Chattanooga, Tenn., June 30—The list herewith presented shows the principal new industries located in the Southern States during the week ending to-day, as reported to The Tradesman. Some notably large transactions are recorded. Among these is a $5,000,000 copper company in Oklahoma, a $4,000,000 fertilizer company in Kentucky, a $1,000,000 lumber company in Mississippi, a $1,000,000 coal mining company in West Virginia, and several companies of several kinds in other states capitalized at from $250,000 to $500,000 each. The list of new industries this week is an unusually full one, and yet it must be remembered that mention is only made of those which are considered of the greatest importance. The information contained in this list is an eloquent testimonial to the progressive spirit of the south, and a sure index of its steady and substantial growth.

The new industries for West Virginia is as follows:

Logan—$500,000 coal and lumber company.

Weston—$25,000 oil and gas company.
