THE DANCING CARNIVAL

At the Opera House Last Night By the Pupils of Parker Academy

Was a Complete Success — One Hundred Children Participated in a Programme of Fancy Dances to the Intense Delight of an Audience Which Completely Filled the Theatre—The Programme.

An unique and very pleasing entertainment was given at the Opera House last night by the pupils of the Parker Dancing Academy. It was a carnival of dancing, in which one hundred bright faced misses and masters participated, to their evident pleasure and to the delight of their parents and friends. The programme was arranged by Prof. Parker, and in the admirable manner in which it was carried out great credit is reflected upon Prof. Parker. Few persons, with the exception of parents of the young folks, had any idea of the wide range covered by the instruction at the academy, or the degree of proficiency attained be the pupils. The audience filled the theatre. Each number upon the programme was well received and many of the performers were rewarded with handsome bouquets of flowers. The programme follows:

WAS MURDERED.

The Mutilated Body of a Young Man Found in a Cistern—The Alleged Murderer Under Arrest.

MEMPHIS, May 20.—The mutilated dead body which was found Monday evening in an old cistern on the truck farm rented by Frank Parora, has been identified. The murdered man is Ernest Stanley, the 19-year-old son of a wealthy merchant of Tuscumbia, Ala.

Frank Parora, an Italian truck farmer, is under arrest and must at his trial battle against a strong chain of circumstantial evidence, which points to him as the perpetrator of the murder. From indications Stanley, a handsome youth, enjoying the first flush of young manhood, was cruelly murdered while he lay asleep in the Italian's house, and his body thrown into the cistern by the murderer.

Parora admits striking Stanley, but says he did so because Stanley, with a pistol in his hand, was trying to rob him. He says Stanley dropped his pistol when he struck him, and that he (Stanley) then ran and fell into the well.

Pillsbury's

New Health Flour . . .

GERMOS

Germos flour is manufactured after a special process known only to ourselves, and is guaranteed by the Pillsbury-Washburn Flour Mfg. Co. It contains a wealth of phosphates, over four times as much as ordinary flour, and is therefore a great brain nourisher.

As a strength-giver it is twice as good. It embodies all the nourishment of wheat, and that is all that is necessary to anybody. It contains all the malt extract and pepsin of the wheat germ, and therefore is very easily digested.

Germos is as good a health flour as Pillsbury's Best is a white flour; that is the best that can be said of it.

Germos is something you ought to try.

Put in Another Day Upon the State Constitution — Two Amendments Proposed by Toler.

Special to the Register.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 20.—The Constitutional Committee was engaged for a considerable time to-day in hearing the reading of communications from citizens from every section of the State, numbering fifty or more.

Mr. Baker, from the special committee appointed to draft resolutions respecting the death of Senator Hyde, reported the same, which were taken up and adopted. Mr. Hansford offered a resolution directing the chairman to appoint W. S. Downtain, of Putnam, a committee clerk to serve in the place of W. E. R. Byrne, heretofore appointed, but who is temporarily absent. The pay of this committee clerk, which has been heretofore $4 per day, was reduced to $3 per day. The resolution was then adopted.

Mr. Toler offered two amendments to the constitution, one providing for the disfranchisement of voters who sell their votes, and another providing for at least one member of the House of Delegates from every county.

The amendment submitted at the former session providing for the removal of county and district officers, was taken up. The vote on its adoption being taken, it was defeated.

A ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

Don Jose I. Barrillas and Miss Kate Kinsey, of San Francisco the Principals.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Don Jose I. Barrillas, the 19-year-old nephew of the ex-President of the Guatemalan republic, and Miss Kate Kinsey, the 17-year-old daughter of C. C. Kinsey, of this city, who have been engaged for the past six months, despite the objections of the young lady's parents were married by Capt. J. Selovich on board the tug Vigilant outside The Heads on Monday last. The romantic affair would probably have remained a secret longer had not the departure of the young bridegroom for Central America par the steamship City of Sydney yesterday brought matters to a crisis. Young Barrillas is reputed to be very wealthy in his own right.

DESTROYED.

The Randolph County Court House. at Beverly, Burned Last Evening. Fear That Records are Damaged.

Special to the Register.

