SO FAR as numbers were concerned, amateur night at the Hipp last night was a failure, as only three features were secured. We are not counting Rastus and his Dutch friend, (you can't blame us for forgetting his name, he did it himself last night). These two boys were very much in earnest, and attempted a mysterious trick, and they almost got away with it, but Schlitz overestimated his capacity, and Rastus asked a fool question, and the act was just literally ruined. Well, boys, keep coming back, you may be amateurs some day. Ed Jenkins of the East side as a musician, furnished most of the fun in the amateur division. Some of his illusions were pretty well done, and a lot of fun resulted. The Hayes brothers also of the East side, put on a boxing bout that was entirely too game an affair to represent the East side. There are surely two East siders who can put up a better scrap than that. Why did they leave Harry Shaw out, for instance? Billy Knute who came to Fairmont with the Darktown Folks last winter, was in for a dancing bee, but he did not have an understanding with Dick Grady, the pianist, and after giving only an inkling of what he could do bowed himself off the stage. We hope he comes back next week, for he is really a clever dancer, and last winter set the house wild with his dance number. Tonight is the first showing of "The Man from Mexico," and it is said to be a very lively affair. Plenty of comedy, snappy song and dancing and pleasing costumes that are bound to get you, are all promised by Billy Malone.

William S. Hart Today.

Nelson is announcing the big six reel Hart picture "The Bargain," for today. A Fatty Arbuckle comedy on the same program ought to make a good puller for the popular theatre, "Fatty in Coney Island" is the title of the comedy.

Comedy and Drama.

Billy Rhodes as a high flying hero is in the drama "In Search of Arcady" and Smiling Bill Parsons in a comedy number is the entertainment the Princess is offering today.

Double Bill at Dixie.

Very much like the other movie bills in the city today, is the offering of the Dixie. A good drama, with a comedy for a chaser is advertised. Fanny Ward is featured in the drama "Our Better Selves," while the comedy is a Harold Lloyd production.

CLOSE UPS.

Ruth Dale has a little surprise this morning. Hubby came to town without so much as even sending a postal card. She lets on she is just tickled to death. Wonder if she is?

We can easily overlook Esther Brand's losing step in the chorus last night. She was scanning the audience for the face she loves best of all, and it was there, too. Her mother, Mrs. J. J. Brand, of Morgantown, came in the B. & O. way last night. Mrs. Brand is a cousin of Lloyd Sample, printer, and formerly resided in this city.

The Story Lady

Peter felt that he should be very happy. But he wasn't. In fact he was very, very unhappy. He had been spending the summer with his grandpa and grandma and had a very good time.

Then his father and mother and all the kids had come through the country in an automobile and he realized how much he had missed them all and how anxious he was to get back to the gang.

And now much to his surprise and disgust they were talking about not taking him home with them. His grandfather had said something at the table about it, one day. His argument had been that as long as the lieutenant had come and married Aunt Grace and taken her away with him that it was no more than fair that Peter should stay with them. Papa had looked at mamma and smiled and said that it suited him all right and Peter supposed the matter closed.

Once papa had said something about teaching Peter to drive the car on the way back and Peter's heart jumped for joy. But grandpa had said, "Oh, don't you remember Peter is not going back?"

"I forgot," said papa smiling, and Peter's heart sank to his toes. "Peter was very quiet for several days and mamma thought he had eaten too many peaches and gave him a dose of castor oil. This was the last straw and Peter spit the medicine on the floor. Refusing to take another dose he took refuge in the hay loft. Here his father found him, tear-stained and worn out with much crying. Peter really expected a thrashing but his father took him in his arms and Peter sobbed out a whole story. "It's a shame," said papa. "I supposed you knew we were just joking. Your mother hasn't really been happy since you have been gone. And we came a whole week earlier than we intended to because we were all so anxious to see you. We came on purpose to get you and we aren't going back without you. Is everything all right now?"

Peter nodded. For once he was too happy to even talk.

WOMAN'S CROWNING GLORY

Paris and London Stage Beauties Set New Styles in Coiffures.

PARIS, July 31—Leave it to woman; lovely woman, to startle mankind when wars and revolutions fall!

