CHAS. C. LANGSTON CALLED YESTERDAY

DIED AFTER AN ILLNESS LASTING SEVERAL MONTHS

FORMER EDITOR

Of The Anderson Intelligencer and One Most Widely Known Men in This Section of State.

Mr. Charles C. Langston, a veteran newspaper man and one of the most widely known men in Anderson county, died at his home on the corner of Hampton and McDuffie streets yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, conducted by Dr. W. H. Frazer, and interment will be made in Silver Brook cemetery.

Mr. Langston was born in Anderson January 14, 1859, and was therefore, nearing his 57th birthday. He was the son of the late S. H. Langston and Mrs. Lucy Jane Langston, who is still living. Mr. Langston never married and lived all the time with his mother. Besides her he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. P. G. Shepherd of Lamo, Texas and Mrs. Jas. T. Wise of Pittsburgh, Pa.; one brother, Mr. J. E. Langston of El Dorado, Ark.; one niece, Mrs. Norma Smith of Anderson and one nephew, Mr. George Garrett of San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. Langston has been in ill health for the past several years, and about four months ago suffered a stroke of paralysis. From the first his condition was considered serious and although he rallied from the stroke, he grew worse about three weeks ago, death coming quietly yesterday afternoon.

At the age of 14 years Mr. Langston began work in the printing department of the Anderson Intelligencer, a weekly, then owned by the late E. B. Murray. For a long number of years he worked in the mechanical department of the paper but later he and Mr. J. Fleet Clinkscales purchased the paper and began running it for themselves. The first issue under their editorship was published on January 26th, 1888, in which issue Mr. Langston's salutory appeared.

From the beginning Mr. Langston was recognized as one of the best newspaper men of the state and he was valued by the other editors of South Carolina, being elected secretary of the press association for a number of consecutive years.

Under the management of Messrs. Langston and Clinkscales the Intelligencer grew and prospered and the writings of the former were read in many homes in this section of the state. Mr. Langston was broad minded, handled public questions with fairness and ability, and always edited the paper in such a way that it had few enemies. He was progressive and constructive and always advocated those things which he considered best for the people of Anderson county and the state. He was fearless in his writings, was not afraid to attack those things which he considered wrong, and yet did it in such a manner that he made few enemies.

He was proud of the city of his birth and always took a great interest in municipal affairs. He was elected alderman of his ward for two years but declined to offer himself for re-election, although urged by many friends. Through his paper he expressed his views on matters pertaining to the welfare of the city and by this wielded much influence over Anderson citizens.

Mr. Langston was widely known all over Anderson county and he has many friends who will learn with deepest sorrow of his death. Being in the newspaper business, he came in contact with a great many people and never failed to impress them with that strong personality so well known to him. He was proud of his newspaper and its shop and took great delight in chatting in his office or showing his callers over the printing department. Many people in Anderson county today can recall their first visit through a newspaper plant with this veteran newspaper man as their guide.

On September 1st, 1906, Mr. Langston retired from the newspaper field when Mr. V. B. Cheshire bought the Intelligencer from Messrs. Langston and Clinkscales. Since that time he has been spending his time quietly at home.

Although not in active service, Mr. Langston still made the round of five stores and business house in the city getting the proprietors sign the early closing agreement every spring, only departing from this custom this last summer because he was unable to come up town.

Mr. Langston was the son of a true Confederate soldier and was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, U. C. V. He was one of the best workers in this camp and always took great interest in its affairs. For a number of years he was its adjutant. All of the members of this camp are requested to meet at the court house this afternoon at 4 o'clock and will attend the funeral services in a body.

Many years ago Mr. Langston united with the Knights of Pythias and took much interest in the order. It was his request that he be buried with the Pythian ritual and today his fellow members will attend the funeral in a body, some of them acting as pall bearers.

OLD PISTOL IS FOUND WHILE MAKING REPAIRS

WAS BENEATH FLOOR IN THE BAILES STORE ROOM

IS AN OLD MAKE

And Was Evidently Thrown Away Hurriedly By Someone Many, Many Years Ago.

Yesterday morning while tearing away part of the old floor in the Bailes' store room on North Main street which has been occupied by the Piedmont & Northern ticket office, H. D. Masters found an old pistol, very much corroded and looking as if it had been lost or discarded for a number of years.

