

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

Stoetzer-Robinson

A wedding of beautiful appointments was solemnized last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Clarence D. Robinson on Fairmont avenue, Miss Helen R. Robinson was united in marriage with John James Brown Stoetzer, only child of Dr. and Mrs. Herman G. Stoetzer of this city.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Herman G. Stoetzer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and the father of the bridegroom, in the presence of one hundred and fifty of the relatives and intimate friends of both families.

The living rooms and sun parlors of the Robinson home had been transformed into a bower of beauty by the lavish use of autumn leaves in beds, golds and browns and southern smilax which had been twined about cornices, doorways and windows, hung from electric domes and ceiling and was banked on the stairway down which the bridal party came for the ceremony. Tall standards filled with large white chrysanthemums and topped with white tulle and white flowers were placed about the living room, while a profusion of palms, crotons, ferns and plumosia added to the pretty effect.

At the south windows of the large living room, where the bridal party stood for the ceremony, palms, ferns, rhododendron and plumosia were grouped, with tall standards of white chrysanthemums together with candles guarding a white satin pre-dieu, which was artistically arranged with plumosia, white chrysanthemums and white satin ribbons and upon which the bridegroom and bride knelt for the prayer and before which the ceremony was performed.

As the nuptial hour approached and as Miss Eleanor Blanche Barnes, at the piano, sounded the opening chords of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, the bridal party descended the stairway, through a white ribboned aisle, which was formed by ribbons carried from the stairway to the altar by Robert and Albert Robinson, the twin brothers of the bride.

As the aisle was formed, the bridesmaids, the Misses Florence Hutchinson, Mary Maud Hurst and Louise Hall, advanced down the aisle where they awaited the coming of the bride. She was preceded by her matron-of-honor, Mrs. William McDougal of New York, and by her maid-of-honor, her cousin, Miss Mildred Robinson. The bride entered the room with her father and was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, John Windsor, and by Doctor Stoetzer.

As Doctor Stoetzer performed the ceremony, Miss Barnes played nuptial music, "To a Wild Rose." At the conclusion of the ceremony, an informal reception was held, during which the bride and bridegroom were showered with congratulations and best wishes. After this, accompanied by the wedding guests they passed through a canopy walk to the bride's cousin, which adjoins the Robinson home, where an elaborate wedding supper was served.

The Dickerson home was beautiful in its decorations of autumn foliage and southern smilax, with a bit of coloring introduced into the decorations by a profusion of gaily colored zinnias, marigolds and variegated chrysanthemums. These were used with good effect about the sun parlor, living rooms and dining room and formed a pretty setting for the bridal supper.

The bride's table, at which were seated the bride and bridegroom, their attendants and several of her friends, was centered with a handsome silver centerpiece filled with pink roses, snap dragons, violets, bouvardia and maiden hair fern, with streamers of bouvardia and fern arranged artistically about the table; with here and there bunches of pink roses, violets and snap dragons. Shaded candles in silver candle sticks were used with good effect, and a shower of Ward roses and violets fell gracefully from dome to the table center. Covers were laid for eighteen, including the wedding party and several other guests. Seated at the table were: Mr. and Mrs. John J. Brown Stoetzer, the Misses Mildred Robinson, Louise Hall, Mary Maud Hurst, Florence Hutchinson, Mrs. William McDougal, John Windsor, Delmar Robinson, James Anywell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brock of Morgantown, Mr. and Mrs. Hurst Koblegard of Clarksburg, Mrs. Harry K. Grainger of Lincoln, Neb., Clarence D. Robinson and sons, Robert and Albert. A Pittsburg caterer served the supper.

The bride who is a beautiful brunette, was lovely in a creation of ivory satin, with long waist, circular skirt, fashioned decolette, with rose point berth and with long court train, handsomely embroidered in pearls. Her long tulle cap veil, with rose point crown, was caught with orange blossoms, and her slippers were of white satin with rhinestones buckles.

She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of bride's roses, valley lilies and orchids. Her going-away gown was a handsome three-piece suit of dark blue velveteen, with trimmings of beaver, with which she wore a brown beaver hat with a bird of paradise.

