STOLEN GOODS

Recovered by the Police on the South Side Yesterday.

MAXWELL HOUSE PROPERTY

Run Across by Accident in the Westwood Brick Shed, on the South Side, Yesterday Morning—A Wagon Full of It Hauled to Police Headquarters—A Man Arrested on Suspicion of Being Connected with the Robbery is Let Go, as He Tells a Pretty Straight Story.

The recent reports of numerous robberies on the South Side are fresh in the public mind, particularly those at the Maxwell homestead, on Market street, adjoining the Y. M. C. A. building. This house, while no person was at home, was entered several times and a large amount of clothing, silver ware, bric-a-brac and other portable articles of value were stolen. The police were notified and made diligent search for the stolen stuff, but found no clew to that or to the thieves. Yesterday morning Mr. Westwood, who owns a brick yard on the South Side, sent two young fellows into a shed to look for something. The shed had not been in use for some length of time. It is badly lighted, and as the young men were groping around in the corners they ran across a pile of stuff they knew did not belong there.

The police were notified, and examination showed the stuff was part of that which was stolen from the Maxwell mansion. There were cloaks, coats, portieres, vases, silver and almost everything else that could be carried out of a well furnished house. The pile of goods filled the patrol wagon, in which it was hauled to police headquarters.

Miss Maxwell was notified and said she would call this morning and identify so much of the goods as belonged to her. It is very likely that a part of them was stolen from other houses. The robberies were no doubt the work of a gang, the members of which live in the vicinity.

A man was arrested by the officers on suspicion of having some knowledge of the robberies, but after a searching examination by Chief of Police Bennett no evidence of his guilt was disclosed, and as he told a pretty straight story he was released. No other arrests have been made.

WAS BADLY HURT.

An Ice Cutter Falls Asleep and Gets the Worst of It.

Fritz Schumann was very badly hurt at the Reymann brewery, where he was employed in getting in the ice crop. He had been employed for about thirty-six hours steadily, and sitting down beside the incline on which the ice is pulled up, he fell asleep and leaned over on the chain, which caught his arm and pulled him up. His head struck several posts, and he was knocked senseless. He was finally pulled off and hauled to his home in the patrol wagon. He is very seriously, and perhaps dangerously injured.

New Ideas in Magic.

The magnificent spectacular production of magic that Frederick Bancroft brings to the Opera House Saturday, matinee and evening, is said to be sumptuous. Nothing like it in elaboration of detail or completeness of ensemble has ever before been attempted by any necromancer. He is said to be a fascinating entertainer and his liberality and elegance of taste in the stage appointments make a performance of attractiveness. In conjunction with Mr. Bancroft's deft manipulations in legerdemain several specialties of a high order divert the attention. The performance is given in four acts and two transformation tableaux, and is a decided departure for this class of entertainment.

Charles A. Gardner.

Charles A. Gardner, known as "Karl, the Sweet Singer," German comedian, will appear Wednesday night at the Opera House in "The Fatherland." The play portrays the life of a heroic German Turner who wins the prize at a Turnfest, developing an interesting story of love and devotion, devoid of the modern melo-dramatic clap-trap, but abounding in intense heart interest. The scenes are laid in the Austrian Tyrol and are reproductions of photographic views of his picturesque country. The naturalness of the action of the piece is considerably heightened by the introduction of a troupe of Tyrolean singers and dancers. Mr. Gardner will also render his famous songs.

To-night—Ex-Priest Slattery.

The talk of the city the past few days has been Ex-Priest Slattery. The gentleman has arrived, and he will be sure to have a crowded house at Egerter Hall, this Tuesday night. He is young, able, eloquent and convincing. His wife is with him. She was formerly Sister Mary Elizabeth in the convent. He would be worth listening to, regardless of his subject. He is a superb young man physically, being over six feet in height, perfect in figure and handsome and winning of face. He is eloquent, witty, intelligent, educated and up-to-date in every respect. He can make you laugh or cry.—advt.

"The Country Merchant."

Charles Cowles, the great character actor, with his excellent play, "A Country Merchant," comes to play a return date at the desire of local theatre-goers, on Thursday, February 27, continuing three days, with a matinee Saturday afternoon. The immense enjoyment given by this company when here before, insures a series of crowded houses during this engagement.

