

IN THE FRONT ROW

HEADLINERS TONIGHT. Stock Productions. Hippodrome. The Girl from Out Yonder Pictures. Princess.....The Stone God Nelson.....Broken Lives Ideal.....A Mother's Sacrifice Dixie.....Plain Jane Grand.....The Ragged Princess

TODAY the Hippodrome Players are staging for the first time at popular prices "The Girl from Out Yonder" the big Adelaide Thurston success, and Mr. Heilman is emphatic in his remarks regarding the merits of the play and the manner in which it will be interpreted. He says this will be the greatest triumph of his cast of capable players. It has been carefully rehearsed under the direction of Mr. Karloff, who adds that everything is in smooth working order.

The usual "paynight" feature will be repeated tomorrow night, when live turkeys will be given away.

Miss McKinley says she is getting accustomed to working in small quarters, but laments the fact that the Hippodrome stage is under size for the big productions being staged by the company.

An inquisitive interviewer asked Helen Thomas, star in "A Lass of the Lumberlands," which is featured at the local tomorrow, why she never looked twice the same in a photograph. "Well, now, that's an interesting question," Miss Holmes shot back at him. "I've wondered about that myself, and the only solution I can get is that the same woman is never twice the same. Figure that out for yourself. If you weren't a man maybe you wouldn't have to."

Mabel Taliaferro, who was featured in "The Dawn of Love" at the princess last week, claims New York as her birthplace, but she was born on a train bound for the metropolis from Virginia.

In the amazing history of the motion picture industry thus far, there is probably no more conspicuous example of the sudden rise to fame of a motion picture star, than Bessie Barriscale who is at the Dixie today with Charles Ray in a late Triangle production, "Plain Jane." She is not new to local movie fans and her previous appearance in pictures here met with such evidence of approval that the Dixie management feels the headliner today is an exceptionally strong one. This capable young actress, who played Juanita in "The Rose of the Rancho" under direction of David Belasco, and later, Luvy Mary in that perennial comedy, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," is also regarded as patrons of the speaking stage in the cities in which she has appeared.

"The Lure" will be presented at the Hippodrome on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The arrangements for the rights and script were concluded last week and notwithstanding the unusual features of the piece Mr. Heilman is sure that its presentation here by his company will be a revelation. He has the greatest confidence in his players and they in turn have the assurance of being able to present in a first class manner anything the management chooses to select. They will, however, take a full week at rehearsal here. The usual three days put in on other plays.

Ronald Rosebraugh has "caught on" with Hippodrome patrons. That he has become a favorite is noticeable. His comedy gets them going every time. Mr. Rosebraugh is conscious of this fact and is pleased to know his efforts are appreciated. "The work is so much easier, and so much more pleasant when a fellow can see it taking hold," is, however, all that it was possible to get him to say on the subject.

"The Senator," which is coming to the Nelson theatre tomorrow, is a picture of the same name, but Charles J. Ross is the star of the screened story. In the character made famous by William H. Crane on the legitimate stage Mr. Ross has his own share of stage fame, which is added to by his remarkably effective work before the camera in this picture of political and social life in Washington. There is a remarkable revelation of the machinations and intrigues attending even the most praiseworthy efforts of legislators of the higher class, of the plots and counterplots, of the social ambitions of leaders and would-be leaders among the "official set," and a series of pictures which will prove of thrilling interest.

We sauntered into the Hipp Saturday afternoon to see the last acts of "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" and arrived just as the "incense" was being the last bar of "There's a Heart in the Heart of Maryland." Knowing that it was not a score from the Hipp rep-

MOTHERS, DO THIS—

When the Children Cough, Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt, sure relief. It does not blister.

As first aid and a certain remedy, Musterole is excellent. Thousands of mothers know it. You should keep a jar in the house, ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia)

SOCIETY DISCOVERS BEAUTY IS A POET!

MRS. LEONARD THOMAS New York and Philadelphia society has just discovered that the "Michael Strange," whose poems have just been published, is Mrs. Thomas, society leader, whom Paul Heileu, the artist, has pronounced the most beautiful woman in America.

entire we took advantage of the first opportunity to inquire the why and how of the innovation. We learned—

Chas. Hopkirk is back in Hagerstown, Md., at his old job playing a piano. He has quit vaudeville.

If "Hoppy" only would keep traveling, we'd probably be delighted with a lot of good old timers like "Meet Me in St. Louis," "Under the Annuhouser Bush," and so on. Or, maybe, "Where's My Wandering Boy Tonight?" OLD STAGER.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old. I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.