This time it's in the manner of arranging "woman's crowning glory". Three distinct and bizarre effects have been achieved by three stage favorites and are being copied by the women of Europe.

The "Fly-Away" coiffure has been introduced by Miss Jean Willoughby, English stage beauty. It is the bob-bed hair, without a single confining ribbon, bandeau or hairpin to restrain its fluffiness.

In Paris Mlle. Josy Deminse, a foot-light favorite, has adopted a still more bizarre effect of bangs held in place by a broad bandeau, with a high topnot behind. The hair completely covers the forehead and touches the eyebrows.

On the other hand, Mlle. Joclyn, another favorite of the Parisian stage has introduced a style of hairdressing that aims at the utmost simplicity. There are few faces that can stand the hair combed straight back from the forehead, but Mlle. Joclyn has adopted this style, and obtains a most striking appearance as a result.

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

Returned Home Today.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hite and daughter, the Misses Louise Lucile, Helen and Eleanor returned home this morning from Atlantic City where they had spent the past four weeks. They were accompanied home by Miss Florence Hudson, of Montgomery, Ala., who had been at Atlantic City for some time also and she will be their guest. BARRACKVILLE.

Blackberry Time. There has been a great scrambling and scratching after blackberries for some time. Pickers are about as numerous as berries, and scratches more so.

On the Sick List. Mrs. Myrtle Steele and son, Harold, Mrs. Edgar Wilson, Mrs. C. L. Clayton and T. F. Conaway have been on the sick list for some time, but all are convalescing—some able to be out.

Soldiers Returned. Boys who went from this place to the United States Army service and have been in Europe for more than a year, are returning home one by one. Recently Corporal Lloyd E. Moore, of the 28th Engineers, returned, and last Sunday evening Eddie Ice, of the Fifth army, returned to this place; and last evening James E. Moore, of the 21st Field Artillery, landed home—all looking and feeling well. They all saw hard and dangerous service and their friends, as well as they, are glad they are back in the good old United States in good condition.

Postcard Shower. Hon. Wm. B. Ice reached his fiftyninth mile-stone on life's journey the 28th and was remembered by his friends (of whom he has a host) with postal cards. He is not enjoying very good health at present.

Citizens Protest. The advance in street car rates between Barrackville and Fairmont is not likely to net the company any gain in the end. The citizens are holding meetings to devise a protest or some other and cheaper and more reasonable rates of travel between the two places.

Autos a Menace. Automobiles on our main thoroughfares have become so numerous, especially in the evenings, as to make it almost dangerous to travel the road a-foot. Some "speed fiends" who go through at a rate of thirty-five to fifty miles an hour do not lessen the danger any. They seem to want every citizen to see how fast they can run. There ought to be some way to stop such reckless driving. We purpose on getting some license numbers and turning them in to the proper authorities to see what effect that will have.

Back to Charleston. Eld. Ira C. Moore, who has been at home from his ministerial work in Charleston for some time to meet his boys on their return from Europe, informs us that he will return to the state capital tomorrow, August 1st, to resume his work there. He is purposing to hold a meeting in a tent soon.

Notes and Personals. Eld. J. F. Ice, who spent last Sunday at Earnshaw in Wetzel county, preaching the gospel to the people there, and visiting his wife's people, returned home Wednesday evening.

Mr. Wells and "Ridge" Sturm have each built a new house in Barrackville.

Harry Conaway, our former postmaster, now has a Ford car and is a knight of the road. Harry is a very genial sort of fellow and will make friends wherever he goes.

Corporal "Pat" Murphy, of Company 7, 28th Engineers, who recently returned from Europe, was visiting his comrade, Corp. Lloyd E. Moore, and talking over their war experiences on Wednesday evening. He has engaged to go to Texas to work in the oil field, his occupation before entering the war service in 1918.

Mrs. Mary Boggess, of the East side, and Mrs. W. J. Rice and son, Arthur, were visitors at the home of Elder Ira C. Moore last Sunday. Mrs. Rice's husband, W. J. Rice, formerly published a religious journal styled The Gospel Echo in Palatine, now First ward, of Fairmont. He died suddenly in Atlanta, Ga., less than two years ago.
