SUGGESTED

Correspondents must write all proper names plainly. We can guess at almost anything except a proper name and have hopes of being correct.

Long letters concerning unimportant matters will not be published.

Most reporters think they must write a long letter or none. Such make a serious mistake.

If you only have one item and that only makes three lines, send it on and don't try to add a page to it.

Always sign your real name some where.

We want your letters not later than Wednesday.—Ed.

It is reported that an Italian was robbed of $300 on last Monday by a shell man. He was unable to give a very intelligent account of how it occurred, but on Tuesday he swore out a warrant before Justice Fisher and accompanied by a constable he started in pursuit of the show, hoping to get hold of the thief. Not much sympathy is felt for a man who will be caught in such an old and well advertised game. In this case it is claimed that the money was not bet on the game, but was taken out and exhibited at the table when a fellow grabbed the roll of bills and made away with it.—Index.

Without a Mother.

What a thrill of sadness pervades our hearts when we read these words, "without a mother!" Such is the home of Rev. D. M. Simonton, the well-known postal clerk on the branch. Sunday, July 2d, Mrs. Simonton retired as one in perfect health at 10 p. m., and as the silent hour of midnight drew near death came to the bedside and placed his icy fingers upon her. "She sighed and ceased to speak." In less than twenty minutes the household jewel was taken away, heart failure being the cause. The deceased's maiden name was Rebecca Jane Hart, and was born Oct. 15th, 1853. She was married March 4th, 1869, to Rev. D. M. Simonton, was converted and joined the M. P. church in December, 1869.

At 9 o'clock, July 4th, the old Baileytown church bell swung to and fro; but how unlike the peals of the old Liberty Bell, which the day co-memorated. Remarks were made by Revs. Wade, Weese, Bailey, Yoke and Conway at the church, to perhaps the largest crowd that ever assembled there on a like occasion. But words of man can add no luster to her name. The pure life she lived tells the whole story. It needs no comment. She has fallen asleep to awaken to greater joys.

She was the mother of seven children, all surviving her. Mother is dead! But her works still live and will grow brighter and brighter as the years roll on. The friends of the deceased have the sympathy of all. "Grieve not as those without hope."

Stick to it! Sometimes you may have to wait. The troubles that have been years in gathering can't always be cleared away in a day. For all the diseases and disorders peculiar to womanhood, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the surest and speediest remedy. You can depend upon that—but if your case is obstinate, give it reasonable time. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, and a soothing and strengthening nerve, and a positive specific for female weakness and ailments. All functional disturbances, painful irregularities and derangements are corrected and cured by it. All unnatural discharges, bearing-down sensations, weak back, accompanied with faint spells and kindred symptoms, are corrected. In every case for which it's recommended, "Favorite Prescription," is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or the money is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold on such terms. That proves that nothing else offered by the dealer can be "just as good."

SHOCKING ACCIDENT

Mr. Burt Despard, of this City, Narrowly Escapes.

GEORGE FAIRFAX KILLED.

The sad news reached this city on Wednesday of an accident that resulted in the death of George Fairfax, who was well known here and attended Broad-duss last term. He was here on a visit about three weeks ago and attended Broadduss commencement.

The calamity that caused his death happened while young Fairfax was driving in a buggy with B. M. Despard, Esq., of this city. The horse ran away and threw both the occupants out, stunning Mr. Despard, while his companion had his skull crushed and both legs and arms broken. George was about sixteen years old, and was a son of Gay Fairfax, Esq., of Reedsville, Preston county. His parents are prostrated with grief. They had a pleasant home where Mr. Despard was often a welcome visitor.

Mr. Despard is not seriously hurt, and is expected home this evening. Young Fairfax was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

A Wild Boy.

The town of Livermore, Cal., has a wild boy that eats grass, lives on roots and herbs and does all sorts of strange things. For years this wild boy has lived in his father's pastures, and has been as contented as any ordinary mortal would be in a well-furnished and comfortable home. The unfortunate lad has a name and a home, but he does not regard either as much as any rational being would. He prefers to frisk around in his father's grain fields and chase the frightened children of the neighborhood down the country roads. John Worth is the wild boy's name and he is about fifteen years old. His father is Harrison Worth, who lives on a little tract of ground a few miles out of Livermore. The boy has been a terror to the neighbors for a long time. Ever since his birth he has been an imbecile, and all attempts to teach him even the rudiments of understanding have been but dismal failures.
