FIRST BIG FILM COMES FRIDAY

Colonial Theatre Will Present "America," Using Over One Mile of Film. "America," the first great New York Hippodrome producing to be done in moving pictures, is scheduled for presentation at the Colonial theatre on Friday, January 1, 1915, for one day only, which takes over two hours' run for the films of 6,500 feet and in seven wonderful parts. For years film magnates and others have pursued the Messrs. Shubert with offers of fabulous sums for the right to film Hippodrome spectacles, but always without success. This, because of lack of confidence on the part of the producers in the ability and resources of the applicants to properly present the spectacle. Hence it remained for the great Hippodrome Inventive genius, Arthur Voegtlin and William J. Wilson, the eminent stage director, to evolve specific and comprehensive plans which met with the approval of the Messrs. Shubert, for going the gigantic task properly and with reasonable assurances that the outcome would approximate Hippodrome standards. Thus it was that "America," the greatest success ever produced at the New York Hippodrome, came to be perpetuated in moving pictures.

Thus it is that an old saying, "You must take your children to the Hippodrome because they can't send the Hippodrome to you," is relegated. Now, all that is best and most enticing about the greatest theatre on earth, is available everywhere on earth at a very low cost to the individuals.