Miss Robinson as maid-of-honor was beautiful in a gown of all green satin, with long waist effect, sleeveless, round neck, with long panels, falling from the embroidered girdle. She wore silver slippers and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. William McDougal of New York, as matron-of-honor, was pretty in a creation of yellow chiffon, with long skirt panels, sleeveless and with round neck, elaborately embroidered in crystal beads with which she wore gold slippers. She also carried a handsome arm bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids were charmingly gowned in frocks, fashioned alike, of varied colors. Their dresses were of chiffon, sleeveless, with round necks, skirts slightly bouffant and draped and finished at the hems with crystal beads. Crushed ribbon girdles were drawn gracefully through ribbon make buckles. The girdles on each of the bridesmaid's dresses were of two shades of pink, and their slippers were of silver cloth.

Miss Hutchinson wore pink and carried pink chrysanthemums, with ties of pink shaded ribbon and tulle.

Miss Hurst wore yellow and carried yellow chrysanthemums, with ties of yellow ribbon and tulle.

Miss Hall wore orchid and carried white chrysanthemums with ties of green and white ribbon and tulle.

Mrs. Stoetzer, mother of the bridegroom, was handsomely gowned in black lace and sequins and wore a corsage of Ward roses and orchids. Mrs. A. W. Sterling, aunt of the bride, wore white chiffon cloth embroidered in crystal beads, and her corsage was of pink roses and orchids.

The bride is one of the most beautiful, charming, and cultured young women of this city. She was born and reared here and descends from two well known families of West Virginia. She is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson and of Mrs. Frances Morris, of the East Side. Her father, Clarence D. Robinson, is a prominent coal operator and business man of Northern West Virginia and is president of the Robinson Coal Co., of this city. Her marriage with Mr. Stoetzer unites two families prominent in the business, social and religious life of the community. Miss Robinson was graduated from Gunston Hall at Washington, D. C., in 1921, and since making her debut into society has been a social favorite here and elsewhere in the state.

Mr. Stoetzer is the only child of Dr. and Mrs. Herman G. Stoetzer and has been a resident of this city for more than twenty years, during the pastorate of his father in this city. He also descends from prominent families of the state, his maternal grandfather having been John James Brown of Morgantown, who descends from a well known Preston County family. Mr. Stoetzer was graduated from the Fairmont High School and following his graduation entered the Lawrenceville School at Lawrenceville, N. J., from which he was graduated in 1915. He then entered Princeton and was graduated from there in 1919. He entered the service of the U. S. government in the World War, was commissioned lieutenant in the heavy artillery and was stationed for a time at Fort Sill, Okla. For several years, he has been in the coal business, being associated with the Davis Coal Co., with headquarters in Morgantown and later being located in Philadelphia. At the present time he is manager of the Lucas Mills mine near Clarksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoetzer left last night for a wedding journey, not making anyone acquainted with their destination. Following their honeymoon, they will come here to reside temporarily with the bride's father.

The bride's cake, which was a handsome affair, contained favors for each of the guests at the table, these favors being attached to narrow ribbons drawn to each cover.

Since the engagement of Mr. Stoetzer and Miss Robinson was announced recently, they have been much feted, a large number of parties having been given in their honor.

The bridegroom's gift to his bride was a handsome diamond set platinum wrist watch.

During the evening Edgar Barrett's Old Gold and Blue Orchestra furnished music.

The H. Weber & Sons Co., local florists, had charge of the decorations and furnished the flowers for the wedding party.

Out of town guests here for the marriage were: Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bowers, Elkins; Mrs. C. L. Robinson, and son Delmar and daughter, Miss Mary Robinson, Winchester, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brock, Morgantown; Mr. and Mrs. Hurst Koblegard, Clarksburg; Mrs. Harry K. Grainger, Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. J. A. Bonafeld, Huttonsville, W. Va.; Mrs. William McDougal, New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. G. Brown and Ludington Brown, Morgantown; Mrs. Frank Maxwell and daughter, Miss Virginia Lee, Buckhannon; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gilbert, Morgantown; Mr. and Mrs. Rush Koblegard, Clarksburg.

To Hold Meeting.

