A UNION MENACE.

Nonattendance of Members a Serious Handicap.

DRAG ON UNITED EFFORT.

Nothing is More Important to the Toiler Than the Welfare of His Trade Organization—Union is Strong or Weak as Membership Wills.

Some recent court procedure, while aimed at the very existence of the trade unions, will nevertheless be productive of good if it impresses on the individual member his responsibility for the acts of the union irrespective as to whether he was or was not present at the meeting at which certain action may have been taken. The stay at home element is the greatest drag on trade union effort. The trade union is the most important society with which the wage earner is affiliated. It is his bread and butter organization. Under our present wage system it fixes the conditions under which he works and the money return for his labor. Nothing can be more important to the toiler from an existence standpoint than the wage and conditions under which he labors, for these directly affect the enjoyment of life and the pursuit of happiness.

Radicalism used in its worst and destructive sense means the ruination of the trade unions and the consequent and sure deterioration in conditions which have been established by trade union effort under the trade union system. It may be and possibly will be that the disintegration of the trade unions will be a cause for additional social unrest, but it is also asserted that with this additional social unrest will then depart the most effective weapon for the satisfaction of its legitimate aims.

The hypocritical member of the trade union, the smug and contented member, the member with the idea that he is socially superior to his environment and his fellows, the self-centered member—in brief, the short sighted and unwise member who absents himself from the meetings of his trade union—is directly and surely aiding the disciples of radicalism to achieve their masked desires.

Remember that you are responsible for your union and its welfare. You cannot shirk that responsibility. The union is what you and your colleagues make it. It can and should be a powerful engine for justice for the wage earner. The wage earner's future is in his own hands. He must work out his own destiny. He has an instrument ready at hand in his trade union for his elevation to a higher and better sphere. He must use that instrument with care and discretion.

Do your duty to yourself and those dependent upon you.

Attend the meetings of your union. That many of the evils of which we complain—nearly all of the misunderstanding and a great proportion of the unfounded criticism would be eliminated if we had a better attendance at union meetings is an opinion formed by me as a result of many years of trade union experience, both as a member of a local union, an officer of that union and an officer of the international organization. The men and women who get to the union meetings understand the policies that are being made effective and, as a general rule, are well satisfied with the progress that we are making. But whether they are satisfied or not they know what they are talking about, for they have the facts first hand. In a number of our local unions the rebate system of dues is in effect and seems to be giving satisfaction, or at least brings about a large attendance of members. But whatever method may be adopted, if it will result in more members at the meetings it is bound to be a source of strength to the union. We want intelligent criticism, and we want suggestions that are based on knowledge and experience. This criticism and these suggestions will come in greater proportion of wisdom if the members first learn of their local union and their international organization from attendance at local union meetings.—James M. Lynch, President International Typographical Union.

Miners Get Wage Increase.
The miners of the Missouri lead belt have settled their differences with the operators and returned to work. They get an increase of 25 cents a day. It is estimated by the operators and miners that the wage increase will amount to $600,000 a year. The new scale of wages will remain in force for a year, and before this scale can be changed each side must give thirty days' notice.

DEMAND THE LABEL.

A demand for the label is an expression from the one demanding it that there is a principle behind it with a meaning as deep as the sea.

The union label on the finished product is absolutely the only guarantee one can have that the goods were not made by Chinese labor, in a sweatshop or in a penitentiary. Every time a demand is made for the label you are building up an organization that might be a tower of strength in time of need.

Your persistent demand for the union label will assure a living wage to the worker.

BOLDNESS.

Write on your doors the saying wise and old, "Be bold, be bold!" and everywhere "Be bold!" Be not too bold, yet better the excess Than the defect; better the more than less; Better, like Hector, in the field to die Than, like a perfumed Paris, turn and fly. —Longfellow.

SLEEPING TREE FOUND.

South Sea Island Palm Blooms Only Once in Fifty Years.

San Francisco.—A specimen of the rare "sleeping palm" has been found in Golden Gate park, probably the only one in the United States. Curator Barron discovered it as he was walking in the park with his young son. The tree, which was brought to this country forty years ago by the famous Australian botanist, William Robinson, gives out a peculiar aromatic odor.

Barron smelled the tree, whose upper branches were laden with beautiful rainbow-hued flowers giving forth heavy perfume. It was found that the tree, which had originally been brought from one of the south sea islands, belonged to the species Coccoloba somnolula, or sleeping palm, which blooms only once in fifty years and the flowers of which were formerly used as a drug by islanders.

NEW SUN SPOT THEORY.

Professor Orta Says Spots Decrease as Comets Approach the Sun.

