AUTO SHOW TO OPEN TOMORROW

Moose Banc Concerts Tuesday Afternoon and Night

Just a few little details remained to be attended to this afternoon to make everything complete for the opening of the Fairmont automobile show tomorrow afternoon in the Standard Garage building in Locust avenue.

A street parade shortly after 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon will be the signal that the doors of the greatest automobile show ever held in this section of the state will be thrown open in a very short time.

Concerts by the Moose band will be the entertainment features tomorrow, excellent music being arranged for both the afternoon and evening sessions.

Starting on Wednesday afternoon, the Liberty troupe and the Davies-Hartner orchestras of Pittsburgh will furnish the entertainment for the remainder of the week. Special programs for both afternoon and evening have been arranged and the various numbers are sure to please the crowds at the show.

The balcony near the entrance to the building forms an ideal stage for the Liberty troupe and also the orchestra and does not take any space from exhibitors.

The interior of the building has been attractively decorated with blue and gold bunting and American flags. At the rear of the building a particularly artful bit of work will, when the high powered lights are on at night, give the effect of a sunburst.

Those in charge of the annual show are well satisfied with the arrangements and anticipate a record attendance.

to see more than a few feet in front of the car. Suddenly the outline of the rear car of the interurban train loomed up through the grey mist. Motorman Adams applied the brakes and reversed the power instantly, but owing to the frost on the rails the effort to check the progress of the car was futile and it crashed into the heavier interurban coach, wrecking the platform of both cars and showering glass for half a block.

There was some confusion among the passengers when the jar came and many were badly frightened, but none became hysterical and no panic followed.

Pedestrians on their way to work rushed to the rescue, and with the aid of trainmen and traction officials who were soon rushed to the accident all the injured were quickly provided for, the debris cleared and traffic resumed.

HOME DYNAMITED.

BERLIN, Pa., March 6.—Four persons were injured and the house occupied by George Reigle here was seriously damaged by an explosion late last night. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith and three-year-old James Reigle were taken to the hospital at Somerset, but Mrs. Reigle was given medical attention here. Five other persons were in the house when the explosion occurred but escaped injury. The police expressed the belief that the damage was caused by dynamite placed on the porch. It is the fifth explosion of similar character within the past few months.

BIG SHIPMENT OF MARKS

NEW YORK, March 6.—German marks valued at $1,329,320 and gold bars amounting to a large sum was part of the cargo of the steamer Stockholm arriving today from Swedish ports.

On the basis of estimates prepared by fiscal officers of the army, navy and marine corps, the soldiers' bonds would cost the Federal government approximately $2,500,000,000. This total is predicted, upon the assumption that 50 per cent of the men who served with the army and 75 per cent of those who saw service with the navy and marine corps, will take cash.

of 12,000 tons in excess of the previous week.

The tonnage shipped by the various divisions was as follows: B. & O., 153,059 tons, Charleston, 26,100 tons; Cumberland, 14,800 tons; Conellsville, 5,450 tons; Western Maryland, Bellington & Weaver, 3,250 tons; Wyatt-Helen's Run, 16,700 tons; Monongahela, 75,200 tons.

The Morgantown Post is the authority for the following: "One of the big mines that is expected to open soon is No. 2 mine of the Cleveland-Morgantown Coal company. If this mine resumes operations, employment to about 200 men will be afforded. Company officials declined to comment on the report that the mine was preparing to open, but it was definitely learned that men are being sought. The mine will probably open under open-shop conditions. Ex-service men will likely be sought for coal diggers."

Personal Mention

J. A. Amend, auditor, and George B. Taylor, general manager, Jamison C. & C. company are here from Greensburg today. They will return to that place tonight.

C. H. Jenkins, secretary and treasurer of the Hutchinson Coal company, arrived in Washington, D. C., this morning in company with Mrs. Jenkins. They are expected to return to Fairmont on Tuesday morning.

Saturday's R. F. Fuel

A total of 153 cars of fuel were loaded at railroad fuel off the B. & O. Thirty-three cars were secured by the B. & O. while 126 cars were secured by foreign carriers.

Today's Empties

Today the mines in the Fairmont region ordered 1,288 empties. There were 821 ordered on the B. & O., 422 on the Monongahela, which includes 180 along the Morgantown and Wheeling and 45 on the Western Maryland. Operations along the Monongahela railway in Pennsylvania today ordered 251 empties.

Working Conditions

Ninety-six mines were working today in the Fairmont region. Seventy-eight operations were at work today on the B. & O.; one on the Western Maryland and seventeen along the Monongahela. Twenty-six plants were at work today on the Charleston division, B. & O.

