THE PENALTY IS DEATH

And it is Time it is Visited on one of the Brutes

WHO OUTRAGE LITTLE CHILDREN.

A Peculiarly Aggravated Case Developed Yesterday—An Italian Sent to Jail Last Night by Squire Gillespy, and Another in Custody on a Similar Charge—The "Black Diamond" Again.

Squire Gillespy had before him last night a case of peculiarly aggravated character. The prisoner was arrested shortly after noon yesterday by Officer Herbert. He is known among his acquaintances as "Italian Jim," but gave his name as Giovanni Sargi. He is one of the denizens of what is known as "the Black Diamond," the dive in the rear of the saloon lately run by Louis Bachellet. He is a hard-faced man, of medium height, stoutly built, and probably between thirty and forty years of age.

Sargi is accused of rape, his victim being Mina Grist, a girl nine years old. Under the state law the penalty of his alleged crime is death. Offenses of the same character have been alarmingly frequent in the past few years, but the extreme penalty has not been meted out in one case.

The crime is alleged to have been committed on Monday, July 9. It was not known until yesterday, however, the little girl and her companions being afraid to tell the circumstances. Yesterday it was discovered that the child had contracted a loathsome disease, and when she was questioned the truth came out.

The story told by the witnesses at the hearing last evening was pretty straight, and while the main facts came under the observation of three children only, there was abundant corroborative testimony.

The rattletrap of a house in which Mrs. Grist and her three children live is notorious, and ought long ago to have been cleaned out. Two Italians had a room in it. Jim, according to the little girls' story, invited three of them, Mina and Pearl Grist and Effie Atkinson, into his room. There he made an assault on all three of them, after locking the door. Pearl slipped under the bed and hid behind a box. Effie also kept out of the brute's clutches, but Mina fell a victim to his unnatural passion. A boy named Farrell, whose mother lives in the same house, tried to get into the room, but found the door locked and was told by Jim that he could not come in.

Mrs. Farrell testified to the child's condition. When Sargi interrupted her, she told him very emphatically that if her child had been the victim she would have riddled him with bullets, and that she wished the moon present had got enough to take him out and hang him.

The child is a bright eyed, dark haired little girl, quite pretty, as is her sister, who is not much older. They are children of Charles Grist, an ex-policeman, now living separate from his wife.

Squire Gillespy sent Jim to jail without bail. He also sent Mrs. Grist and her two children and Mrs. Atkinson and her child to jail to be detained as witnesses.

HEADQUARTERS AT

A FIGHT IN AINAVILLE.

And an Island Resident is Badly Used up.

Benjamin Boers, residing on North Haron street, Island, had ten or twelve gashes cut in his head in front of Lewis Frick's saloon, on the corner of Fourth and Jefferson streets, on Tuesday night, requiring fourteen stitches.

There are several versions of the affair. One eye witness says that Boers was sitting on the curbstone on the opposite side of Jefferson street, that Scott Gordon walked over, asked him if he said that he could lick two men like him, and Boers replied in the affirmative, when Gordon struck him on the head several times, took a rest, then resumed the assault, all of which time Boers was sitting on the curb and was not in condition to defend himself. This same gentleman says that there were several men sitting on the curb and none of them offered to defend Boers. Scott Gordon says that Boers insulted him and told him he could lick him, and that he struck Boers who fell on the brick pavement, head first, then rolled over.

Matt Gray corroborates the statement of Gordon and so does Charles Potts. All of the men mentioned are employed at the Run-Standard mills and had been drinking. Warrants were issued yesterday for each of the four. After the fracas occurred Scott Gordon went to the mayor's office and told what he had done and was fined $3 and costs.

CURES OTHERS

Had Cough, Spite of Blood, Consumption, R. C. Melis, Esq., of Kemptville, Prince George Co., Va., writes: "When I commenced taking your 'Discovery' I was very low with a cough, and at times spit up much blood. I was not able to do the least work, but most of the time was in bed. I was all run-down, very weak, my head was dizzy, and I was extremely dependent. The first bottle I took did not seem to do me much good, but I had faith in it and continued using it until I had taken fifteen bottles, and now I do not look nor feel like the same man I was one year ago. People are astonished, and say, 'well, last year this time I would not have thought that you would be living now.' I can truthfully say I am entirely cured of a disease which, but for your wonderful 'Discovery,' would have resulted in my death."

WHY NOT YOU?

A TRUSTY MAKES A BURNER.
A Convict Loses His Good Time and Makes a Hot Chase.

Engineer Dan L. Schaeffer, of the penitentiary, yesterday was taking William Collins, a trusty, with him to the Baltimore & Ohio depot to assist him in fitting some piping. When they had gone down about Hess & McMullen's planing mill, Collins asked to go over there for a moment. He was granted permission and Schaeffer waited for him to come back, but he didn't come, so he thought he had better see where he was. He, too, went over, and to his astonishment saw Collins breaking for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks and almost to them. Schaeffer started in hot pursuit across the lumber yard after him, and finally succeeded in catching him near the bridge over Lafayette avenue. It was rather a hot chase for this kind of work.

Collins is from Wheeling and was serving a two years term, and his time would be out shortly. He was escorted back to the pen and will now have to serve his full term, losing all the good time he had made, which was two months and thirteen days. The prison officials thought it would be impossible to get him to go away, and they trusted him around most any place. He had had several other better chances to have gone, but he never seemed to take a notion to go until yesterday.

READY FOR BINDING!

Yesterday's Pittsburgh Times says: Henry K. List, of Wheeling, yesterday forwarded to Superintendent George H. Anderson, a resignation of his place on the provisional committee, appointed by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce to advance the interests of the projected Erie ship canal, saying his health would not permit him to serve. He suggested that Frank J. Hearne, the head of the Riverside Iron works, of Wheeling, be appointed in his stead. Mr. Hearne is a member of the Duquesne club, of Pittsburgh.
