In looking over a London paper one is struck forcibly with "different" ways of expressing things. A sten grapher is a "shorthand typist," ervant is "domesticated help." Movi.g pictures are "animated pictures. "Required" is used where we say "wanted." "Youth" is used in place of our 'young man," and "lad required" is used in place of our familiar "boy wanted." One particular ad pleased me immensely. It read "Lady required to assist at service counter. oes it not sound quaint and interest ing? "Lady required to superintend ocking" was another alluring ad. Motor driver," "chamber for rent" and a number of other different expressions were very noticeable. I saw a miserable young robin yesterday morning after the rain. He sat on a fence rail with his feathers standing out in all directions, trying in vain to catch a stray sunbeam to use for drying purposes. He turned first one way and then another and looked up at the sky as though waiting. "You'll wait some time, young robin, if I know anything," I said. "You'd better go in search of a dry shampoo!" Hardly had I got the words out of my mouth until the robin began a vigorous toilet, shaking, preening, pirouetting. He ran along the fence like a tight rope walker, coming back again to the place where he started. He turned around several times. Four times he fiev across the yard and back again. "ais made a good electric fan. It wasn't long until all his feathers lay smooth again and with an unruffled disposition, he began to sing con-tentedly. "Goodness me," I laughed.

When Telephoning

Observation of the following suggestions will help your telephone service: Always call by number; never by name. Be absolutely sure of the number; look it up in the telephone directory. Eliminate unnecessary conversation; make necessary conversations brief. Speak distinctly and listen carefully; this makes repetition unnecessary. When you go to the telephone have your thoughts lined up so they can be expressed briefly.

I. Characteristics of God's Word (Ps. 19:7-11).

The Psalmist here sets forth six descriptive titles of Gor's Word, six outstanding qualities, and six resultant effects. FIRST GROUP-

1. Title: "The Law of the Lord"

By this is meant the fundamental principles which God as a morel being reveals to the consciences of men as binding upon the soul.

2. Quality: "Perfect" (v. T). It is free from omissions and redundancies. It is perfect as a moral code, and it perfectly accomplishes man's salvation.

3. Effect: "Converting the Soul" (v. 7). The practical effect of the law of God is to turn men to God himself, righteousness, and holiness.

SECOND GROUP-1. Title: "The Testimony of the Lord" (v. 7).

It is the witness which God bears as to his attributes, and against man's nonnced by God's Word. It is plain and infallible. We can repose in it our interests for time and

3. Effect: "Making Wise the Simple" (v. 7).

The simple are those who have humble, open and teachable minds. THIRD GROUP-

1. Title: "The Statutes of the Lord" These are the principles or charges which the Lord gives to us all, to fit us to rightly perform the duties which the different relations of life make obligatory upon us. 2. Quality: "Right" (r. 8). They are from the righteous God and are absolutely just and equitable. 3. Effect: "Rejoicing the Heart" (v.

The true heart rejoices in justice FOURTH GROUP-

1. Title: "The Commandment of the Lord" (v. 8). This brings into view the personal

God who stands back of his law to enforce its demands-to require obedience to its precepts. 2. Quality: "Pure" (v. 8). It is free from deceit and error.

3. Effect: "Enlightening the Eyes" The effect of God's law is to give man ability, not only to understand his love and salvation, but to be wise as to the things about him. FIFTH GROUP-1. Title: "The Fear of the Lord" (v.

Reading the Word of God produces reverential fear in the heart of the 2. Quality: "Clean" (v. 9). It is not only clean in itself, but