United Mine Workers

James McCleary, district organizer, is at Hoult today.

Frank McCartney, district board member, is in the Clarkburg field today.

Nick Aiello, president of sub district 4, and E. S. McCullough, labor commissioner, will go to Downs today.

Tonnage Gains

Coal production in the Fairmont region last week aggregated 8,048 cars or a gain of 77 cars over the previous week.

Tonnage produced yesterday was as follows: Monongahela division, B. & O., 3,152 cars; Western Maryland, 345 cars; Monongahela and Morgantown and Wheeling, 2,551 cars. The mines on the Charleston division, B. & O., last week loaded 624 cars of coal while the plants on the Monongahela railway in Pennsylvania loaded 2,208 cars.

Production last week on the B. & O. gained 204 cars, lost 233 cars on the Western Maryland and gained 96 cars on the Monongahela. On the Charleston division there was a gain of 144 cars while on the Monongahela in Pennsylvania there was a loss of 183 cars, these being non-union coal.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, March 6.—Wheat declined in price today during the early transactions, the chief factor being lower quotations at Liverpool, where Argentine and Australian offerings were reported as liberal. A large increase of world shipments as compared with the previous week was also noted. Assurances that fresh export business was in progress led to a rally in prices here, but the effect failed to

HEIRESS TO $40,000,000, SHE WILL WED FACTORY WORKER

Mrs. Marion B. Stephens of Chicago, heiress to $40,000,000, has announced her intent to marry Alexandrovitch Vassniatsky, Russian refugee and Philadelphia factory worker, according to friends. Vassniatsky says he'll continue working in the factory. His bride will occupy a small home in the factory neighborhood. Mrs. Stephens became interested in Vassniatsky while doing relief work in Paris.

Consolidated gas bounded up 5 points on the judicial decision favoring the company in the 90 cent gas litigation. Brooklyn union gas also improved 2 points. Elsewhere the market pursued a rapid downward course, with some of the more vulnerable shares making precipitate declines. The usual speculative leaders were quoted quite generally 1 to 2 points below Saturday's final figures. Pressure against the steel group was traceable to the unfavorable annual report published.

Gas shares soared in the final hour. Consolidated extended its gain to 8 points and Brooklyn Union rose 11 points. The general list rallied 1 to 3 points from early minimum prices. The closing was steady.

The Hippodrome

The musical comedy company the "Knick Knack Revue," will give its first performance today and there will be three complete changes throughout the week. On Tuesday and Wednesday the programs will be augmented by the Mamie Smith revue band, which is made up of colored musicians.

The Princess

As seen this morning: "The Idle Rich" is the screen adaptation of the Saturday Evening Post story "Junk," and Bert Lytell, in the leading role, is seen as a young financial ruin, who rebuilds his fortunes by selling junk, believing that any business that is honest, is better than no business at all.

It is a clean, amusing story with good logic, presented in the usual Lytell manner and he is given strong support by charming Virginia Valli.

Mr. Lytell, having started his career on very little financially, can appreciate what it means to begin life on a small scale and for that reason he said he enjoyed his role in this production.

A good two reel Century comedy completes the program.

The Dixie

Those who have been looking forward to seeing Griffith's screen version of the story "Way Down East" will not be disappointed in the production, for it is all and more than has been written concerning it. Too much cannot be said in praise of its merits, from any standpoint.

Mr. Griffith says he thinks that the greatest thing in the world is unselfish love, and in David, the son of Squire Bartlett, who has learned to love Anna Moore, the girl who has come to his father's home seeking work, and refuge from a hard and cruel world without, he finds the ideal lover, who trusts, forgives and never fails.

It is a very human story, with a great heart appeal, portrayed in a truly wonderful manner.

The Nelson

It is interesting to note that "Foverer" was first shown in New York under the title of "Peter Ibbetson," but for the other sections of the country it has been changed for some unaccountable reason.

However the Du Maurier novel, and the Raphael stage version, which concerns two young people, who have been torn apart by fate and circumferences and yet dwell together in their dreams.

Many of the scenes are laid in a French garden at Passy, a suburb of Paris, and at different stages in the story the garden takes on changes symbolic of the lives of the two leading characters, who are first seen as children, "Gogo and Minni" by names. In the closing scenes they become Peter Ibbetson (Wallace Reed) and Mary, Duchess of Towers (Elio Ferguson), who are co-stars in the production.

As a whole, the picture has so many good points that it is hard to enumerate them all.

A Sunshine comedy, "Go and Get It" is the added feature.
