LOCAL LAWYER TRAPS PROHIBITION OFFICER

And Stops Trial of Client Who Was Arrested at Grafton on Prohibition Charge.

When Dominick Trimarchi, of Grafton, was arraigned in Magistrate Jackson V. Carter's court Monday afternoon for a trial on a warrant sworn out by J. Walter Bee, charging Tarmarchi with bringing intoxicants improperly labeled into the state, the magistrate, Mr. Bee and the prosecuting attorney were surprised when the counsel for the defense objected to his client, who was arrested at Grafton, being tried on a warrant that was sworn out in Harrison county.

After a few minutes' argument, Magistrate Carter decided that the counsel for the defense was right and dismissed the warrant against Trimarchi and gave him an order for his two packages of intoxicants. When he received his intoxicants Tarmarchi labeled them properly and left for his home at Grafton later in the afternoon.

Mr. Bee arrested Tarmarchi at Grafton about a week ago when he alighted from a train with a suit case and a basket of intoxicants. Tarmarchi had a label on the bottom of the suit case and a label in the basket telling the amount in each container, he claims. Bee brought Tarmarchi to this city and placed him in the county jail and swore out a warrant against him in Magistrate Carter's court and was all ready to try him Monday when Tarmarchi's counsel objected to the warrant.

CLARKSBURG CHILD IS ILL WITH NEW PLAGUE

At the Home of Its Grandfather, James Webster, in the City of Cumberland.

CUMBERLAND, Md., July 17.—One case of infantile paralysis, the disease which is sweeping eastern states in epidemic form, has been reported to the local health department here. Margaret Hummel, two years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hummel, Clarksburg, W. Va., is suffering from the disease at the home of her grandfather, James Webster, 106 Green street, where Mrs. Hummel and her three children, a boy five years old, and an infant baby, six weeks old, show no indications as yet of having been infected. The Webster home has been placed under rigid quarantine by the health department and the authorities do not expect the disease to spread as precautions were prompt.

The child was ill before leaving Clarksburg. A physician there, it is reported, advised a change of climate and Mrs. Hummel, accompanied by her children, came here to visit her parents. A physician, who was on the train on which the Hummel family came here, seeing that the child exhibited symptoms of the plague notified Health Officer Colton who has had the case under observation since they arrived here. It was not until Saturday morning, however, that the case was officially pronounced as being infantile paralysis. Mr. and Mrs. Webster and four sons are quarantined in the house with Mrs. Hummel and children. None is permitted to leave, an officer guarding the house. One side of the child is paralyzed.

Advice--Often Worth Heeding particularly when that advice refers to habits that directly affect one's health and comfort.

Thousands, annoyed by headaches, nervousness, biliousness, sleeplessness, etc.—often due to coffee drinking—have heeded a friendly suggestion to quit the coffee and use

Instant Postum

This pure food-drink is made of wheat, roasted with a bit of wholesome molasses. It has a rich, snappy flavor much like that of high-grade Java coffee, yet it contains no caffeine—the drug in coffee—nor other harmful element.

Freedom from caffeine gives Nature right of way to rebuild and revitalize the mental and physical forces.

There are two forms of Postum: The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum, a soluble form, is made in the cup by adding boiling water—ready instantly. Some prefer one, some the other; they are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.

With most coffee-drinkers the change to Postum marks the start to better health and greater comfort.

"There's a Reason"

Grocers everywhere sell Postum.

Geese, Also Ducks Are Well Up in the Art of Keeping Cool, but Men--

Or at least many men have still much to learn along that line, therefore to call a man a goose on a sultry day might really be a compliment to his reason, and as for being called an old duck, he seldom objects to that, anyway.

Now is the time when some men seek cool clothes as ducks seek the water. At least for our part we have never had such a demand for linen, silk, mohair, palm beach, and other cool fabric suits. Nor have we ever had such a stock to meet that demand.

Suits of all the cool materials range in price from $5.00 to $15.00.
