Hartley's The Store Ahead Hartley's. These Are Reception Days at the Hartley Store. With the Showing of its New Millinery, with all the New Fashions in Dresses, Suits, Coats, Waists, Shoes and all the Accessories, with an abundance of New Dress Goods to choose from--and everything ready for inspection. Surely these are Reception Days at Hartley's

MILLINERY. The Fascination of New Hats. It is a season of "towering" fashions, from the Chinese-inspired hats with their pagoda-like crowns to the smaller hats with crowns made of folds of silk or ribbon, the dominant tendency is toward height in crowns. Crowns are large and brims are extremely broad or quite diminutive. It is a season of quiet, richly beautiful hats, with much velvet, hatters' plush and fine-textured felts. Taupes, soft deep-toned grays, many rich browns, beautiful rose and dark reds give a hint of the colors Paris approves. All together it is the authoritative, definite showing of the Autumn and Winter millinery fashions and prices as usual are kept down to within the moderate range. Now is the best time to make selections while the collection is replete. (Second Floor)

FURS! FURS! Show and Sale of Beautiful and New Style Furs Next Monday and Tuesday. Visitors to the Hartley Store next Monday and Tuesday will have the opportunity of examining one of the most remarkable collections of furs—coats, muffs, neckpieces and sets—ever shown in Fairmont. Remarkable for three reasons—FIRST—There will be thousands of dollars worth of good furs here—by about twice the quantity ever shown before. SECOND—Every fur coat, muff, neckpiece and set is of fine new stock, dependable in every way and made up in this season's best styles. THIRD—Furs are constantly advancing in price, but in this sale the prices will be the same as the large city stores have advertised during the last six weeks. Furthermore, an expert of many years' experience will be on hand to explain anything you may want to know about these furs. There will be no mystery about the furs in the Hartley Store. Among the furs to go on sale are the various fox furs, mink, skunk, squirrel, beaver, kolinsky, seal, mole, lynx, wolf, sable, raccoon and others. Take advantage. (Second Floor)

Looking at Some of the Finer Afternoon Dresses. We have first of all, serge frocks—from the severely tailored sorts to those with beads or braids. Then comes frocks satin—some of one material and some combined of two. Generally the colors are soft, deep-toned browns, taupes, blue and blacks but enhanced with lovely white collars and cuffs. Rich embroidery and braiding are used quite extensively. Some of the skirts come in panel effects pleated or gathered at sides, some are all pleats, others are gathered and draped at side. A strikingly handsome frock just received is of a fine navy serge, knife-pleated skirt and an over-jacket or richly-colored figured silk, white collar and cuffs. Right now there is a splendid collection of plain and novelty dresses to suit all tastes and the prices are indeed moderate. (Second Floor)

Scores of Women's Practical Suits Are Ready. Coats are mostly fingertip length, though some fall below the knee; and they are mostly straight in line. Some are pleated, some belted and buckled; some of the loose box style. Skirts are very simple and straight with pockets which are, frankly, just useful and pretty and not in any way extreme. Materials are the soft velours, broadcloths, serge, silvertone, duvont, poplins and serges and they come in all the newest colors. Prices are $18 to $55. (Second Floor)

A Mark of Distinction in Any Home. A piano is a mark of distinction in any home. And the better the piano, the better the impression it creates. The Kurtzman is one of the oldest and best known pianos made today. It is recognized the world over by musicians of critical judgment as an instrument of perfect workmanship, and a true, sweet singing tone that cannot be surpassed no matter what price you pay. So reliable is it, and so ideally perfect for accompaniments and solo work that many of the world's greatest artists will have no other instrument in their concert work. We have one of these wonderful instruments on display in our store, and invite you to come in and see a piano that would be an ornament to the house of the royal. Its beauty of case and finish, is equalled only by its superb quality of tone. You need buy only one piano in a lifetime if you buy wisely. You can not buy a piano that will last longer than the Kurtzman, and you can not buy a piano that will improve with the years like the Kurtzman. It has proven best by every test.
