W. V. U. WINS FROM PENN. STATE TEAM

Game Was a Slugging Match From Start to Finish.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 12.—Pennsylvania State was defeated by West Virginia university here yesterday afternoon in a heavy hitting game, 12 to 11. Both teams batted hard, but West Virginia managed to bunch her hits a little better than the home team. The Blue and White was compelled to use three pitchers, Grawley being the most effective. Freddie Welsh might try meeting Howard Drew on the straightway for the lightweight title.

There's an Indian fighter down in New York. The noble red man has fallen pretty low. Next thing he will become a rasser.

Arguing with an umpire is about as satisfactory as playing poker against a cold deck.

If some of the ballplayers who are getting hurt by falling on their arms would only fall on their heads or some other worthless part of their body the managers would be better satisfied.

RESULTS! THAT'S WHAT JONES DEMANDS

HE GETS RESULTS

HE FURNISHES THE BRANS

FIELDER JONES

By PAUL PURMAN

Early this spring, while the ball clubs were still in their training camps I ventured a prediction that the St. Louis Browns would have to be seriously considered in the 1917 American league race.

At least three managers in the circuit took exception to this prediction, figuring the Browns could not possibly finish in the first division.

Since that time I have watched the Browns successfully maul the teams of two of these managers and expect to see the performances repeated on the outfit representing the third before very long.

At the time the Browns were at Palestine they did not look like a great ball club. They don't now, but they look like a winning ball club, which in the long run is just as good.

The club is made up of a heterogeneous combination of ballplayers, a few great ones, a few mediocre, some rookies, some players who had been turned back to the minors as not good enough for other clubs, molded into an organization which is now playing about the fastest and brainiest game in the league.

There's no secret about it, but the answer is Fielder Jones.

Jones is a peculiar chap. He is gloomy by nature and a grouch by cultivation. He is upstage. He is not at all happy. His ballplayers don't like him, but they respect him and they work for him, and that's all he cares about.

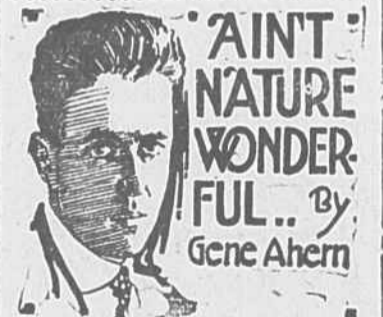

There's no secret to Jones' success. He has baseball brains and he gets results. His men play brainy baseball because he furnishes the strategy.

He is uncanny with pitchers and 917 will give him at least two great pitchers, Sothoron, the Coast league iron man, and Tom Rogers, from the Southern association.

Last season the Browns looked hopeless, but Jones started a drive in July which landed them in fifth place, 78 points behind the winning Boston Red Sox.

Jones started his drive in April this year and he's been winning pretty consistently from Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland, three of the hardest clubs in the league to beat.

Take a quiet tip. Watch Fielder Jones and his Browns. It's our guess that he'll be there or thereabouts when the curtain drops in October.

Dear Ed—What's the matter with the fellas? If it was me I'd be in the trenches long before this!—Horace Wildguy.

Horace, we'll bet you've got a wooden leg.—Ed.

Dear Ed—I'm a wrestler. How's chances for getting in the army?—Felix.

Slim, Felix, your reputation is against you.—Ed.

Dear Ed—I'd like to get in the army, but I've got a feeble mother, and my wife isn't very strong and my six kids aren't extra well and I feel out of sorts myself, otherwise I'd be the first to go.—Henry Holdback.

That's the way to talk Henry. You are patriotic all right. That's the reason the draft bill went over.—Ed.

Dear Ed—I'm doing my bit. I've cut down thirty seeds a day on our canary's feed. How's that?—Gerald Gove.

Fine, Gerald, you're making a wonderful sacrifice. Might suggest you put water in the cat's milk.—Ed.

Dear Ed—I'm a chorus man. Do you think there is any danger of me being called?—Harold Talcum.

We hope it doesn't get that bad. Then it will be women and children first.—Ed.

HIGH SCHOOL WON.

Fairmont High won from the Rivesville nine in a hot game at South Side Park yesterday, the Rivesville aggregation proving even stronger than was expected. The locals got an early lead and by good work succeeded in maintaining it to the end of the game which resulted 6-2 in their favor. Rivesville showed the effect of "Goose" Ward's coaching and put up a good fight.

Inspired by a Dream.

Musicians have been inspired by dreams, but not all by so terrifying a dream as that which came to Giuseppe Tartini, the Italian composer, who thought the evil one came to him and compelled him to play the violin. He awoke horrified, to find the strains he had been playing in his dream still ringing in his ears. He sat down and committed them to paper, and thus was written the famous piece known as "The Devil's Sonata."

OUR NORMALITES WIN AT GLENVILLE

Another Game With Same Team is Scheduled for Today.

Fairmont Normal defeated Glenville Normal at Glenville yesterday by a score of 6-2. The local lads outplayed the "Glenvilleites" in every way, their hitting and fielding being much superior. Today the same two teams will again battle on the Glenville diamond and Fairmont is expecting her winning streak to continue.

"The Spirit of Youth"

New Super-Six Speedster Now Here

Latest, fastest Hudson model just arrived. A smart car with new lines. Seats four. $1750 at Detroit.

The newest Hudson Super-Six model has just arrived.

It is the smartest Speedster you have ever seen. In the grace of its lines, the dashing beauty of its finish and its wonderful performance it expresses the "spirit of youth."

Our allotment of these cars is not large. Even before we were told anything of its details, even without advertising or announcement of any kind either by the factory or ourselves, customers placed orders with us to assure early delivery. Our only word from the factory was that a Speedster model would be ready sometime this spring.

To get an idea of the probable demand for such a car we asked some of our Super-Six owners about it. The result is shown in the orders they gave us. We couldn't give them any description of the Speedster, not even an idea of what it would look like, nor even assure definite delivery dates. Still the orders continued to increase, and seeing a repetition of last year's condition when buyers grew disappointed at not getting delivery of their Super-Six when wanted, we stopped accepting orders.

And why shouldn't there be such a demand for a Hudson Super-Six Speedster? Everyone knows of the official record of a stock Super-Six chassis in traveling a measured mile at the rate of 102.7 miles an hour. And all motorists are familiar with other wonderful performances of the Hudson Super-Six. The Super-Six has proved it has just the qualities you would require in a Speedster.

There could be no concern about the beauty or grace or finish of the body. The artists responsible for such lines as are revealed in the Super-Six Phaeton, the grace of the Hudson Super-Six Limpusine, and the daintiness of the Town Car, could be relied upon to design the smartest Speedster.

Such a car is here now for you to see. You must acknowledge its low sweeping lines, its rich cobalt blue body with vermilion wheels, the smartest Speedster you have ever seen.

Don't forget that our allotment is small, that the factory is not building many cars of its type, and that only a few cars are available to any one dealer. Some will probably not be able to get any at all.
