Which shall I put on first?
It doesn't make any earthly difference which she puts on first. One shoe is as good as the other and both are perfect. The truth will bear a good deal of telling, but it won't stand any stretching, and we don't believe in taking any liberties with it. We tolerate nothing in the nature of exaggerations. When you make a purchase from us you know exactly what you are buying, for concealment is absurd where there is nothing to hide.

Collision on the Pawley.
Yesterday afternoon P. C. & St. L. engine No. 109 was coming south on the track just north of Fifth street when it dashed around a short curve into three coke cars being backed north by engine 87. The cars were all demolished and engine 109 pretty badly damaged.

The Buena Vista Glass Works.
The new glass works at Buena Vista, Va., will begin operations next Monday. Mr. T. J. Irwin, the manager of the factory, has been in this city and vicinity for a week employing men to go there to work. He has gotten a full force of practical men, and several squads have left for Buena Vista.

Picnic Yesterday.
The Shields of Honor picnic at the Park yesterday was very well attended, and a most enjoyable time was had by all who were present.
The Krieger Verein, or German Veterans' society, celebrated its second anniversary yesterday afternoon with a parade, followed by a picnic on the State Fair grounds, which was very successful and enjoyable.

Runaway in Ritchletown.
A runaway occurred yesterday in which a child of Councilman Charles Horstman was slightly injured. Brandt, the hostler, had just hitched up the little pony to a cart and had placed the child in the vehicle, and while Brandt was attending to some other matters the pony ran up Thirty-ninth street. The child was thrown out and the animal kept on up to Wetzel street, where it was caught. The child was only slightly bruised.

A Strange Couch.
Night before last a well known young man about town was out with the boys till a late hour, and became sort of indifferent to the joys of earthly things. He climbed upon the soldiers' monument, and with the foot of the old sailor for a pillow sank into a peaceful slumber, so profound that when some passing painters decorated his face like an Indian on the war path he did not know it till a friend found him and took him in.

Decorating Already.
The front of Trades Assembly Hall on Market street was gorgeously decorated yesterday for the coming Labor Day—next Saturday. One or two other places have also already put out their bunting on the outer walls, and it looks as if by Saturday morning the decorations would be as general as were ever seen. The Assembly Hall had out huge portraits of Powderly and Gompers, smaller ones of all the national labor leaders and numerous banners and flags.

Sewer Pipe Firm Falls.
Intelligence reached the city to-day, says the Steubenville Herald, that the firm of Anderson Bros., at Anderson's landing, W. Va., had failed for a large amount. An exact statement of the liabilities is not given, but one item is a judgment by confession in the Hancock county court for $30,000. A large sum is also due the employes, and a brother-in-law, Mr. Standish, of Pittsburgh, holds a deed of trust on the works for a considerable sum advanced. The firm is composed of J. E. and D. B. Anderson, and operates an extensive sewer pipe and fire brick manufactory a short distance above the mouth of King's Creek.

The Ben Hur Tableau not Engaged.
The Ladies' Aid Society of the Wheeling Hospital Association held a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday evening, and discussed the Ben Hur tableau proposition. They soon decided not to engage the gentleman who proposed to show the tableaux, as his terms, 55 per cent of the gross proceeds, were considered too high. It was further concluded that in future the entertainment committee must wrestle with such questions, and not call on the general committee for its decision.

In Clerk Hook's Office.
Four deeds of trust and the following transfers of real estate were admitted to record yesterday:
A deed for a piece of ground on Eoff street, made August 20, 1891, by Phillip Duffey to James Duffey in consideration of $4,000.
A deed made February 9, 1891, by Joseph Humes, Jr., to Louis Thoner for the north half of lot No. 11 and the south quarter of lot 12 in square No. 1 in Joseph Hyding's addition, in consideration of $450.
A marriage license was issued to Randolph Ritchel, aged 23, a native of Marshall county, and a resident of Moundsville, and Emily Langhorn, aged 20, a native and resident of Ohio county. The will of George W. Edgington was admitted to probate with Elijah T. Moore as executor; bond $700; surety, William Moore.

THAT OHIO "WILD MAN."

