WHEELING FIRM TO BUILD COLLEGE HALL

Work on Agricultural Building Will Be Begun Shortly.

WHEELING, March 12.—The R. R. Kitchen company of Wheeling, one of the largest contracting concerns in the state, was the lowest bidder for the construction of the magnificent new agricultural hall to be erected for West Virginia University at Morgantown.

Announcement to this effect was made last evening by Hon. A. Bliss McCrum, member of the Board of Control, who is in the city on official business. The Board of Control, Mr. McCrum announced, has determined to go ahead with the erection of the agricultural building, and it is expected that the contract with Mr. Kitchen will be closed in a few days.

"The erection of the girls' dormitory at the university," Mr. McCrum said, "must be passed up for the time because the legislature has failed to make an appropriation for that purpose at its recent sessions. Owing to the sharp advance in the cost of material and everything else used in building, the appropriation made by a former legislature for university buildings is insufficient to erect both the agricultural building and girls' dormitory. The board has determined to go ahead with the former, and the R. R. Kitchen company submitted the lowest bid."

New bids for the erection of the girls' dormitory at the West Liberty State Normal school will be opened April 6, Mr. McCrum stated. The Bluestone Construction company, which was awarded the contract went into bankruptcy, tying up the work.

"We gave one or two parties interested in the bankrupt company," he stated, "chances to make other arrangements for carrying out the contract of the Bluestone Construction company, but they failed to grasp the opportunity. At the instance of the bonding company, we asked for new bids."

Mr. McCrum's visit to Wheeling concerns a number of matters connected with the erection of the dormitory at West Liberty and with the management of the state prison at Moundsville the coming year.

The teachers, Edward Everet Hale, Neva Fithugh, Hae Yost, Ruth Evans and Bertha Wilson, who have worked so faithfully with their pupils that they have created a real school spirit, not only among the boys and girls, who came under their instruction and influence, but also the parents have responded and co-operated with the teachers. In connection with the regular school work too much cannot be said in praise of the good accomplished by the "Jolly Comers" who have made arrangements at the Normal school to take a large class of girls from 4 p. m. to 6, each Tuesday and Thursday and give them cooking and sewing. This will mean a great deal to the girls who have taken advantage of this golden opportunity. This work will continue for about six weeks.

Miss Meredith, who is employed by the Consolidation Coal company, has done a great deal of good in looking after the health of the pupils. In going from home to home she has done much in the way of interesting the parents in keeping their children in school. She knew each boy and girl by name. They all seemed pleased to see her come to their home or the school.
