ABOUT HUMORISTS. A humorist is a man who succeeds in getting a joke onto an editor. Humorists are not numerous, says Judge. They would be even less numerous if they were not so hard to catch...

OUT PINCHOT, OUT! It is talked around that Gifford Pinchot, chief forester of the United States, will have to go on account of the dallinger imbroglio. And here comes in the dazzling beauty of politics. Why should Pinchot go, granting that he does? The country generally believes that Pinchot is an honest man, and it knows that he has been a faithful official in protecting the forests, the mineral lands and the streams against the ravages of maulrauding corporations...

Jesus Christ which are worthy the devout attention of every man whether Christian or sinner, bond or free. Dr. Abbott says: "I do not know whether Christ would be a total abstainer or not, but I am very sure that He would not confound total abstinence and temperance. He would not think that total abstinence from one form of indulgence is self-control. He would not teach that a man who eats pie until his face is as soft as pastry, and who drinks coffee until his face is as yellow as coffee ought to be called a temperance man because he does not drink beer..."

HIGHWAYS IN THE WEST. Use of the Automobile by Farmers Aiding the Improvement Movement. Road improvements in the west, already noticeable to a slight degree, are sure to follow when the farmers of that section awake to the realization of their condition as compared with some of those of the east. Nothing will arouse the farmers to this so much as the use of the automobile, and it will be the more general use of the car by the farmer that will result in better roads...

resistance to breakage and to traction, at the same time furnishing elasticity to compression which enables it to stand superficial shocks. A brick of ferro cement one and three-fifths inches thick has supported during crushing tests a pressure of about sixty-five tons to the square inch. In breakage tests the resistance was quadruple that of ordinary cement. Resistance to wear was no less remarkable.
