YOUNG GIRL ENTICED FROM HOME

Rescued by the Wheeling Police and Returned to Her Relatives in Pittsburgh.

THE ABDUCTOR UNDER ARREST

Here and Held as a Fugitive From Justice—A Prosecution Will Likely Follow.

Shortly before midnight, Saturday, a telegram was received by Night Lieutenant Dan Ingram, at the Wheeling police headquarters, stating that a man would arrive on the Pittsburgh train of the Baltimore & Ohio, having with him a thirteen-year-old girl, whom he had enticed from her home, in Pittsburgh. The train was stopped opposite the city building, where it was boarded by the officer, and the man and girl taken off. The man, whose name is E. T. Taylor, and a former resident of Wheeling, showed resistance, demanding to be shown the warrant under which the officer was acting, but Ingram simply replied: "Come on; no bluffing," and Taylor was forced to comply.

The story, as extracted from the girl, was to the effect that Taylor, who had been working in Pittsburgh, boarded at the home of her step-mother, and soon ingratiated himself into her good graces. He said he owned a chicken farm near Benwood, and wanted the girl to come there with him and keep house, which the latter, being dissatisfied with the life of drudgery she followed at home, was nothing loath to do. Saturday afternoon they left the girl's home, and went to Kauffmann's, where the man bought his companion a long skirt that she put on over her short dress. Then they boarded the train for Wheeling, and as the familiar scenes of home faded from view the girl came to realize what she had done and began to cry. Mr. Ferguson, a man from Little Washington, for whom Taylor had worked, and who knew that he had a wife living at Washington, was on the train, and seeing the state of affairs, endeavored to induce the girl to leave Taylor at Washington, remain with his wife Saturday night and go back to Pittsburgh Sunday morning. The girl was overjoyed to find an avenue of escape from Taylor, and readily agreed, but when the train pulled in at Washington, Taylor forcibly detained the girl on the train. The disturbance attracted the attention of the passengers, who expressed the greatest indignation, and there was some talk of forcing Taylor to allow the girl to go with Mr. Ferguson, out before anything could be done the train pulled out. At West Alexander, the conductor, Captain Ellery, telephoned to Chief Clemans, and the result was the arrest of Taylor upon the arrival of the train here.

When the Wheeling officers had learned the details of the scrape Taylor was put in the lock-up and Mrs. John K. List, president of the Humane society, was called up at 1 o'clock, and requested to take the girl, which she did readily.

Yesterday morning, Chief Clemans communicated with the Pittsburgh authorities, and the result was the expression of a determination upon their part to prosecute Taylor, and a request that Chief Clemans take the girl back to Pittsburgh, which he did, leaving on the afternoon Baltimore & Ohio train. The girl was disinclined to go, and wanted Mrs. List to provide a home for her in this city, which she was willing to do, having formed a high opinion of her, but after a consultation with the chief it was decided that she should be returned to her step-mother. Extradition papers will likely be issued in Pennsylvania for Taylor, and in the meantime he will be held here as a fugitive from justice.

The name of the girl in the case is Mary Loybel, whose home is at No. 232 Taylor street, Pittsburgh.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Attempted Early Sunday Morning on the South Side by James Raymond and C. M. Wheat—The Men Captured by the Police.

Early Sunday morning, near Will Irwin's drug store, on Chapline street, South Side, two men, whose names, according to the police department record, are James Raymond and C. M. Wheat, made two attempts at highway robbery, but were captured by Officer Conrad. They held up John J. Miller, a young man employed at Pollock's stove factory; about 1:30 o'clock, and nearly choked him into insensibility, but Raymond begged his companion to desist, and in the confusion the police officer came upon the scene, and placed the pair under arrest. It is also alleged that they assaulted an old man, in the same part of the city earlier in the night, and made an unsuccessful attempt to relieve him of his watch. The old man's name and whereabouts were not known to the police Sunday afternoon, but the officers were hunting for him. A charge of vagrancy was placed against the pair, and a further charge of attempted highway robbery will likely be placed against them this morning.

A Stolen Rig Recovered.

Chief Clemans received a letter from R. Grennen, of Wampum, Pa., telling of the theft of a horse and buggy from him last week by an old man, named Willis, about sixty years of age, who was in company with a boy, and asking that an effort be made to locate the stolen property. The rig was soon located at Sigwart's stable, where it was left several days ago by Willis, who then skipped the town for parts unknown. Chief Clemans telegraphed Grennen yesterday afternoon, and he will be here this morning to enter his claim for the property.

The Police Docket.

The docket for this morning's police court is a generous one, and Mayor Sweeney will have his hands full in dispensing his article of justice. The docket is as follows: Bill McKee, wife Raymond, Officer Brandt; James Raymond and Charley M. Wheat, attempted highway robbery Saturday night, by Officer Conrad; H. Edmonson, disorderly conduct and resisting officer, by Officer Michaels; Dave Russell, disorderly conduct and drunkenness, by Officer Walker; E. T. Taylor, of Pittsburgh, with Lieutenant Ingram, charged with abducting a little girl from Pittsburgh; Tommie Ryan, drunkenness, by Officer Walker; William Lewis, disorderly conduct, by Officer Pritchard.

BELMONT CENTRAL UNION

Meets in Regular Session in Bridgeport and Transacts Routine Business—Bellaire Printers Placed on Unfair List.

The Belmont Central Trades and Labor Union met in regular session at the Bridgeport opera house yesterday afternoon, with President Jones in the chair. This organization formerly met at Bellaire, but the meeting place has been changed to Bridgeport, on account of this being a more central point and more convenient for the delegates of Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry.

The report of a committee on out-lying was outlined, and the report of the special committee on music was received, after which both of these committees were discharged.

The arbitration committee reported that the parties in dispute refused to talk. It was moved to receive the report, and George Floto was placed on the unfair list.

The organization committee reported that the printers of Martin's Ferry and Bridgeport had been organized. This committee has been working zealously for some time past for this object, and the entire assembly was elated at their success.

A communication from the Bellaire printers was read, which stated in effect that they were unorganized, and had no charter. A committee composed of Messrs. Crouse, Hicks, Danford, Smith and Curtis was appointed to confer with and endeavor to persuade the business men of Bellaire not to patronize the printers of that place.

A communication from the Steubenville Union was read, and a motion to receive and file was carried. The secretary was ordered to make a reply to this communication.

A communication from the striking Maryland miners was read, and Delegate Purcell spoke at some length, describing the conditions existing there. Messrs. Davis and Stephenson, both of the miners' committee, made brief remarks, after which a motion was made to receive the communication, and each delegate take the statement back to locals and see what can be done in the matter. This was later amended to the effect that the secretary be instructed to notify the delegates.

The various bills incurred by the committee were read and referred to the picnic committee. A date for the labor day picnic was discussed and referred to the same committee.

The former president of the union was present, and made a brief address, urging the members to work together, and take a livelier interest in the work of the body, after which they adjourned until the next regular meeting, two weeks hence.

Tongaline

TRADE MARK

"In the fall of 1899 I had a severe attack of muscular rheumatism which settled in my right arm and shoulder. Tongaline was highly recommended to me and I determined to give it a thorough trial. I took six or eight teaspoonful doses daily, diluted in water, with plenty of hot water and inside of two days was relieved to such an extent that the pain had almost entirely left me. By continuing the treatment a short time longer I was thoroughly cured and I am gratified to state that there has been no recurrence of the trouble. Since then I have frequently recommended Tongaline to friends suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. and I have yet to hear of a single instance where it failed to cure the disease."
