

CAUGHT THEM UP.

The Grand Jury of the Criminal Court Yesterday

DID A VERY GOOD DAY'S WORK.

Bringing in 410 Indictments, 348 of Them Being Against Saloon Keepers who Took Out the Short License of $100—The Emblems Get It Again for Renting Houses for Immoral Purposes—Largest Presentment Ever Made—Other Court Matters of Interest.

The grand jury of the criminal court was called yesterday morning in the criminal court and Judge Hugus, as required by law, called their attention to the infractions of law they were bound to consider, whether presented to them by the prosecuting attorney, or of their own knowledge. The jury was composed of the following gentlemen: W. B. Simpson, foreman, William Smith, D. M. Thornburg, James G. Frazier, John V. Gavin, H. F. Behrens, R. B. Battelle, L. A. Lallance, B. Gartner, Peter Erb, W. A. Wilson, Joseph Spedel, John Waterhouse, W. S. Foose, N. W. Beck, and John Troy.

An evening paper in a sensational article in regard to Judge Hugus' charge, sought to leave the impression that the judge had some ulterior motive in charging the jury in reference to the conduct of primary elections. The paper was wrong in all of its intimations. The judge is specifically required to do this by the statutes. It was no unusual occurrence at all, but for the sake of a sensation the incident was tortured into a shape to suit the paper referred to.

As intimated exclusively in the Intelligence yesterday morning, those saloon-keepers who have been selling on the $100 license and dispensing whisky in violation of the law, were rounded up in great shape, twenty-eight of them being returned to court with counts ranging from one to seventeen, but the larger number being thirteen each. It was understood that the grand jury returned the thirteen counts in the majority of cases so as to cover the amount of license lost to the state. The minimum fine is $10 and the maximum $20 and costs. The maximum fine will cover into the state treasury the $350 for the past year that it ought to have received.

The following saloon-keepers were returned as selling whisky and other drinks of like nature on the $100 state license, each getting thirteen indictments: Isaac Bogard, Mary Klives, J. P. O'Malley, Frank Albinger, Charles Oberman, William Fette, Michael Stein, Charles Selbst, Patrick J. Gavin, B. F. Stuba, James Sternagle, Emil Junkinckel, Hinkleman Bros., John C. Bishop, Dorothy Bunch, Harry Knook, T. F. Porter, Henry Shodder, Joseph Marshall, Fred Knott, Menge & Howley, Ed. Miller, Joseph Michael, James Scroggins, Lewis Becker.

John Scward got one indictment, William Knook fourteen, George Grubb fifteen, Eberhard Hoffreuter, seventeen. There were ten true bills returned against Elizabeth and W. T. Embien for renting houses for immoral purposes. Indictments for felonies were returned against Edward Zane, John Rice and Edward Payne.

The misdemeanor list is rather a conglomerated one and includes the women who preside over houses of immorality as well as those who, technically, were "found loitering" in such resorts. The list is as follows: John Mitchell, John Lowell, Harry Jones, Grace Early, John Henry, John Schell, J. C. Hancock, Curtis H. Henson, Maud King, Jennie Williams, Blanche Mosgrove, Clara Brown, Charles McCammon, J. A. Weaver, J. H. McBride, J. W. Jones, C. Lee, May White, Flossie Spring, Kitty Wilson, Jessie Woods, Ella Miller, Nellie White, May Lee, Georgia Frank, Maud Smith, Ida Headley, Lucy Belmont, Kitty Lee, George Watson, George Fisher, James Parker, David Schweitzer, Jessie Monticello and Stella Woods.

There were only fifteen indictments returned as not true bills. They were Besale Ladurie, Maggie Conroy, and twelve against John Segward.

It was 7:20 o'clock before all the indictments were read to the court and the grand jury discharged with the thanks of Judge Hugus. The court then took a recess until Wednesday morning.

Mr. Thomas Howley called at the Intelligence office last night and stated that he had not been a member of the firm of Menge & Howley, indicted by the grand jury yesterday, for over a year, and consequently claimed that so far as the finding of the grand jury was concerned, he was not liable for any of the consequences.

In the Circuit Court. Before Judge Fugill in the circuit court yesterday Mr. Nelson C. Hubbard was admitted to practice law on the motion of Mr. J. J. Coniff.

In the case of Melville D. Post vs. W. M. Carr, the mandate of the supreme court, sustaining the judgment of the lower court, was entered.