Mrs. James H. Thomas has called a meeting of those selling tickets for the concert series which the music department of the Woman's Club will put on this season. The meeting will be held Saturday evening at 7:30 at the Y. W. C. A. It is said to be urgent that those selling tickets make a complete report of the number of tickets sold and to whom sold, in order that a check may be made on the ticket sale and that the department may know the condition of affairs in regard to the sale.

Bride and Bridegroom Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Meredith Hill, whose marriage was solemnized last evening in Clarksburg, motored here following the marriage, with Mr. and Mrs. James H. Thomas, who were guests at the marriage, and spent the night here, leaving here today for an automobile tour through the valley of Virginia. Upon their return here they will reside in this city in an apartment on Vermont avenue, pending the completion of their own home.

The marriage last evening was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Sheriff and Mrs. Laco L. Young, on Third street, and was a brilliant society event. Mrs. Hill, who was formerly Miss Persis Young, is well known in this city. The Clarksburg Exponent gives the following account of the marriage:

"The home of Sheriff Laco L. Young and Mrs. Young on Third street was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening, when their daughter, Miss Persis Pauline Young, became the bride of Herschel Meredith Hill of Fairmont. Promptly at 8 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Jonathan Davis, the wedding party descended the staircase led by the bride's two small sisters, Josephine and Marie Young, strewing roses in the path of the bride. Mr. Hill and his bride followed and little Virginia Davis of Bridgeport, cousin of the bride, brought up the rear in the role of train bearer. Mrs. U. N. Orr, of Kingwood, another cousin of the bride, rendered 'Because,' preceding the ceremony.

"A white canopy draped in smilax, banked with stately palms and ferns marked off the spot for the lighting of the vows. Tall standards and baskets of pom-pom chrysanthemums to either side completed the effective floral note. The Rev. Dr. J. W. Engle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church officiated, using the ring ceremony.

"The bride was gowned in ivory satin with pearl trimmings. Her full court train hung from the shoulders and her tulle veil was edged in real lace, fashioned with a coronet of the lace and held with a stand of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet combined roses, orchids and lilies of the valley. Her small attendants wore beruffled frocks of organdy in pastel shades. The little flower girls carried dainty baskets of pink rose petals.

"Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held, which included over 100 guests. Receiving with the bride and bridegroom were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hill. Mrs. Young was gowned in orchid satin trimmed in silver. Mrs. Hill's gown was of kitten-ear satin.

"In the dining room where tempting confections and coffee were served during the receiving hours, the attractive color scheme of pink and white was predominant. Three tiers of wedding cake consisting of three tiers banked with smilax studded with pink roses formed an attractive center of the table. Lighted pink candles marked the four corners of the table.

"Mrs. O. J. Whitell presided at the coffee urn. Mrs. C. D. Munson and Mrs. Maynard Davis, of Bridgeport, served the ices and confections. Assisting in the serving were: Misses Catherine Swiger, Margaret Gaylord, Ruth Souder, Wilma Smith, Erma Young, Nellie Young, Louise Hill of Fairmont. Miss Mabel Young, sister of the bride, registered the guests."

Club Tomorrow

The autumn reunion of the Fairmont Woman's Club will be held tomorrow evening at the Masonic Temple when the annual autumnal tea will be held. The tea will be in charge of the hospitality committee of which Mrs. Edwin Robinson is chairman and preceding the tea an interesting program will be observed the features of which will be featured dancing by the Misses Louise Conn and Mildred Jones, a piano solo by Miss Katherine Beltzhoover, costume reading by Miss Jean Billingslea and reviews of the bonnie held at Lake Chautauqua and from the state convention held at Shepherdstown. Mrs. Joseph Rosier, club president, will also give a brief outline of the work for the year. Miss Beltzhoover will play "Polonaise in A Major," Chopin; Miss Jean Billingslea will read "What Was Nurse to Do," and interpretative dancing, "Pierrot and Pierrette," will be given by Miss Conn and Miss Jones.

Bake Sale

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion will hold a bake sale Saturday morning on the porch of the American Legion Building on Cleveland avenue. This sale promises to be a fine one, as all the women of the auxiliary will donate good things to eat for the sale.