ELKINS, W. Va., May 20.—The Court House at Beverly, built four years ago at a cost of about thirty thousand dollars, caught fire about six o'clock this evening and was almost destroyed. There are many valuable records in the vaults, which were considered defective, and grave fears are entertained for their safety. A special train left here immediately, carrying fire apparatus, but arrived there too late to be of any service. No other property was damaged.

THE CITY HELD LIABLE.

Vancouver, B. C., May 20.—The first of the trials arising out of the tramway disaster at Point Ellis bridge, Victoria, last May, has been concluded. The jury decided that the city is liable for the disaster. The plaintiff, Mrs. Gordon, whose husband was killed, was awarded $10,000 damages. Judgment was given to the tramway company with costs. A great many other suits, based on similar grounds, are pending.

A FORCIBLE AFFIRMATIVE.

The other day Manager Wardlow, of the telegraph office in Brazil, took a telegram which read:

"Miss ——, will you be mine?"

It was delivered to the proper party, and soon she came tripping into the office to wire her reply. It read:

"Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes."

Ten words, you see, and she paid her quarter, then tripped out of the room with the sweetest kind of a blush.—Indianapolis Sun.

A HARD ACCUSATION.

"Strange story that of the Georgia girl who carried a splinter in her foot forty-four years, and then had it work out in a petrified state."

"Petrified, did you say?"

"Yes."

"I'll bet anything the girl was originally from Boston."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MISSED HIS OPPORTUNITY.

Richard—"I understand that old Griffin has given his consent to your marriage with his daughter. Was he good-natured about it?"

Robert—"Yes, confound it! He was so good-natured that I couldn't help wishing that while I was about it I had asked for something valuable."—Boston Transcript.

A GRAND SUCCESS.

"If a Christmas present is to be judged by the element of surprise it contains, Mrs. Hunker's gift to her husband was a grand success."

"What did she present him with?"

"Triplets."—Judge.

GOLD AND SILVER.

The Two Metals Should Go Hand-in-Hand Always—A Letter from Hon. William Jennings Bryan.

Denver, Colo., May 20.—The following reply to an invitation to attend the International Gold Mining Convention has been received from the Hon. William J. Bryan:

"LINCOLN, Neb., May 17.

"To Irwin Mahon, Esq., Denver Colo.

"My Dear Sir:—Your favor at hand. It will not be possible for me to attend the convention called in the interests of gold mining, owing to the fact that engagements already made cover these dates. I thank you for the invitation, and trust that the convention will be successful in arousing a greater interest in both gold and silver mining. I do not think that the interest of the two metals should be separated even in convention.

"Yours truly,

"W. J. BRYAN."

Mahon immediately sent another letter to Mr. Bryan, explaining that the convention is to be in the interests of mining generally, and not in the interest of monometallism, and assuring him of a sincere and hearty welcome from the people if he should find it possible to attend.

A MUD FOUNTAIN.

Another Great Natural Curiosity Added to Southern California's List.

San Luis Obispo, Cal., May 20.—About 7:30 last evening residents of the country adjacent to Moro Bay were startled by a report which begun like the low rumble of thunder and ended with a somewhat louder blast. A few days ago a similar report was heard and a mud geyser appeared in the small arm of Moro Bay, just opposite the town site of El Moro. This geyser has formed a small island, which for a week past has been the wonder of the people of the country and has been visited by a great many. Following the report last evening a second geyser sprung into existence about 200 yards distant from the first, and a litlte farther inland. This last geyser is an exact counterpart of the one formed last Friday night. It is only a short distance from the shore and people who gathered there could plainly see the small island of dark mud and sand which had been formed. Like the eruption of last Friday night the surface of the second island bears evidence of having a small crater, from which large quantities of the blackest mud are slowly arising.

BENWOOD.

John Gibbons is in a serious condition with a sore arm. A short time ago he ran a fish hook into his left hand. Since then blood poisoning has set in and there is a probability that one of his fingers will have to be amputated.

The wife of George Huggins, of Marshall street, is very low with a cancer and is not expected to live. The family moved to Benwood from Steubenville recently.

Doctors Eskey and McDonald will go to Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of the B. & O. surgeons.

The coal diggers have not failed to get their share of the general reduction made at the Wheeling Iron and Steel Company's plant at Benwood.