WITH THE RAILROADS.

The Probable New Trains on the Pennsylvania—Othet News Notes.

The traveling public is awaiting with interest the probable announcement of two new trains on the Pennsylvania between Wheeling and Pittsburgh. As exclusively told in the Intelligencer, the "Pensy" may put on a train, Wheeling to Pittsburgh, to leave Wheeling just after the arrival of the 6:45 p. m. train on the Ohio River road. This train would be a favorite with the oil people going to and from the southwest oil fields, but the average Wheeling hotel man hopes the train will not be put on as it will cut into their business very much. If this train is put on it is more than likely that another new train will leave Pittsburgh at the same hour and arrive at Wheeling at about 9 p. m. Such a train would be of great convenience to Wheeling people having business to do in Pittsburgh.

W. B. Dodd, of Columbus, scale inspector of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania, west of Pittsburgh, was here yesterday with his scale tester car, and tested the track scales in Wheeling and vicinity. Mr. Dodd is a very busy man and travels an immense mileage in the course of a year. His territory extends from St. Louis to Pittsburgh on the Pan-Handle. He "strikes" Wheeling twice a year.

BOATS LEAVING TO-MORROW.

Along the Landing.

The Clarington packet Jewel will resume to-day, leaving at her usual hour, 3:30 p. m.

Nothing has been heard from the H. K. Bedford, whose time of resumption is unknown.

The ice had almost disappeared here yesterday. In the afternoon a very little shore ice was passing out.

The marks at 6 p. m. showed 6 feet 2 inches and stationary; no rise or fall in 24 hours. Weather cloudy and warmer.

Mariner, with empties, passed up for Pittsburgh at 2 p. m. Monday. Tom Lysle passed up Sunday evening on one engine, the other having been disabled near Sistersville last week.

Captain Henderson, leader of the Pittsburgh delegation that appeared before the house rivers and harbors committee last week, expresses himself as pleased with the hearing accorded.

The towboat crews that came through the city en route to Pittsburgh by rail last week are now on their way to join their boats, which are strung out along the river between Wheeling and Cincinnati.

Captain John K. Booth writes Mr. John Crockard, of the wharfboat, that owing to repairs being made to the Liberty, she will not reach Wheeling until Wednesday, when she will leave on the following morning at the usual hour of departure.

The Virginia goes down this morning on the Keystone's day. The Keystone is harbored at the mouth of the Big Kanawha at Point Pleasant, and is expected to be here to-morrow afternoon. If possible she will be here on the following day for Cincinnati. The Hudson was held over at Cincinnati on account of the ice.

The thaw and slight rain yesterday started the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers rising at their headwaters and the pool, which has been getting low, will be raised to allow coal shipments, says the Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette. The weather has been unprecedented in favor of the river men, as the Ohio has been navigable since the first of the year and promises to keep it up until late in the spring.

The Rate War Again.

The rate war between the packets Lexington and Liberty inaugurated last week by the Liberty's open cut on freight to Matamoras from eight and ten cents to five cents per hundred, bids fair to become exciting and interesting. Yesterday Captain Cline, of the Lexington, announced that he would meet the Liberty's five cent freight rate and would also cut in two the rate on passage between Wheeling and Matamoras, bringing it down to twenty-five cents. This is about as cheap as "staying at home." To the "anxious inquirer" who wants to know if this includes berths and meals, the answer is an emphatic "no." Efforts to settle the trouble between the two boats have thus far proved fruitless.

River Telegrams.

OIL CITY—River 2 feet 7 inches and stationary. Clear and mild.

WARREN—River 17 inches. Cloudy and cold.

GREENSBORO — River is frozen. Cloudy and warmer.

PITTSBURGH—River 5.7 feet and rising at the dam. Weather clear and warm. The following named boats are laid up here: Adam Jacobs, Lorena, Ben Hur and towboats Clipper, Tornado, Heatherington, Ark, Pacific No. 2, Hunter No. 2, W. G. Horner and Cyclone.