The Farmers Beating the Bushes in Search of Him.
The "wild man" or non-descript beast which has been frightening and annoying the residents on the Ohio side of the river opposite Moundsville, and killing and dismembering stock, as mentioned in the INTELLIGENCER the other day, has become so bold in his depredations that the farmers have been driven to organized defense. Yesterday twenty-five men, armed with anything from a shotgun to a pitch fork, went out to beat the bushes and search every nook and cranny in a radius of five or six miles in search of the monstrosity. It is the theory of some people that a crazy man wrapped in a buffalo robe or other fur has caused the excitement, but as hogs, sheep and calves have been killed it became necessary to do something. In the night weird, blood-curdling cries are heard, and the next morning stock is found dead and hacked to pieces. The object is evidently not robbery, for nothing is taken. It has been suggested that possibly the animal is a big bear escaped from its keeper, as nobody has gotten near enough to tell anything about it, except that it sometimes runs rapidly on all fours and at others goes as rapidly on two legs.
The thing was first seen by a man named Crow while out hunting. Though he is truthful, he was thought to have been excited, and the thing was regarded as a hoax until other reliable parties saw it and stock continued to be killed.

LABOR DAY ARRANGEMENTS

Almost Completed—A Prize of $50 for the Firemen's Race—Purcell Got the $5.
The general labor committee held another meeting last night, but did not succeed in finishing all its business, and will meet again Thursday evening. The amusement committee raised the amount of the prize for the firemen's race from $20 to $50, and it is now positively settled that the race between the Martin's Ferry and Bellaire firemen will take place.
The railroad transportation committee reported that it was able to secure reduced rates, and it was instructed to make arrangements with the road that made the best offer. The chief marshal was instructed to have 10,000 programmes printed, and to see that 3,000 are distributed next Friday.
All the members of the general committee will be sworn in as police officers and will wear policemen's badges on Labor Day. Messrs. J. H. Burt, George McKinley, John Killen, William T. Marsh and John Burke were appointed a special reception committee. One of the duties of this committee will be to count the members of each local union represented in the parade, as they enter the gates of the grounds. Joseph Purcell went to Steubenville yesterday and sold the most tickets, thus winning the prize of $5, which was paid over to him yesterday by Secretary Salisbury. The reception committee was instructed to hire all the necessary hacks and conveyances. The Assembly hall will be open on Labor Day, and will be the headquarters for guests and visitors.

NEARLY A FATALITY.

An Accident at the New City Bank Building Yesterday.
Yesterday when an attempt was made to haul up a piece of granite for the cap of the corner at the new City Bank building, the guy timber of the derrick pulled loose from the second story floor, to which it was fastened. The mast swayed dangerously, but did not fall, being held by a rope also. The loosened timber fell upon an inside wall, which was up eight or ten feet, and on which two bricklayers were working at the time. There were also several carpenters beneath the scaffold on which the bricklayers were at work. The scaffold, wall and all were knocked down, and the joists pulled bodily out of the south wall, loosening a number of bricks. Several of the men were scratched up a little by falling timbers and brick, but nobody was seriously hurt. The wall was rebuilt and the derrick readjusted, and when work was done last night the wall was ready for replacing the joists.
It was the intention to lift the two eleven-ton stones to-day into their place on the northwest corner of the structure, but doubt is expressed if the derrick will lift the weight.

Keene as "Louis XI."
To-morrow evening Thomas W. Keene will appear at the Opera House as Louis XI, supported by Frank Hennig, of this city, Miss Alberta Gallatin and a strong company. The picture of Louis XI, which Mr. Keene presents, is that of an aged monarch almost reached the period of his dotage, querulous, full of superstitious fears, suspicious of all about him and ever planning means to overthrow and crush his turbulent vassals. It is a powerfully conceived picture and powerfully drawn, as one could suspect.

"The Bottom of the Sea."
Friday evening, Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening Webster & Brady's spectacular production of this name, an adaptation from the French, will be given at the Opera House. The sale of reserved seats will open at House's music store this morning, and there is to be expected a rush for them.

"Custer."
Next Monday and Tuesday evenings William J. Fleming's spectacular melodrama, "Custer," which has proven a decided success elsewhere, will be given at the Opera House for the first time in Wheeling.

Few children can be induced to take physic without a struggle, and no wonder—most drugs are extremely nauseating. Ayer's Pills, on the contrary, being sugar-coated, are easily swallowed by the little ones, and are, therefore, the favorite family medicine.
