

YOM KIPPUR

The Jewish day of Atonement Observed Last Evening.

EVERY INSTRUCTIVE DISCOURSE BY RABBI LEVI LISTENED TO BY A LARGE CONGREGATION LAST NIGHT—THE DAY OF ATONEMENT SERVICES CONTINUE TODAY—HARVEST HOME SERVICES AT THE ENGLISH LUTHERAN AND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES YESTERDAY.

Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, which was ushered in at sunset last evening, was observed with appropriate services at the Synagogue last night. A large congregation was present, quite a number of Gentiles attending, and Rabbi Levi's remarks were interesting and closely followed.

The Day of Atonement is prominent among the Hebrews as an occasion for the bestowal of gifts to the poor and needy. The charity feature was significant at last night's services, offerings being taken for the needy and also for the support of the City hospital, which as is well known, is a non-sectarian institution, and liberally patronized by the local Jewish congregation.

Rabbi Levi said that the prophets were the first reformers, and people in this day were too prone to believe that the reforms now enjoyed were of late date, but the spirit that gave stimulus to these reforms dates back to the earliest days of the Jewish calendar.

Mr. Maloney then expressed in language that was quite forcible his indignation over the demagogues who would make political capital out of the conduct of the war by a Republican administration.

Congress of Mothers. WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—A congress of mothers, under the auspices of the national organization, will be held in Omaha October 8, 9 and 10, by invitation of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition.

Religious work, the usual Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon meetings will be conducted.

The Y. M. C. A. work will continue to be as attractive as ever. The entertainment schedule is as follows: October 17, Alexander Black's Picture Play; November 22, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Labadie; December 9, Lowell's Boston Stars; January 19, Dr. Duncanson MacGregor; February 9, Wallace Bruce.

HARVEST HOME SERVICES Held in Wheeling Churches Yesterday. The decorations.

Harvest Home services were held at the English Lutheran and Presbyterian churches yesterday, and attracted large congregations to all the churches.

At the English Lutheran church, the quarterly communion service, and the baptism of six children, were conducted in conjunction with the morning service. In the afternoon the Sunday school children rendered a splendid program of recitations and songs.

First, Second and Third Presbyterian churches. Last night, Rev. R. R. Biggs, pastor of the Third Presbyterian, and Rev. J. H. Little, of the United Presbyterian, exchanged pulpits.

Crippled by Rheumatism.

Those who have Rheumatism find themselves growing steadily worse all the while. One reason of this is that the remedies prescribed by the doctors contain mercury and potash, which ultimately intensify the disease by causing the joints to swell and stiffen.

Everybody knows that Rheumatism is a diseased state of the blood, and only a blood remedy is the only proper treatment, but a remedy containing potash and mercury only aggravates the trouble.

S.S.S. For The Blood

being Purely Vegetable, goes direct to the very cause of the disease and a permanent cure always results.