Tickets Selling

Tickets are selling fast for the three-number concert course which will be given in this city by the music department of the Women's Club, the first number of which will be Madame Louise Homer, who will appear in concert at the First M. E. Church on November 2. Large numbers of tickets are being sold in this city and nearby towns, and the celebrated artist is assured of a fine audience.

"When in doubt, take Homer," (Continued on page twelve)

Inspiration For Home Sewers

Bolts and bolts of billowy crepes and nappy woolsens that unfold long vistas of smart costumes as they unwind, compose our fall fabric display.

Women planning new suits, coats, capes or frocks will find here all the newest fabrics, as well as the old staple ones they like so well.

Never were the heavier materials so ideal for home sewing as they are this season. Of the softest texture, easy to manipulate, and luxurious looking when made in even the simplest designs.

- Monatac—a soft velour finished fabric in navy and brown 54 inches wide, $5.00 yard.
- Yalama, a soft luxurious fabric for fine coats and capes in brown, black, navy, tan and copen; 64 inches wide $3.50 yard.
- Novelty skirtings in the softest, nappiest woolsens in cleverly designed plaids and stripes 54 inches wide, $5.00 yard.
- Wool Canton Crepe, very soft and fine—a fabric much in demand, comes in a selection of popular shades—navy, brown, camel, rust and black, $3.00 yard.
- French Wool Chails in new fall patterns, dots, stripes, and checks and all over effects that are new. 27 inches wide $1 yard.
- Rostanara Crepe—a heavy, crinkly weave that may be draped, daited or puffed as the style demands. 38 inches wide, in black, brown, etc., $4 yard.
- Matelasse, one of the very newest of silks, ideal for over-blouses, and for combining with other silks in fashioning smart frocks. In navy, brown and black; 36 inches wide, $4.50 and $6.00 yard.

You Can Make Your Own Garments—Deltor Pictures guide you Every Step

Save materials as experts do. The Deltor cutting layouts give you your size pattern in your view, laid on the width material you are using. You have put before your eyes, simply clearly a layout that exactly fits your needs and saves you money on everything you make.

The Butterick Styles are Easy to Make—choose your pattern before you do your goods.

From Behind Curtains

—she steps forth in a smart Envelope Chemise. It is made of fine batiste, plainly tailored, with bodice top and built up shoulders, beautifully hemstitched and tucked. Hers is pink but they come in white, too. $1 and $1.15. Some adorable ones in pink crepe are priced $1.50. Others made of finest batiste, trimmed with real filet lace, $2.25 and $2.95.

Neat and Trim

—and very serviceable for the protection they afford the underwear from the rub of cloth frocks. These pink crepe Bloomers are well cut and roomy with double elastic knee, priced $1.00.

You Can't Blame Her

—for admiring her pretty new gown with its pretty lace trimming. It is made of fine batiste and the price is only $2.25. Another made of the same material and lace trimmed too, $1.50 crinkly Crepe Gowns in orchid stripes on white, $1.50.

New and Very Smart

—are these Oxfords and Slippers. The illustration shows an all-over Gray Suede Oxford in blucher pattern. Black finish on sole and heel; light welt sole and medium low heel, AA to C widths, 3 to 8 sizes, price $10.00.

Calico For Making Hollow'en Costumes

Black, yellow, green, red, 15c yard. Flowered Calico in all colors and gay patterns, 22c yard, 3rd Annex.

Black and brown All-Over Broadcloth Satin Slipper, one strap pattern, medium round toe, turn sole, Junior Louis covered wood heel. AA to C widths, all sizes, price $8.00.

Three Attractive Numbers Especially Priced for FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

ONE is a beautiful black satin, one-strap pump with turn soles, almost exactly as pictured. There are all widths and sizes in the group, and a splendid value at

$5.00

(the same style in patent leather at $5.00)

THE last number that is specially priced for Friday and Saturday is a black lace oxford with rubber heels and on the blucher style—An ideal Fall Oxford for only

$6.00

Shurtleff & Melton "Shoes that Satisfy"

Hallow'en Costumes and Masks
Holt-Rowe Novelty Co.
325 Adams St.