, Tex., are to the effect that the section damaged is about fifty miles in length and from three to five miles in width. The farmers have all lost their entire possessions. The crops were destroyed, and houses, fences and orchards were laid waste by the wind in every locality visited by the storm. The total loss will reach half a million.

POISONED BY PARASITES.

Currant Bushes and the Fruit Covered with Minute Insects.

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., May 20.—The currant bushes in this vicinity are infected by a new and peculiar insect, which covers almost completely the green fruits, and whose poisonous qualities have occasioned much excitement.

A child of Mr. Ed Moll, of this city, died last night, the doctors declare, from eating the parasite-infected green currants. The child died in the most intense agony, suffering as if affected with rabies. Two other children are low from the same cause. Many people are ridding their gardens of all currant bushes.

THE TARRYTOWN DISASTER.

The Funerals of the Dead to Take Place To-day—Bodies Missing.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., May 20.—Little remains to tell the tale of the explosion yesterday, which killed eighteen persons and horribly wounded twenty others. Travel is going on as usual, and the wounded are doing fairly. The funerals of the dead will take place to-morrow, and the inquest Monday. The coroner still believes five bodies are in the river, which is being dragged, as five numbers of so many italians have not been checked off the books of the company. Two men who were fishing on the banks of the river are reported as having been blown into the river.

DESTITUTE HEBREWS.

England Becoming Alarmed at the Invasion—Shipping Them to America.

LONDON, May 20.—England is becoming so alarmed at the exodus of destitute Hebrews from Russia, who are coming into Great Britain, that the movement is termed "the Hebrew invasion of England." The Evening News warns the authorities that it is the movement is not checked there will grow up an anti-Hebrew movement in England in comparison with which the New Orleans affair will be small. On the other hand, the manager of an institution for the reception of Hebrews arriving, asserts that the actually destitute does not exceed twenty per week, most of whom are shipped to Chicago, New York and other American cities. Reliable figures show 500 destitute Hebrews are captured upon their arrival here by "sweaters," and work for "sweating" tailors at the lowest possible wages, barely sufficient to keep soul and body together. It is also shown that systematic procreancy exists in regard to the young Hebrew girls, and a society has been organized to protect them.

Ex-Queen Natalie's Popularity.

BUDA PESTH, May 20.—Dispatches from Semlin, Hungary, state that Queen Natalie was received there with great enthusiasm. Many of the leading ladies of Semlin visited her at the hotel, presented bouquets, welcomed her to Hungary, and expressed their sympathy.

No Revolution Yet.

LONDON, May 20.—A dispatch received from Lisbon at noon to-day does not mention any disorders in that city. The report circulated in the United States that a revolution had broken out in Portugal is consequently not confirmed.

Waiting for Siberia.

LONDON, May 20.—There are 5,000 prisoners in Russia awaiting suitable weather for transportation to Siberia. They will be voluntarily accompanied by their families.

Peace for a Year.

BERLIN, May 20.—The Emperor yesterday inspected the torpedo station at Ebling. Replying to an address he said he could confidently hope for peace "for the present, and even for next year."

Sentenced to Death.

SANTA, May 20.—The Manipuris who killed Chief Commissioner Quinton by thrusting spears through the body have confessed and been sentenced to death.

SAVED FROM BIGAMY.

A Man's Second Betrothal Ceremonies Stopped by His Arrest.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Joseph Hardy, who claims to have an honorable discharge from the British army, married pretty Bertha Reva two years ago. An hour after the ceremony his sister-in-law, Dora, asked him to change a $50 bill. He did not have anything but $50 bills himself, but said he would step out to a neighboring store and get the change. According to Miss Dora's story, as told in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday, he failed to return. She said he took with him, in addition to her money, $450 belonging to his bride and about $400 worth of jewelry and trinkets which he had collected from the wedding guests.

Hardy said the women were jealous and wished to get him into trouble. He did not deny having left his bride within an hour after they had been married. He claimed, however, to have taken nothing with him but a profound dislike for the family of his bride and the consciousness that he had married out of his sphere.

Ward detective Cuff testified that in company with the deserted wife he called Sunday night on Mrs. Newman, a widow, who lives on Tenth avenue, and found that Hardy was celebrating with the daughter of Mrs. Newman the betrothal ceremonies which, according to the German Hebrew custom, immediately precede the marriage function.

"I arrested him on the spot and rather spoiled his bigamous game," said the detective. "When Mrs. Newman heard his deserted wife's story she ordered him out of her house and told him never to darken her door again. Mother and daughter had promised to furnish Hardy with $800 immediately after the marriage, with which he said he would start a cigar store."

DEFENSE CLOSED,

And the State will Begin with Evidence in Rebuttal

AT THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

A Very Interesting Day's Work in the Garrison Case.

THE DEFENDANT ON THE STAND

Under Cross-Examination by Captain Doveney Nearly All Day—A Number of Unimportant Witnesses Examined—The State Attempts to impeach a Witness, and will Continue the Effort To-day—Garrison a Strong, Positive Witness.

There was a crowd at the Court House when court opened yesterday morning. The knowledge that Dr. Garrison would probably be placed upon the stand whetted the public curiosity to a keen edge, and before ten o'clock the courtroom was crowded and jammed.

The Doctor was given a rest for a while in the morning, however, and several other witnesses were examined before he went on. Dr. Garrison was a good witness for himself, and was cool and collected throughout the time he was on the stand. He did not get mixed once, and almost every time he answered a question he put in a few words of feeling.

His examination closed about 4 o'clock and the defense rested a few minutes after 5. This morning the rebuttal begins, and it now looks as if the case will be given to the jury before the week closes.

Col. Arnett apologized to the court and to the attorneys for having used the words "it's a lie" in court the day before in connection with a statement alleged to have been made by him in the Wheeling Register. Captain Doveney very gracefully acknowledged the apology, and found a very plausible excuse for the Colonel, and all was serene.

Dr. R. W. Hazlett was the first witness called. He has lived in Wheeling thirty years, and has known Dr. Garrison seven or eight years; he lives about three blocks from Dr. Garrison, and has known his reputation to be good. On cross examination he said he had known Dr. Garrison to be in quarrels and contentions.

J. D. Baker, of Cameron, the witness for the defense who testified to seeing the shooting on Saturday, was recalled by the State's attorneys.

Examined by Doveney.

Q.—When did Colonel Arnett come to you about this?

A.—Shortly before this term of court opened.
