

The West Virginian

THE PAPER THAT GOES HOME... PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY... W. J. WIEGEL, General Manager... JAMES C. HERBERT, Editor...

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 10, 1918.

By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall. Then join in hands, brave Americans...

AN IMPORTANT COAL MEETING.

JUDGING by the list of speakers that has been announced, Friday afternoon's meeting of coal men from the Fairmont district will be not only the most important gathering of coal producers ever held in Northern West Virginia...

TRAINING APPETITES.

POLITICS may make strange bedfellows, but, believe us, war sure produces unusual appetites! Before the war our neighbor to the north didn't grow enough corn for chicken feed...

SUNDAY SCHOOL APATHY.

PASTOR EDDY'S quarterly report for the Sunday schools has a sick look. He says himself in the note which he added to the bottom of the detailed attendance figures...

RUFF STUFF

For an early fall day this seems to all right. The guys who put off buying summer suits until they have their third Liberty bond paid for seem to have struck it lucky.

ment? We have asked the question before during the past two years, but without receiving any very satisfactory answer. Sunday schools in most towns keep up the interest...

THE SOLDIERS' VOTE.

THE charge made at Clarksburg that the Act of 1917 which ostensibly provides a method by which men in the army may have a vote is worthless...

While the administration has made no announcement of its plans, the belief is growing that the new Russian program will call for the dispatch of American business men under suitable guard to carry material aid and expert advice for the Russian people...

Substantial progress in the mobilization of the industries of the Fairmont sub-region was made at the meeting of manufacturers held here yesterday.

When the Elks at their grand lodge meeting yesterday voted a second million dollars for war work they proved that they are behind the government with all their might for the duration of the war.

Argentina has sent a mission to this country to seek a loan of $40,000,000. Much of the hold which European business had in South America was due to the fact that European capitalists were the bankers for the South American republics.

Dr. Richard von Kuhlmann, German foreign minister, whose carefully prepared peace feeler was a complete failure both at home and abroad, has "resigned."

SHORT AND SNAPPY

The German mark, like German honor, German morale and German hopes, is at a lower mark than ever before.—Connellsville Courier.

An epidemic of "grip" is reported to have seized the German army on the French front—and this following the losing of their grip by the Germans appears as an anomalous statement.—Parkersburg Sentinel.

Judging by recent samples, when we get a big Yankee army over there, the German is going to do a moving picture of a retreat to the Rhine.—Wheeling Telegraph.

Our Scotch friends in town are not worried over the tendency of our luscious damasks to wear 'em high. They like the kilties.—Morgantown New Dominion.