There is not a department of either of Benwood's two big manufacturing plants that have not been reduced in wages since the election.

The Benwood base ball club will cross bats with the Mozarts of Wheeling on the Riverside grounds next Sunday afternoon.

A second break took place in the blowing engine at the Wheeling steel works yesterday, but was patched up without causing the mill to close down.

HER AMBITION.

The family clergyman was softly patting the little curly ringletted head, as he listened to the fond mother's praise of her child's rapid advance through the vale of knowledge.

"And so you are very fond of going to school?" he questioned the child.

"Yeth, sir, I is," lisped Elsie, in reply.

"And what are you going to be after the school days are over?"

"But they won't be over until I go through college," said the child, "and that will not be for a long, long time."

"To college, eh? A regular little new woman," said the clergyman, smilingly. "And what profession do you mean to study for at college?"

"I wanth to be a lawyer," said Elsie, shyly.

"A lawyer? A woman lawyer," laughed the gentleman. "It is indeed an age of female progress when little girls are already planning to become lawyers. But your father is very rich, Elsie," he continued, gravely, "and you will probably never need to earn your own living. Why do you especially desire to become a lawyer?"

"So I can always be sure of a seat at the breach of promise suits," replied the little one, demurely.—New York Journal.

GAS AS AN ISSUE.

Mr. Sheehan, the Tammany Hall leader, it is said, proposes to shunt "national issues" from the campaign, and even forbid references to them by the speakers at the forthcoming Tammany Fourth of July celebration. Instead, he is going to raise the terrible cry of "Dollar Gas!" Why does he not go further and utter a cry even more stirring for the soul and inflaming to the imagination? Let it be "Free Gas!"—gas free, gratis, and for nothing, with a gas stove and a gas log thrown in.—New York Sun.

SUICIDE.

George A. Taylor, of St. Louis, Prominent in Banking Circles, Ends His Life---Had Trouble With His Wife.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 20.—George A. Taylor, who has been in the banking business in St. Louis for thirteen years and who was known as a man of integrity, was found dead in bed at the Normandie Hotel to-day. An empty bottle labeled "Hydrocianic Acid" and a number of letters showed that he had committed suicide in a most deliberate and dramatic manner. The dead man clasped in his hands the picture of a woman not his wife. Nobody knows who she is.

Taylor was paying teller of the Chemical National Bank. From the origin of that institution until it became merged with the Third National he held the position of paying teller and was retained by the latter bank as assistant paying teller. He remained with the latter until a few weeks ago and on May 1 was employed by the German American Bank as a bookkeeper. The dead man had trouble with his wife, whom he married in Charles City, Iowa, and she entered suit for divorce, later having the case dismissed Mrs. Taylor now lives in Eldora, Iowa, with their child.

The first part of a letter addressed to the landlord of the hotel and written by Taylor was found. It follows:

CHEMICAL NATIONAL BANK,
May 19, 1897.

Mr. Seaver—Kindly notify Mrs. G. A. Taylor at Eldora, Iowa. Tell her the money in the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., in the name of G. A. Taylor, agent, is mine and that she is to have it. There are notes and money in my trunk also, and the German American Bank owes me salary since May 1, 1897. She can call and collect it. The money in the cigar box on the book case belongs to the Northwestern Life Assurance Co., of Chicago. Ask her to notify them and also Missouri Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M., here, and I wish they would—

Mrs. Taylor has been tolfied of the death of her husband.

Mistress and Maid both have their part in the great savings that come from Pearline. Suppose you're the mistress. There's the economy of it—the saving of time, etc., and the actual money that's saved by doing away with that steady wear and tear on everything washed. Suppose you're the maid. There's the saving of labor; the absence of rubbing; the hardest part of the housework made easier and pleasanter.

But suppose you are mistress and maid, both in one, doing your own work. Then there is certainly twice as much reason why you should do every bit of your washing and cleaning with Pearline. 507

SHE WAS ASTONISHED.

An English actress on the voyage across the Atlantic was on deck one day, and saw the man at the wheel receive a violent blow on his head. So much did the sight affect her that she retreated to her cabin and did not again appear on deck until land was sighted. Then she perceived at the wheel the man she had seen knocked on the head. With deep sympathy she asked him:

"How is your head now?"

"West-and-by-north, ma'am," was the answer.
