Trouble at Ellsworth Over Attendance of Kids at School

(Special to The Herald.)

ELLSWORTH, Neb., Nov. 28.—Miss M. Beibeshheimer, connected with the State School Welfare board at Lincoln, recently stopped off in Ellsworth to investigate several cases which had been called to her attention concerning regular school attendance, economic conditions, treatment, etc., for children of school age. On this investigation she reported to county authorities the cases of children with Gus Sandoz, Harley Lancaster, and Mrs. Rice, formerly Mrs. McKenna. It was reported that the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Sandoz was not receiving proper chances for schooling, as per Nebraska State law requiring children under sixteen years of age to attend schools over six months per school year until the eighth grade had been passed. The Lancaster case was reported for alleged improper home treatment, while the McKenna case was reported under moral conditions.

Many from here and throughout this community subpoenaed to testify at the respective hearings which will be held before the county court at Rushville Wednesday. Among those subpoenaed were, Mrs. C. E. North, Miss Sarah Craig, Henry Dillman, J. B. Kennedy, W. Wightman, C. L. Murphy, B. F. Hollinger and the above named defendants and their families.

On account of poor train connections as necessary for one to go by way of Crawford and around, many will go overland.
