BOWLING.

In the Pittsburgh Times, the Charles Kirner bowling club, of this city, issues a challenge open to all comers, on behalf of a bowler said to be the Philadelphia crack, Linn, for a game of regulation alley for $50 to $500 a side.

WHEELING, March 11.—Sporting editor, Times: Mr. W. C. Handlan, jr., of this city will post a forfeit of $25 with either your paper or the Wheeling Intelligence, to bind a series of match games between a Wheeling bowler and the bowler backed by the Charles Kirner bowling club, of your city, as soon as the identity of the challenger is disclosed. Kindly wire the name of the challenger.

The Wheeling bowling club issues the following counter challenge: "The Wheelings will play a series of games with any club in western Pennsylvania or eastern Ohio, three games on each of the home alleys and the deciding ones, if necessary, on neutral alleys, for a stake of $100 to $500. A forfeit of $25 has been posted with the Wheeling Intelligence, which can be covered by the club or club accepting. The details of the completed later. Teams to be composed of five players."

Early this morning the following was received: PITTSBURGH, March 11.—The Sporting Editor, The Intelligencer.—The Auditorium Bowling Club, of Pittsburgh, will accept the individual challenge and will consider the club challenge at a special meeting.

has no equal as a remedy for coughs, colds, and lung diseases. Where other soothing elixirs palliate, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral heals. It is not a cheap cough syrup, which soothes but does not strengthen; it is a physician's cough remedy, and it cures. It is put up in large bottles, only for household use. It was awarded the medal at the World's Fair of ninety-three. It has a record of 50 Years of Cures.

of thinking ever held in the state. The club is making great preparations for the affair and as it never does things by halves it is sure to be the success anticipated. There will be an even dozen events each and to the prizes of all of them there has been money added by the citizens of the city, and there will not be an event that will not be worth going in as all of the purses will be worth considerable money, aside from the records which are expected to be made. In all of the events of the two days there will be $150 added money. The shooting each day will commence as soon after 9 o'clock a.m. as possible and will be continued during the day until all of the events have been decided. One of the most enjoyable and interesting events of the two days shoot will be the team contest, between Sistersville and Parkersburg, on the afternoon of the first day. While there is no prize offered for the best work in this contest, it is believed that there have been some big side bets made by the members of the two teams.

THE BIG EVENT.

The construction of the Marquis of Queensberry rule given out by Referee Siler continued to be the chief topic of conversation among sporting men at Carson City yesterday. The general opinion is that it will require a conference of the representatives of Corbett and Fitzsimmons with the referee to settle the matter. It is not likely that Julian and Fitzsimmons will agree to anything at the present time. They have said repeatedly that the desire no agreement on the right to strike with one free hand and in breakaways until the men are in the ring, and it is likely they will continue to hold that view. At the same time it is very doubtful if either of the fighters will be willing to announce how he really feels in relation to the matter. Both Corbett and Fitzsimmons are too chary of giving the other the advantage to make known what they actually wish in the matter of close fighting, for fear that the other side will strenuously object to anything proposed. Fitzsimmons has said one reason for not agreeing to hit with one arm free and in breakaways is that Corbett can practice these things from now until the date of the fight. As a matter of fact Corbett has been practicing just that sort of thing ever since he went into training. He paid particular attention to hitting with one arm free, and it was in that manner that he floored big Jeffries Monday afternoon. Corbett declared yesterday that he knew Fitzsimmons would never agree to Siler's proposal, for the reason that it was just what he wanted above everything else and was fearful if he agreed Corbett would object.

Corbett, Charley White and the other trainers at Shaw's Springs have had a long conference over the matter, and the opinion of the members of the Carson City club was to be given in a reply to Siler which Corbett promised would be forthcoming in the afternoon.

Siler said that it was immaterial to him how the men fought so long as they agree on a definite plan of combat. "All I want is an agreement," he said, "and I care nothing for the nature of it. I am merely trying to adjust matters so that I shall not be called upon to decide upon a foul. That would be the most unsatisfactory termination that could possibly be reached, and I am trying to lessen the danger of such a decision being called for."

Fitzsimmons decided yesterday morning to change his hours for regular work, and instead of doing it in the afternoon hereafter will take the hardest kind of exercise in the morning. He took his usual run to Carson yesterday morning and went through his hard work immediately after the return to Cook's Ranch.

Corbett started out for a run at an early hour and by noon returned after making a ten mile trip. He went into handball court for an hour and then took a rub down. The champion looks in excellent condition, and from the present indications will enter the ring lighter than in any fight he has ever fought. Talk of fighting under 170 pounds is nonsense. The chances are he will tip the scales at 185 and maybe over by a few pounds. To all appearances he is heavier than when he began to train, although the matter is to his physical make-up has altered very much for the better.

Fitzsimmons will not be more than 130 or 140 pounds under Corbett. From now until the day of the fight it is likely Fitzsimmons will take on a few pounds. He is carefully guarding the secret of his weight and will not open his mouth when the subject is under discussion.

The first pool room in town opened last night and bets will be made on the fight. There is little doubt Corbett will be a strong favorite odds running about 5 to 3. William A. Brady stands to lose quite a sum if Corbett goes down and it is said that he will back him still more before the day of the fight. None
