The library man is said to have gone away happy, a picture canvasser came next and gathered a number of photos and collected 50c. in advance on each one. Then a fellow with an advertising and county directory scheme gathered up several good two dollar bills. Our people are still apparently in a pleasant mood and if there is another fakir in the State he should visit Clarksburg at all hazards. Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage's sermon's will be a feature of the TELEGRAM in a very few weeks. We are making arrangements to give our readers the best thoughts of the foremost American writers. Transfers. T. J. LOCAL LUNCHEONS.

Things you have been wanting to know for a week. Read the new advertisement of D. K. Reed & Co. Remember the dates of the Fair August 22-23 and 24. There was a heavy rain fall at Clarksburg on Thursday. No marriage license granted this week. Take your watch to Robinson's when you need any repairing or cleaning done. Parkersburg comes well to the front this week with sensational marriages, elopements and other connubial inconsistencies. The will be a lawn fete on the grounds of the M. E. church south, next Tuesday evening. Music by the First Regiment Band. Everybody invited. Stewart Brothers have moved the building occupied by Redman Bros., plumbers, several feet and it now stands by the side of the City Hotel. The editor will be pleased to have you hand to some member of the office force a note concerning any local or social event you think important. Rev. B. B. Evans delivered a lecture at Harrisville last Tuesday evening to a large audience on the subject "Across the Continent." The Epworth League of the Methodist church will give a festival some evening during the teachers' institute next week, in the lecture room of the church. All are cordially invited. Mr. James Sinclair died at his residence in Pruntytown, Taylor county, last Tuesday evening. Mr. Sinclair was in his 89th year, and was well known in this county. Prof. A. C. Davis, of the West Virginia Business College, will depart for the World's Fair next Monday for the purpose of seeing the sights and attending the Congress of Business College presidents that will soon assemble in the city of Chicago. The new electric light plant is about completed, and will be one of the best equipped plants in the State. The work of wiring the city anew will be the next undertaking by the company. The new plant will be put in operation about Sept. 1st. The large brick buildings on the corner of Main street, facing the court house, are now being torn down, and the work on the new building for the Merchants National bank, will commence soon. The design selected for the banking building is pronounced very elegant and attractive. The colored people of Clarksburg and vicinity should be proud of the efforts of Rev. G. A. Madison who is laboring so earnestly to make their church meetings and picnics interesting and enjoyable. A very large audience will no doubt be present at the Gypsy Grove meeting of the Mt. Zion church on Sunday. It promises to be a notable gathering of colored people. Prominent orators have been invited and every effort put forth to insure its success. At the regular meeting of Clarksburg Lodge No. 39, K. of P., the following officers were elected: Chancellor Commander, P. J. Ernest; Vice Chancellor, C. H. Towles; Prelate, S. H. Fittro; Master of Work, A. T. Redman; K. of R. and S., Frank Horner; Master of Finance, D. K. Reed; M. of Ex., Chas. Ernest; Master of Arms, James G. Smith; Inner Guard, Chas. B. Chambers; Outer Guard, Clarence Ash; representative to Grand Lodge at Martinsburg, Dr. J. W. Bowcock; alternate, O. Q. Owens. In this issue we commence the advertisement of Messrs Sprigg Taylor & Co., of Baltimore, who stand among the leading exporters of logs and lumber of the eastern cities. Their representative in this part of the State is Mr. J. J. Flanagan, of Salem, who will be pleased at all times to answer questions and visit those having lumber for sale. We are informed from reliable sources that this firm is noted for fair and upright dealing and that they are always ready to pay good prices for first quality lumber.

