

Evening Chat

Magazines and papers,
For soldier boys in khaki,
Soap and towels and tooth brushes
And stogies and tobacco—
Every one that isn't game
To go to war and fight,
And would rather stay at home
And read their magazines at night,
Had ort to take a tumble
To the pleasure it provides,
And let a little sympathy
Gilt underneath their hides,
And loosen up and send a little
O' their cheer to camp,
Where it's cold and bleak and dreary
And uncomfortable and damp,
And where men with hearts as big
As only West Virginians grow
Are worth' fer the order
From headquarters fer to go
And give their lives fer country
And fer folks like me and you,
And it seems to me a mighty,
Mighty, little thing ter do,
Fer you and me to take 'em
Out some papers and tobacco,
And help ter cheer 'em up
And entertain 'em some By Cracky!
THE DEACON.

Sec. Snow Secures Novel Musical Number for State Convention.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., April 17.—Walter A. Snow, general secretary of the West Virginia Sunday School Association, which will hold its thirty-fifth annual convention in Parkersburg May 8, 9, 10, in securing attractions for the great gathering of Sunday school workers, has been exceedingly successful and in doing so he has attempted to emphasize the music as one of the strong features of the convention. That he has succeeded in securing some of the best attractions possible in this connection is shown in the fact that he has engaged Dr. Adam Geibel and Prof. Hall, of Philadelphia, to have charge of the music throughout the convention.
These two men of wide reputation will appear in West Virginia for the first time, and will introduce a feature during the convention that has never before been witnessed in the state. Dr. Geibel, who is a well-known hymn writer and has composed a number of popular secular pieces of music, is blind, but on the second night of the convention will compose a hymn impromptu in the presence of the audience.
He will explain the principles involved in the composition of music, and then will ask some person in the audience to name words of a common and well known church hymn. He will then proceed to write new music to fit the old words. He dictates while Prof. Hall writes, dictating soprano, alto and so on until the end of the verse and does the same as to the bass and tenor. Immediately upon completion of the dictation Prof. Hall goes through, after which Dr. Geibel sings it and teaches it to the convention.
Another great musical feature of the convention will be the Institute Glee club of the West Virginia College Institute, at Industrial, W. Va., colored singers, who will render a program of negro folk songs that is expected to be one of the most enjoyable features on the entire convention program.

TRY IT AND SEE!

Lift your corns or calluses off with fingers! Doesn't hurt a bit!

A noted Cincinnati chemist discovered a new ether compound and called it freezone and it now can be had in tiny bottles as here shown for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone upon a tender, aching corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can just lift it off with the fingers.
No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying freezone or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.
Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened, calluses just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! Seems magical. It works like a charm. Genuine freezone has a yellow label. Don't accept any substitute with the yellow label.

GIRL CAN'T FIGHT, WIG-WAGS RECRUITS FOR NAVAL SERVICE

Miss Lillian Benfeldt Thompson, patriotic San Francisco girl, has hit on a happy idea to bring men into Uncle Sammy's naval militia. With a jaunty sailor's cap on her head and a huge revolver strapped about her waist, she wiggles the naval signals in front of a recruiting station on Market street.
When a crowd gathers she tells the husky young men that now is the time for a display of real American fighting qualities. Many a bold youth, fired by the spell of her eloquence, has signed up for service.
On her first appearance Miss Thompson had an audience a block long. Masculine patriots cheered as a squad of news photographers and motion picture men rushed up to see what the new excitement was all about.
"They won't let me fight, so I'm doing the next best thing—encouraging the men to fight," said Miss Thompson.