San Jose, Cal.—Professor A. Orta of the observatory of the University of Santa Clara announced that he had discovered that the activity of the sun in phenomena known as sun spots was intimately related to the distance of comets.

He said that during a period of 164 years to date there had been 238 comets (their returns included) that apparently had influenced the action of the sun, having their perihelia coincidentally with the minima of spot frequency.

DIVINING ROD CONGRESS.

Efficacy to Be Officially Tested in Germany.

Halle.—A congress to test the efficacy of the divining rod in discovering deposits of potash and coal, subterranean caves and water streams opened here under official sanction. Delegates from the United States are in attendance, and the members include the president of the province of Saxony and other provincial municipal and university officials.

The divining rod has long been the subject of serious official consideration in Germany.

ELECTRIC FISH HOLD UP STEAMSHIP

Become So Thick on Plates That Engines Are Powerless.

Boston.—Quite a strange story was told by the crew of the British steamship Rochele, which reached port four days late from Santo Domingo. According to the several men on board, the delay to the freighter was due principally to electric fish, which were attracted by the steel plates of the vessel and fastened themselves by the hundreds against her bottom and sides.

The vessel was in the gulf stream north of Cuba when she began to slow down. The Rochele is new, and her engines were working splendidly. Some of the sailors said they felt a tingling sensation about their feet and finger tips. A few of the crew, more superstitious than the others, began to be alarmed.

The coal supply began to diminish rapidly, for the stokers were kept busy shoveling fuel into the furnace in an effort to increase the speed.

Every part of the vessel was examined to determine the cause of the delay. Finally one of the sailors happened to look over the port side and found it covered with strange looking fish. They were two or three feet thick along the port side under the water. The starboard side also was covered.

As the Rochele moved north and got out of the gulf stream the fish dropped off and the vessel resumed her customary speed. The coal supply, however, had run so low that Captain Greig made for Norfolk, where the bunkers were refilled.

PARCEL POST AND "C. O. D."

No Packages Not Ordered Can Be Sent That Way.

Washington.—The postoffice department announced that merchants who ship goods that have not been ordered by parcel post "C. O. D." will be investigated by the department. All charges on such packages must be prepaid.

"Easy money operators and confidence men cannot use the C. O. D. feature of the parcel post," said John C. Koons, chairman of Postmaster General Burleson's committee on the parcel post.

Chinese Wedding Custom.

San Francisco.—New wedding ceremony for Chinese has been devised. It conformed with the ancient custom in that bride and bridegroom had never seen each other before, but had the "obey" left out.

He Got His Tip.

An old fisherman used to bring him a splendid salmon the first of every month, and he always gave the fisherman a tip. One morning he was very busy, and when the old man brought the fish he thanked him hurriedly and, forgetting his tip, bent over the desk again. The old man hesitated a moment, then cleared his throat and said, "Sir, would ye be so kind as to put it in writin' that ye didn't give me no tip this time, or my wife 'll think I've went and spent it on rum."

A Lesson In Thrift.

A lesson in thrift is found in the advice given by a New York congressman to a young man for whom he had secured a minor appointment in the capitol at Washington. Meeting the young fellow in the capitol, he placed a hand on his shoulder and remarked to him:

"William, you are just beginning your life. Let me give you a bit of sound advice: When you leave your boarding house in the morning never take more than 20 cents in your pockets, enough perhaps for your luncheon and for car fare. You will then not be tempted to spend more than you can afford."—Yonkers Statesman.

One of Wales' Wonders.

The tower of Wrexham church (St. Giles') is one of the seven wonders of Wales. It is 135 feet high, and fifty-two stanzas adorn its niches. It was completed in 1606, although the church itself was erected in the reign of Henry VII. The church contains pictures from the brush of Rubens, and one of Rubilliac's sculptured masterpieces in the memorial to Mrs. Mary Myddleton, showing a female figure standing from the grave at the sound of the last trump. In the churchyard are many quaint epitaphs.—Cardiff Western Mail.

MAKING OTHERS HAPPY.

Is there any happiness in the world like the happiness of a disposition made happy by the happiness of others? There is no joy to be compared with it. The luxuries which wealth can buy, the rewards which ambition can obtain, the pleasures of art and scenery, the abounding sense of health and the exquisite enjoyment of mental creations are nothing to this pure and heavenly happiness, where self is drowned in the blessings of others.

Change of Heart.

Parson Primrose—Why do you think it was out of place for your father to say grace? Freddie—Because it was only a few minutes afterward that he was swearing over having to carve.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Labor Saving Device.

"Do you know, Sam, that a man does not have to do as much work now as he did ten years ago?"
"Yes, sah; I know it, sah. Why, I've been married nearly eight years, sah!"
—Yonkers Statesman.
