WILSON GAINS VICTORY IN FOOD BOARD ELIMINATION

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Yielding to the urgent request of President Wilson, senate and house conferees on the food control bill today eliminated the provision for a food board of three members instead of a single administrator and consented to make one more effort to agree regarding the provision creating a war expenditure committee of congress.

The conferees had reported an impasse on the two proposals when the president intervened and there had been indications that a final disagreement might be reported. Tonight the war committee section, written into the bill by the senate and strenuously opposed by the president, was the only remaining problem. The committee will meet tomorrow with the prospects strong that the senate members will yield to the president on this point also.

Before today's meeting, the president conferred at the White House with Representative Leaver, leading the house members, and Senator Chamberlain, the administration's senate spokesman, and earnestly insisted upon one-man food control and elimination of the earlier created the expenditure committee. Within an hour after reconvening the senate conferees yielded on the food administration section, adopting the original house provision for appointment by the president of an individual administrator, not subject to senate confirmation.

The agreement was reached by a bare majority of one. Four senators, Chamberlain and Smith of South Carolina, Democrats, and Warren and Kenyon, Republicans, voted against the senate provision for a three-member board. Senators Gurn and Smith of Georgia, Democrats and Pace, Republican, voted against receding. The house conferees, Republicans and Democrats alike, stood solidly for one-man control and also are united on striking out the congressional supervision committee.

Success of the food administration, President Wilson told the conferees leaders, largely depends upon its management by one man. He said a larger board would "seriously interfere" with successful conduct of the war. There were persistent but unconvincing reports that the president felt opposition of either the three-member board or the congressional committee would be sufficient cause for a veto.

Reception by the senate of the provision for an individual food administrator is uncertain, although Democratic leaders expect the conference report to be accepted. The senate voted twice, 63 to 19 and 60 to 23 against accepting an amendment for one-man control. Further applied debate will be held in the senate when the food administration is expected when the report is presented.

In yielding on the food administration section, the senate conferees agreed adoption of a new section providing for a board of three members, one of whom would be the president of an agricultural college to fix wheat prices based upon the standard procedure by congress for next year's crop of not less than 12 per bushel for number 1 spring wheat.

HAZEL-ATLAS CO. NEW BUILDING IS SCENE OF BLAZE

Wood Stacked About Furnace in Basement Taken Fire Consumed in Sharp Morning Fight.

Fire broke out in a lot of wood piled in the basement of the Hazel Atlas Glass company's new building on Nineteenth street about 1:45 o'clock this morning. The Atlantic and Eleventh street departments extinguished the fire with chemicals and a little water before it had gained sufficient headway to damage the building to any extent.

Box 34 at Nineteenth and Jacob streets was pulled, summoning the Chemical, Atlantic, Hook and Ladder and Niagara departments. The recall was not sounded for about twenty-five minutes.

Firemen had not been able to determine early this morning what started the blaze. The new building for the Hazel Atlas Glass company is only partially completed, and a lot of wood was stored about the furnace in the basement.