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

Guests In City.
Mrs. Edward C. Ferriday and little son, Edward Clinton Ferriday, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., are guests for several weeks at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. U. N. Arnett, on Fairmont avenue. Mr. Ferriday accompanied them here and will return the latter part of the week from a business trip to Pittsburgh.
Watkins-Kelley.
Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Grace Kelley, of this city, daughter of the late Howard Kelley, and William Watkins, which event was solemnized on Sunday, April 3, in Mansfield, O., where Miss Kelley was at the home of a friend on a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins returned here last night and have taken up their residence on Walnut avenue. The groom is a son of the late Mrs. Henrietta Watkins.
Ledsome-Richards.
Floyd B. Ledsome and Miss Dolly Richards, both of this city, were united in marriage on Saturday at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. J. Eddy, of the First Baptist church. Mr. Ledsome is a B. and O. employe. They will reside at Belview.
Six-Shriver.
Charles Six, of Hero, Pa., and Miss Cecil M. Shriver, of Mannington, were united in marriage Saturday at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. C. D. Mitchell, of the Central Christian church. They will reside in Hero.
Mrs. Frank Barnes will entertain the T. A. S. club on Thursday afternoon at her home on the East Side.
Choral Society Tonight.
The Fairmont Choral society will meet tonight at seven o'clock for rehearsal at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.
To Give Play
"Our Busy Ladies' Aid Society" is the name of the play which the Ladies' Aid society will present on Tuesday evening, May 1, at the Miller school auditorium. The play is of a humorous nature and will be participated in by eighteen members of the society and several men of the church. The cast for the play will be announced later.
Why Do You Worry?
To worry shortens life. Like anger, it reacts and poisons the system. The federal health service has taken worry so seriously that it has issued a bulletin warning the American people against the danger of worrying and the blessing that comes to those who are active members of the glad-hand society.
Logical.
A Roumanian scientist says that old age is due solely to a decrease in the amount of water in the human system. That sounds reasonable. Were you ever acquainted with a fish who died of old age?

MRS. JOHN CARNEY IS BURIED TODAY

Services at Home of J. M. Hartley and Interment at Woodlawn.

Funeral services over the body of Mrs. John Carney whose death occurred on Sunday were held this afternoon at half after two o'clock from the home of her son-in-law, J. M. Hartley, on Quincy street.
Dr. H. G. Stoetzer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which the deceased had been a member for many years, conducted the service. In his remarks he paid a high tribute to the memory of the deceased dwelling on her faithfulness to the cause of Christ which she espoused in her early youth and to the service which she had rendered humanity during the long years of her useful life. A quartette from the Presbyterian church choir composed of Mrs. Charles W. Waddell, Mrs. Forest Fankhouser, Lamar Satterfield and L. H. Randall, rendered three hymns, "Lead Kindly Light," "Abide With Me," and "Asleep in Jesus." There was a profusion of floral tributes.
At the conclusion of the services the body was conveyed to Woodlawn cemetery where it was laid at rest beside the body of her husband whose death occurred twenty-five years ago. The pallbearers were two grandsons, E. F. Hartley and H. J. Hartley, a grand son-in-law, H. O. Greer, two great grandsons, Jos. M. Hartley, Jr., Jos. Hartley Greer, and a nephew, Harry F. Smith. Among friends and relatives here for the funeral were Henry Sharp, of Buckhannon; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shook and Mrs. Johnson, of Pittsburgh.

Medical Society To Meet Tomorrow

For the purpose of considering a number of matters of vital interest to the general public the Marion County Medical society will hold a special meeting on Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building and it is desired that all the members of the organization will be present.
The matters to come up for consideration are the proposition to establish an X-ray laboratory at Cook hospital, the establishment of a department of Massage Hydro and electric therapeutics at the hospital and the matter of providing a special nurse for the treatment of infantile paralysis.

Guy Fleming Will Haul U. S. Mails

Guy Fleming, who operates a garage on Washington street, secured the contract for screen wagon mail service between the post office and the Baltimore and Ohio depot in this city. Mr. Fleming was one of the twenty-five who bid for the service. The contract was awarded to him and he took up his new duties at once.

The government asked for bids on this service some weeks ago but when bids were submitted it was evident