STEUBENVILLE—River 5 feet 5 inches and rising. Cloudy and cold. The Little Fred which has been tied up here with tow on account of ice has gone up. The Tornado came down to-day and took up three barges that were tied up opposite this city. Down—Virginia.

PARKERSBURG—Ohio river 8 feet 2 inches and rising. Weather cloudy, with the thermometer at 38. The heavy flow of ice continues. The Little Kanawha is stationary. Passed up—The Oneida. The ice is four inches thick in the upper pool which prevents navigation beyond Elizabeth on the Kanawha. The Liberty, which came down Tuesday evening and has been laying up here since, will start out again about Wednesday morning. She would have left for Wheeling this morning but had to undergo some repairs, ice having knocked off some of the sheathing on her bow.

Appeal for an Extra Session.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 24.—The sub-committee of the Republican state committee presented to Governor Matthews to-day a memorial requesting him to call an extra session of the legislature to enact a constitutional apportionment. The memorial declares that the act of 1865, which is the one under which the next election must be held, is known by everybody, including the governor, to be unconstitutional. The committee carried pledges of a majority of the members of the senate and house that if the extra session is called no business will be transacted except the enactment of the apportionment law.

The governor replied that he would reply formally at an early date.

SIX THOUSAND

Barrels a Day is the Estimated Output of the Weekly Well.

THE LARGEST PRODUCING WELL

Ever Brought in in the West Virginia Oil Fields—It was First Reported to be Doing 100 Barrels an Hour, but Later Reports Put the Hourly Gauge of 250 Barrels an Hour—Great Excitement at Sistersville—Other Southwest Oil News.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 24.—The largest producing oil well ever brought in in any of the West Virginia oil fields came in this afternoon in the now famous region about Wick, in the interior of Tyler county, back from Sistersville. Wick has had a half century of rural peace and listlessness, but the new well will make the place one of the busiest spots in the little Mountain state for some time to come.

The new strike is the well of the Victor Oil & Gas Company and F. B. Conway on the Weekly farm, about six hundred feet northwest of the Kyle gusher brought in two months ago by the Devonian Oil Company, and which has been doing from eighty to forty barrels an hour ever since. But the Kyle and Bullman spouters sink into insignificance when ranged alongside the Weekly hole. The well was drilled into the Big Injun sand early this afternoon and the first telephone message received in Sistersville was to the effect that it was producing 100 to 110 barrels an hour. This was more than enough to set the town on fire, figuratively speaking. Nothing else was talked of on the streets and operators holding territory in the same neighborhood were hugging themselves from sheer joy.

A telephone message received from the Weekly at 7 o'clock to-night stated on good authority that the production had increased to 200 or 210 barrels an hour. This news, of course, augmented the excitement here. And when at 8 o'clock another message from "the front" told that the well was still on the increase with the guage showing an hourly output of 250 barrels and increasing every hour, the excitement knew no bounds.

This wonderful well will be the cause of greater activity in the interior of Tyler county than has been experienced at any time in the southwest fields. In fact, many operators have been waiting for the Weekly well to come in before drilling on their leases in the same vicinity. A number of rigs are up and drilling will be started at fifteen or twenty wells immediately and a hundred and one others will be started as soon as material can be put on the ground. During the past week the cold weather made the hitherto muddy roads fairly passable but the return of warmer weather will make the roads as bad as before with a return of the difficulty of getting well supplies out to the front.

Teams are being brought to Sistersville from Wheeling, Bellaire and many other places along the river. Two horse teams command from $9 to $12 a day and more needed than there are available.

The Victor company's well located on the Thomas Smith farm in the same territory as the Weekly is being closely watched and should reach the pay soon.

Sullinger & Matson's well on the Archer farm, out near Middlebourne, reached the sand to-day and filled up a thousand feet with water without a show of oil and it is thought to be a duster.

Mr. Harter's Funeral.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, Feb. 24.—Funeral services over the remains of Hon. M. D. Harter will be held at his late residence on Park avenue West, in this city at 2 o'clock p. m. Wednesday. A number of people well known in political life are expected to be in attendance at the funeral.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My is now well and I have been greatly benefited otherwise. I have increased in weight and am in better health. I cannot say enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. H. BLAKE, So. Berwick, Me.
