

WARSAW DOOMED TO GO BEFORE COLOSSAL MOVE GERMAN ARMIES

sist at this time would be the forcing of the Dardanelles. It is possible the allies may combine both in the suggested attempt.

French Gain. London, July 19.—Paris reports two German attacks both of which were repulsed. One was in the vicinity of Souchez, the other in the region of St. Hubert in the Artois. There were only outposts encounters in Lorraine and artillery play in Belgium.

Dardanelles Losses. London, July 19.—The total casualties of the allied Dardanelles expeditionary force in killed, wounded and missing has been 42,131 officers and men. Premier Asquith told the house of commons today that this includes both the naval and military branches.

Austrian Aeroplane Brought Down. Rome, July 19.—An Austrian aeroplane which bombarded Bari yesterday was struck by rifle fire on its way back to its base and fell into the sea of Barletta, according to an official statement of the war office last night. The aeroplane and two Austrian officers were captured.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework.

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

MILL OPERATIVES ORGANIZE A UNION

PRIVATE MEETING HELD IN THE COURT HOUSE LAST NIGHT

400 ATTENDED

Meeting Was Composed Mostly of Men From Brogon and Equinox Mills.

Last night operatives from the Equinox and Brogon Mills, numbering about 400, met in the county court house for the purpose of organizing a labor union.

A reporter of the Intelligencer went to the court house to attend the meeting but could not get admittance. For some time he was not allowed entrance to the lobby but finally he was admitted there but after the man at the door conferred with committee about three or four times, it was decided that he not be allowed at the meeting.

The door man said that several business men of the city, including lawyers and bankers had tried to attend the meeting but were not allowed to do so. It was stated that in one instance it seemed that force was going to be used in ejecting one man.

The reporter tried to get information from some of the men who had attended the meeting but they positively refused to talk.

From what could be gathered a man from Greenville came to Anderson last night to organize the labor union and it was organized. Quite a number, it is said joined. The court room was so warm that many were unable to stay for the entire meeting and they left about 5 o'clock.

Later the meeting was thrown open to the public, when several little talks were made along labor union lines.

Later last night Mr. W. W. Matthews, an organizer from Greenville, stated that a branch of the United Textile Workers, American Federation of Labor was organized with a membership of 394.

The union in this city will now apply for a charter and after it is granted another meeting will be held.

The Southern Power company has a network of wires extending over various sections of North and South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee. The connection in this city means that Anderson is now in the circuit.

POTEAU BOYS ORDAINED Gordon and McNeil Potent Enter the Ministry.

Greenville, July 19.—Last evening Gordon Potent and E. M. Potent, Jr. were ordained as Baptist ministers at the First Baptist church. Both young men are sons of Dr. E. M. Potent, president of Furman University. Gordon, the older of the two young men will leave for China as a missionary early this fall and the younger will go to Africa as a missionary, also as soon as his preparation is complete.

The address to the candidates was delivered by Dr. Quick, pastor of the First Baptist church and the ordination prayer offered by Dr. Cody. The services were unusual in impressiveness owing to the fact that the father of the two young ministers preached the ordination sermon.

Both young men have lived in Greenville for a number of years and are well known here. Both are graduates of Furman University and the Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT PALMETTO YESTERDAY

Manager Pinkston Has Put on Especially Good Show and People Show Their Appreciation

A full house was at the Palmetto yesterday afternoon to witness the first vaudeville that has appeared in an Anderson theatre in five weeks. The contest showed that people here wanted it and Manager Pinkston succeeded in getting a first class company this week.

The play yesterday afternoon was called "Joyville Limited," a delightful musical comedy, that kept the audience in an uproar of laughter. The costumes were extremely good as were also the scenic effects. The jokes were witty and the acting of the actors and actresses was far above the average.

The personnel of the company in this play was as following: Miss Isabel Van, a mechanical doll, Jack Van, conductor of the Joyville Limited; Mr. Long, manager of stock company on the train; Miss Minnie Jenkins, high class ballet dancer and ballad singer; Mr. Wade, porter on the Joyville Limited.

All of the girls are good looking and they are backed up by good comedians. That Manager Pinkston will have a full house at the Palmetto this week goes without saying.

Grave Words. (Minneapolis Journal.) By no stretch of the term could the Chicago Tribune be called a jingo newspaper. Of course, in the view of the extreme pacifist, any person or paper that does not object to seeing the United States slip into the inert and helpless condition of China is preaching jingoism. But when the largest newspaper in the second American city speaks out its mind, and what has lain more or less latent in the minds of countless American citizens, upon the subject of our relations to Mexico it will not do to dismiss the matter by calling it jingoism.

From an editorial article entitled "Time to Act in Mexico" we select this passage: So long as the balance of power in Europe was doing what it was intended to do and was preserving the peace, we had a free and with Mexico. We shall not have a free hand in European diplomacy it be considered expedient to meet the importunities of some nation insisting upon greater spoils by offering Mexico as a field of development.

and Mexico cannot pay. That could be used as a reason for intervention with a view to occupation and administration.

The possibility is one which the United States cannot ignore or dismiss contemptuously—not in this year of wrath which has made facts out of fantastic impossibilities.

What gives President Wilson's policy its dangerous turn is that it invites such an invasion of the North American continent. It permits the excuse for interference to continue. It will end in making a good, sound cause for European intervention out of a pretext.

These words are grave under any circumstances, but when it is realized that they are addressed to the people of a country as grossly unprepared as is the United States the words become exceedingly grave. Either the views expressed are sound or they are not sound. No one person or set of persons can know what the exact truth is in this world or what the future holds in store for us, and that being the case the best we can do is to reason together.

If the war is developing an epoch of aggressive militarism the Tribune is absolutely right in holding that it is dangerous for us to permit Mexico's chaotic condition to endanger our own security, let alone the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine. With a world war going on we cannot shut our eyes and pretend that we live in an age when war has become obsolete. That is sheer madness.

There is now neither secret nor sham about the ends and the aims of the war. It is being waged for world trade, foreign possessions, and expansion of the spheres of empire. That being the case, Mexico is undoubtedly a field of wealth and resources as untapped as that of China. We know what has happened and is likely to happen to China. And judging by that example, may we not presume that a similar fate awaits Mexico? Accepting this premise, are we to allow ourselves to pursue a policy of careless drifting, until we awake and find we are too late to defend our right on this continent? The question is, indeed, worthy of grave and ceaseless consideration.