The pistol was found in the southwest corner of the building where it had been evidently thrown or hidden away by means of putting it down an opening in the brick wall extending from beneath the flooring and which was for the purpose of ventilation. Mr. Masters stated yesterday that he was having some old rubbish cleaned away in this corner when the pistol was found.

The gun is of the old type of small firm arms and evidently was in use a number of years ago. Bob Jackson, the negro who is making the mortar for the repair work on the building, stated that the Bailes store room, formerly owned by C. A. Reed, was built about 35 years ago, and that he also helped in that work. It is thought that the pistol was thrown away not so many years after the building was finished.

All of the chambers of the gun are loaded except the one over the barrel. This leads to the belief that the pistol was thrown away immediately after it was fired. The old gun was viewed by numbers of people yesterday and all had some solution to offer for its being found where it was. It was thrown away, for it would have been impossible for anyone to have ever recovered it without taking up the floor. Many of those who saw the pistol yesterday morning stated that they believed that someone threw it down the hole in the wall of the building after he had shot some one in order that it might not be found or his person.

COMMISSION ACCEPTS THREE PAVED STREETS

M'DUFFIE, CHURCH AND CALHOUN WERE INSPECTED

MEMBERS ABSENT

Few Members of Commission Being Absent, No Other Matters Were Transacted.

A meeting of the paving commission was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of inspecting and accepting the paving on McDuffie, Church and Calhoun streets, which were finished a few days ago. The members of the commission present included Messrs. D. A. Ledbetter, B. O. Evans, J. H. Godfrey, Charlie Spearman and Dr. B. A. Henry. Others present included Mr. Gilbert C. White, consulting engineer of Charlotte, Mr. Wade A. Sanders, engineer in charge and Supt. Craney. The party rode over the finished streets named above and afterwards held a meeting at the city hall. In the absence of Chairman E. R. Horton, Mayor Godfrey was asked to act in that capacity, and he stated that the purpose of the meeting was to pass on the paving on McDuffie, Church and Calhoun streets. Engineer Sanders was called upon for his report.

Mr. Sanders stated that the streets were finished by the Southern Paving company, according to specifications and that for his part he was ready for them to be accepted.

Mr. White, the consulting engineer, was asked what he had to say and he replied that to him the work seemed perfectly satisfactory.

On motion of Dr. B. A. Henry the commission accepted the paving on these streets.

Owing to the absence of several members of the commission, they being out of the city, no other matter was brought up for disposal and the meeting, therefore, adjourned.

FIDDLER'S CONVENTION

Will Be Held at Williamston Springs Park, October 3.

An old fiddler's convention will be held in the Williamston spring park auditorium, Saturday night, October 3, and promises to be well attended. A circular states that there will be a prize for every fiddler and that a square dance will follow the fiddling contest.

Rights of Pythias. All Knights of Pythias are asked to meet in the K. of P. hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of attending the funeral of C. C. Langston. It was his request that we should attend to this last sad rite. G. B. Greene, Chancellor Commander.

MAYOR WILL PASS ON LEO FRANK PICTURE

WILL HAVE IT PUT ON SCREEN FOR INSPECTION

NO DETAILS SHOWN

Mayor Informed to That Effect and Thinks Picture is Like Regular News Service.

Mayor Godfrey yesterday afternoon announced that he would have the picture, "The Leo Frank Case," which is to be shown at the Bijou theatre this afternoon and night, put on the screen this morning in order that he might decide on the advisability of its being shown in Anderson.

"I am informed," stated Mayor Godfrey, "that this same picture has been shown in Greenville and Spartanburg and that there was no objection. I am also informed that the picture is a kind of series of pictures dealing with the Frank case somewhat like a news service picture would. I am told that it shows Frank being taken from the jail to the court room, scenes in the court room, scenes in the penitentiary, Frank being taken to the penitentiary at Milledgeville, etc., and does not go into the details as a regular movie. However, I am going to see the picture tomorrow morning before it is put on for the public."

Since the announcement on Sunday morning that this picture would be shown at the Bijou there has been some speculation on the part of the people as to whether it ought to be shown. In some cities it has been prohibited by the mayor and Mayor Godfrey will pass on the advisability of its being shown in Anderson.