In the case of C. P. Whitham, guardian vs. Laura May Smith, and others, the petition to use a portion of the infant's property, was granted.

Woman Attorney Admitted to the Bar. Yesterday Mrs. Agnes J. Morrison appeared before Judge John A. Campbell.

Bank

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

Neuralgia

In one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache.

In the circuit court, and, on the motion of Mr. Guy R. C. Allen, was admitted to practice in the courts of the county. Mrs. Morrison is the first woman ever admitted to the Ohio county bar, and there is no doubt but that she will prove to be a shining ornament to her sex. Mrs. Morrison graduated from the law school of the West Virginia University, last June, with high honors, being the first lady to complete the course in that school. She was admitted to practice law in the state by Judge J. M. Hagans, at Morgantown. She is a lady of broad culture, and is sure to make her mark in her chosen profession.

Assistant Deputy Clerk. Yesterday Mr. A. J. Wilson, who has been connected with the circuit court clerk's office, was appointed deputy clerk of the criminal court, by Judge Hugus. Mr. Wilson has been an accommodating and faithful official, and will be a valuable addition to the force of the criminal court.

Prisoner Discharged. Thomas Gross was discharged from custody yesterday by Judge Hugus on account of his inability to pay his fine. He was sent up for petit larceny.

In the Circuit Court. Before Judge Fugill in the circuit court yesterday Mr. Nelson C. Hubbard was admitted to practice law on the motion of Mr. J. J. Coniff.

In the case of Melville D. Post vs. W. M. Carr, the mandate of the supreme court, sustaining the judgment of the lower court, was entered.

Along the Landing. The marks at the public landing at 5 p. m. showed 5 feet and stationary. Weather clear and warm.

This morning's Cincinnati packet is the popular Keystone State. She has big engagements all along the river.

The J. C. Risser, a Pittsburgh tow boat, broke her shaft below Parkersburg. Yesterday she passed up in tow of the B. D. Wood, for Pittsburgh, where she will be repaired.

Captain Crockett, of the Wheeling wharfboat, did not get an opportunity to see Captain Kerr, of the Virginia, on her last trip up, as the boat passed Wheeling at 1 a. m. Captain Crockett has therefore written Captain Kerr, requesting him to name the best day the Virginia will arrive there, if she intends to make two trips a week to Cincinnati.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

The packet Lexington made a flying trip down to Parkersburg on Sunday, where she went on the dry docks and had a new stem-band put in place. She injured the old one in the accident at the public landing here last winter during a run of ice. Coming up the river Sunday evening the Lexington did some fast running, her average time from Parkersburg to Matamoras being eight and one half miles per hour.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Seals Down Out-Item, and Makes Some Suggestions for Increase of Revenue. The council committee on finance met last evening and held another session over the appropriations to be made to the various city departments for the ensuing year. The only item that was scaled since the last meeting was that of the contingent fund, which was chipped off $1,000 worth. But the committee still found themselves $4,000 in the hole.

A resolution was adopted recommending to council that the assessors be required to assess the property of the telephone and telegraph companies in the city. By this means the committee hopes to get a fair additional revenue. It was also the sense of the committee that all vehicles should be taxed. In the informal discussion that followed the virtual adjournment of the committee a proposition was considered to impose a license on all breweries doing business in the city. It was stated that the home concerns were perfectly willing to stand the tax. If a Wheeling brewery extends its trade into Ohio it is required to pay the regular wholesale license, but foreign breweries can come into this state without paying such license. It is fair treatment to all, and in the line of protection to home industries. The committee finally adjourned to meet again on Thursday evening.

MOONSVILLE

A Miscellaneous Melange of Minor Matters from Marshall's Metropolis. The board of education will meet tomorrow evening in regular monthly session. The teachers for the next year will be appointed. Up to this time there have been about twenty-five applications received. Another important matter to come before the board will be the adoption of an order authorizing the holding of an election for the issuance of $3,000 additional bonds for the purpose of having sufficient funds to complete and furnish the new building, which is now in progress of erection. It is believed the order will be ratified by the voters without opposition.

The Epworth League will hold a business meeting on Thursday evening. Among other matters to come before the chapter will be the selection of delegates to the district convention to be held at Cameron on the 21st and 22nd of this month.

Ellsworth Jones, for many years a resident of Moonsville, died on Sunday night of brain fever.
