"WHEELING DAY"

At the State Fair Next Week will be an Occasion of

MOST PATRIOTIC SIGNIFICANCE

IT IS PROPOSED TO MAKE THIS DAY OF THE BIG FAIR A PEACE CELEBRATION—THERE WILL BE FLAGS AND BUNTING GALORE, ALSO A PROBABILITY OF SPEECHES ON THE GROUNDS. WORK OF ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FAIR.

Usually Thursday, "Wheeling Day," is the day of largest attendance at the annual West Virginia state fair in this city, and this year, if the plans of Secretary George Hook do not go amiss, it will be a record breaker among record breaking days.

Secretary Hook's idea is to make the demonstration on Thursday patriotic from start to finish—he would have a universal display of flags and bunting in Wheeling and surrounding towns; would have the Greater Wheeling community show that it is at once patriotic and loyal not only to flag and country, but also to the greatest fixed institution Wheeling possesses—the great state fair.

In this connection, it has been suggested to Mr. Hook that the time is ripe and the occasion opportune for turning "Wheeling Day" at the fair into a peace celebration for this community, and it is likely that the management of the fair will act favorably upon the suggestion. It would not be amiss to arrange for one or two speeches by well known speakers. These addresses could be made from the judges' stand on the track, and addressed to the people in the grand stand, which is always crowded on "Wheeling Day."

The entries in the several departments of the fair are coming in now in a stream that will not cease until entries close on Saturday. Miss Anna Reymann and a committee of assistants, will be located on the grounds on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, to receive entries in the women's, children's and art departments. Prof. W. H. Anderson is also located on the grounds, receiving entries in the educational department.

Friday and Saturday will be busy days on the grounds. The track will be shaped up and the finishing touches will put the grounds in excellent condition. Some of the larger exhibits will begin to arrive to-morrow. In machinery hall there is much active preparation. Superintendent E. M. Holliday has his plans laid for a more suitable method of arranging exhibits. Visitors to the machinery building will find many instructive exhibits there.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Matters of Minor Interest in and About the City.

George Crawford was arrested yesterday for drunkenness.

To-day is a city pay day. The firemen, policemen and city officials will receive $8,149.

Mary Jackson was arrested yesterday by Officer Holmes on the charge of prostitution.

Mills No. 4, 5 and 6, of the LaBelle were laid off yesterday on account of the men not being able to work in the intense heat.

The attachment case of William Wolvinton vs. the Eastern Tea Company, was dismissed yesterday upon the defendant's paying claim.

On the charge of obtaining money under false pretences, C. Ed. Rinehart had entered a plea of guilty. Yesterday in the criminal court, Judge Huges sentenced Rinehart to serve thirty days in jail and pay a fine of $50.

Milton Fry, of South Chapline street, met with a serious accident yesterday. He was driving a load of hay through a gate and was caught by a board above the gate and badly crushed. He was taken to his home in a helpless state.

Many tickets are being sold for the "American Boy" entertainment at Wheeling Park, and the boys expect to raise a goodly sum for the patriotic purpose of giving to the national government the battleship, "American Boy."

Howard Kline, a former clerk at the Pan Handle office, was buried yesterday from the home of his father, Rev. W. H. Hayden, former pastor of the First Christian church, assisted Rev. C. M. Oliphant in conducting the burial services. The remains were taken to Wellsburg for interment.

Yesterday morning, in the criminal court, Judge Huges sentenced George Emblem to eight years in the penitentiary for the Hieuer robbery. A stay of execution for forty-five days was granted, and it is said Colonel Arnett will appeal. On his former trial, Emblem was sentenced to five years in the "pen."

Mrs. Louise Echenberg swore out a trespass warrant against George H. Welshar and the case came up last night evening. Mr. John O. Pendleton appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. M. F. Dryden for the defendant. Squire Dunning gave a decision for the plaintiff, but the case was compromised before the parties left the office.

In another column the opening of the select school of Misses Jane Best and Laura Cooper, at 1318 Market street, formerly Mrs. Hart's school, is announced for September 12. Miss Best is now at the Ohio Normal University, of Ada, and Miss Cooper is at Philadelphia, taking summer courses in the studies in which they will instruct. Both ladies are well and favorably known, and will no doubt maintain the high standard of the school.

Squire Rogers has received an order from the pension department which requires the widows of soldiers to bring their pension certificates with their vouchers and two witnesses who can write their names. The witnesses must be from the neighborhood in which the pensioner lives. They must know that the children are alive and with their mother. All soldiers and widows must bring their pension certificates or their vouchers will not be signed on pension day.

O. R. Wood, traveling passenger agent of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railway, is at Mackinac and northern Michigan points, and while there is locating the best fishing and health points, securing special hotel rates and adding several desirable features for the special excursion he will arrange for over the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling and the Detroit & Cleveland, leaving here September 6. He will be at his office, McClure House block, on and after Saturday morning, to give full particulars of this fine trip.

A PAN HANDLE WRECK

Below Wheeling Junction Last Night That Was Not So Serious as at First Reported—Two Passenger Trains Delayed. Late last night a report was in circulation in the city to the effect that there had been a bad wreck on the Pan Handle road, just below Wheeling Junction. Happily, the wreck was not serious, and beyond the holding up of two passenger trains did not affect the traveling public. It seems that a freight train was being backed upon the main track at the Junction at 8:15 p. m. Through someone's fault the safety switch was not thrown and seven cars were derailed, obstructing the main track. Nobody was hurt. The 9:30 p. m. train out of Wheeling for Steubenville was held up by the blocking of the track, and the train due here at the same hour was also unable to come through on time. The Wheeling yard engine and a coach were sent up to the scene of the wreck, and came back at midnight with the passengers, mail and baggage, the transfer being made as quick as possible.

LOYD RELEASED.

Purvis' Assailant Fined $7.40 by Mayor Neisinger—Purvis Refused to Prosecute Wounded Man's Condition is Still Serious.

The exclusive publication in yesterday's Intelligencer of the shooting affair in West Bridgeport created a sensation in the over-the-river town, which has not abated yet, and on the contrary was increased by the action in the municipal police court taken by Mayor Neisinger, who fined Joshua Lloyd $7.40, and on payment of the fine released the man. This action was all right so far as it went, for the reason that the wounded man, Robert Purvis, declined to prosecute his assailant. However, the condition of Purvis is serious and unless there is an improvement soon and assurance of recovery, it is known that the state authorities will issue a warrant for Lloyd, charging with intent to kill, and rearrest him to await developments.

G. A. R. Daylight Special to Cincinnati via Pennsylvania Lines.
