HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

HUNTINGTON

Office of the Central Land Company

OF WEST VIRGINIA.

The City of Huntington,

ON THE OHIO RIVER.

The City of Huntington, which is situated on the south bank of the Ohio river, immediately below the mouth of the Guyandotte, having a frontage of nearly four miles on the Ohio, and into lots suitable for residences, and for manufacturing, mercantile and other business purposes, of these advantages which are attracting to it a large population. Some of these advantages are as follows, viz:

(1) It is situated at the head of reliable navigation on the Ohio river, being below the Guyandotte Bar and the numerous other shoals above, which prevent the passage of boats of large tonnage during the summer months; and also below the point where ice prevents navigation in the winter months, and thus has direct and uninterrupted connection with eighteen thousand miles of water navigation.

(2) It is on the line of and near the Western terminus of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, now entirely completed, which as a Great East and West Trunk Line, by reason of its short and easy routes, low grades, and the advantages of economical operations throughout the year, must command an immense through and way traffic and travel between the Western States and the Atlantic seaboard.

The city is now raising on this road from the city of Huntington, east, via Charleston, Kanawha Falls and White Sulphur Springs, to Richmond, in Virginia.

By a railroad bridge to be built at this point, connections will be made to the City of Huntington, and the numerous other shoals above, which prevent the passage of boats of large tonnage during the summer months; and also below the point where ice prevents navigation in the winter months, and thus has direct and uninterrupted connection with eighteen thousand miles of water navigation.

(3) As a manufacturing center, the City of Huntington has advantages which are unequalled at any other point in the valley of the Ohio. It is in the immediate vicinity of the extensive iron beds of Southern Ohio and West Virginia, and the opening of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad will give easy and cheap access to the inexhaustible coal fields of the Great Kanawha and its tributaries, which are known to be superior to all others in the United States for their quantity, and the abundant quantity of the coals which they contain. It is here, also, that the superior quality of the bituminous coal, which proves to be a valuable substitute for charcoal in producing the best quality of pig-iron, is found in quantities and under circumstances that render it available. Here, also, under abundant in great variety and of easy accessibility.

(4) As a commercial center, the City of Huntington will occupy an important position on the Great Trunk Line of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, and its connections will form between the deep waters of the Chesapeake Bay and the great rivers of the West, at the head of reliable navigation, and it will therefore become a natural and convenient point for the interchange of an extensive trade of the great staples of the West and Southwest, and the products of the great manufacturing States of the East and of Europe.

(5) As a place of residence, no more inviting locality can be found than the City of Huntington. In addition to the natural beauty for which the site is remarkable, and its genial, healthful climate, the proprietors have, at great cost, laid out the city upon a plan intended to secure for a large, industrious, and thriving population every possible advantage of convenience, comfort, and arrangement for the gratification of refined and cultivated tastes. With these objects in view, the Avenue and Streets have all been made of sufficient width to allow the cultivation of ornamental trees, and have a abundant room for roadway and sidewalks.

Each lot intended for a residence is large enough to allow space for the cultivation of a garden, fruit trees and shrubbery. On the Avenue, where it is supposed lots will be selected for the better class of residences, lots will only be sold subject to conditions which will forever prevent salubrity in the vicinity.

A system of grades for all the Avenue and Streets has been established upon a plan which can be easily and economically adapted, and which is adapted for perfect drainage and sewerage. In the central part of the city, the State Normal School (Marshall College) has extensive buildings and grounds, where residents will have an opportunity for the education of their children and wards, in the higher branches of learning, at moderate cost, in an Institution of well established reputation.

The prices of lots 20x250 feet vary from $50 to $1,500 each, according to location. These are present prices, but are not binding beyond this date.

The terms of payment are ten per cent, on day of purchase, and the balance within thirty days, on delivery of a deed, or, if purchasers prefer, they may pay thirty per cent, within thirty days from date of purchase, when a contract for a deed will be given, and one half of the remaining sixty per cent, in one year from date of purchase, with interest at six per cent, per annum on the deferred payments, and the remaining thirty per cent, in two years from date of purchase, with interest at six per cent, per annum. If the purchase is made on these terms of credit, a deed will be given when the final payment is made in accordance with the terms stated.

Each purchaser is required to build on the lot purchased within one year from the date of purchase, and to certain specified parts of the city in close conformity to the restrictions against salubrity, and to conform to specified regulations regarding the size and location of the buildings to be erected on the lots.

The intention of these restrictions and regulations is to guard against insanitary conditions of insanitary character in all parts of the city.

The property of the Company embraces many very valuable sites for Factories, Rolling Mills, Machine Shops, Saw Mills, and manufacturing of every description of Iron and Wood.

There is no other place on the Ohio river presenting so many advantages for the successful and successful prosecution, on the most extensive scale, of any of these branches of business as the City of Huntington. The material exists in unlimited supply on the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, and its immediate vicinity, from whence it can be transported to Huntington at a very moderate cost.

Individuals or companies proposing to engage in any of these branches of business are particularly invited to examine the property, and the advantages to be derived therefrom. Liberal arrangements can now be made for securing plots and suitable for the purpose.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad being now open, facilities are being speedily and pleasantly made via Washington and Wheeling to Huntington, for parties from the Eastern and Middle States.

Further information will be given if application is made in person, or by letter, to either of the undersigned.