The TELEGRAM expects to meet the hard times that appear to be coming by making the paper more interesting than ever. Talmage's sermons and Bill Nye's "supreme essence of fun" are already provided for. Articles from several prominent men of West Virginia have also been secured. The outlook for the Clarksburg fair this fall is the best it has been for many years. The well planned improvements, add greatly to the appearance, as well as the accommodations. The new track is the best third in the State and the coming races will undoubtedly excel all former achievements on this track. Why should a business man take in his sign because "business is dull." This is one of the great mistakes many people are guilty of making. The men who have succeeded in business have been those who pushed ahead in times that other people regarded as "slow." The very time you should advertise and solicit trade is when your neighbor has taken down "his sign" and refuses to advertise because of "hard times." Miss Hallie E. Taurman, of this city, was thrown from a runaway horse on last Monday and rather seriously though not fatally hurt. A broken limb and several bruises however will keep her confined to her room many days. She was visiting her former pupil and friend, Miss Ethel Carle, at Volcano Junction at the time of the accident. We are informed that Miss Carle and Miss Taurman were out riding and their horses took fright at a passing train, throwing both ladies. Miss Carle was only slightly hurt, but her companion was not so fortunate. Miss Taurman has many friends in Clarksburg who will regret the occurrence. She was one of the most popular teachers in Broadus and had intended to visit the World's Fair before she returned to this city. D. S. Griffin died at his home on Pike street Sunday July 9th between the hours of 10 and 11 a. m. Mr. Griffin leaves a mother and two brothers John T. and B. F. Griffin both of whom are in the grocery business in this city. Mr. Griffin was born and reared in this county, and has been janitor at the Custom House and post office for the past four years. He was always found at his post and performed his duties to the entire satisfaction of all, until some time last winter, when he was stricken down with typhoid fever. From this spell he never fully recovered but was able to go about town and seemed to be slowly recovering. He was going about as usual on Sunday and his death took place at his home where he lived alone. He was found lying on the floor where he appeared to have suddenly fallen and expired, no one being present at the time. A great many people are some what disgusted with the tactics employed at some of the modern "church festivals." The question of the future is, will people continue to patronize church festivals that practice the "skinning" game? People who attend the vestivals generally expect to patronize them, and as a matter of fact, expect to spend some money before they go away, but the practice of prodding the visitor from the time he enters the room until he leaves, is very disagreeable. It frequently happens that the visitor is asked to invest his money, before he has an opportunity to do so voluntarily, thus leaving the impression that he would not have patronized it at all, had he not been forced to do so. People go away feeling that no one appreciated what they did for the success of the undertaking. Grand Concert. An open air concert will be given next Monday evening, July 17th, at 7:30, by the First Regiment Band in the court house yard. The following programme will be rendered: March, "Crown Prince"..... Bennett Medley, "Black Brigade"..... Deyer March, "Admiral's Favorite"..... Bennett Waltz, "Till We Meet Again"..... Bailey March, "Cocher Guard"..... Bollison Medley, "Hot Goddins"..... Beyer Waltz, "Wedding Eve"..... Southwell March, "Boston Letter Carrier"..... Bennett

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report. Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE. We are glad to report to the many friends of Mr. F. A. Robinson that his health is improved so much that he is now seen walking our streets almost every day. The TELEGRAM has just arranged to begin the publication of the latest productions of the inimitable Bill Nye, one of the greatest humorists in America. These letters will be published the same week they appear in the New York papers. They are copy-righted and can only appear in those papers that purchase the right to use them. A Nectarial Nuisance. Some people call him a "pole cat" but the proper name for the distinguished visitor is "skunk." We say distinguished—any one could easily have distinguished him in any part of Clarksburg last Wednesday night. It was prayer meeting night and it may be that it was hunting a suitable place to worship for he unquestionably "took in" the town. He has been in the suburbs of Clarksburg several days. He has the gall of a kangaroo and the brazen audacity of a government mule. He entered the St. Charles hotel a few days ago and remained until everybody had deserted the place and then he walked leisurely out and down the pavement. Last Wednesday night he was seen by the boys several times and hundreds who did not see him "nosed him." He walks along the street as majestically as a Broadway banker and no person ever presumes to interrupt him. The police are powerless. The "varmint" practically has taken the town and everybody "scoots" when he comes near. He scattered a whole mob in Traders alley and made a lasting impression on Col. Dennis Johnson and several others. We hope for the sake of peace and morality, that he will soon bid us farewell and betake himself to the jungle. City ways don't agree with him and we have had enough of his presence. Policeman Lyon, where art thou? Arise and cast him over the outer wall. Mark The Difference! Speaking of the crowd at Fairmont the day John Robinson's show exhibited there, the West Virginian says: Twelve arrests were made and seven unfortunate were put in the lock-up and held for trial until the following morning. Two or three were charged with fighting—all the others with plain drunks. Mayor Arnett held court nearly all forenoon of Tuesday, at the conclusion of which it was found that the fines imposed aggregated nearly $50.00. In Morgantown the day previous, the circus was here, and there was not a single disturbance and no arrests. Fairmont is a whisky licensed town; Morgantown has no licensed whisky shops. Mark the difference. And yet some people prefer the condition of affairs at Fairmont, "because it makes business." Yes "business" for the police and whisky sellers—nobody else.—Morgantown Post. Clarksburg has "no license" and like our good neighbor, Morgantown, we had an orderly crowd here at the show and at the races on the 4th. The whisky traffic does make business, but for whom except the "police" and "drum seller?" BANK STOCK FOR SALE. We, the undersigned Adm's of J. J. Smith, deceased, will on the 29th day of July, 1893, at the front door of the court house of Harrison county, offer for sale to the highest cash bidder, the following shares of stock.
