could eat, he is charged with eating his breakfast out of a paper bag. It is further alleged that he has not been to a barber for two years. The dispatch leaves it in doubt whether he shaves himself or just lets his beard luxuriate.
There may be other evidence which will prove him irrational, but it will not resemble this. He may have money than he knows what to do with, but that only proves him fortunate rather than unfortunate. Undoubtedly his is a thrifty disposition, but even though the modern tendency is to extravagant spending, he surely can not be locked up in an asylum for that. In the words of a bygone slang, this old man is crazy, like a fox.

A paper devoted to humane societies says it is kinder to drown kittens than to allow them to grow up into strays. It also lends a sense of quietness to the neighborhood.

"Temperance and labor are the two real physicians of man." Isn't it surprising how many men make it a business of dogging these two particular physicians.

Teach Your Child To SAVE

Don't allow the children to grow wasteful and extravagant. Teach them the many advantages of thrift in their young and tender years. It will grow to be the best habit they have when life's responsibilities come.

Thrift will teach them the value of every penny; the wonderful growing power of money. It will teach your child self-reliance, and bring him self-respect.

Start an account today for that youngster of yours.

That small start may be the rung in the ladder of success in your boy's business life. It will bring your daughter an understanding of money values that will make her an economical housewife some day; a blessing and help to her husband and family.

We pay 5% Interest on Savings Deposits to help them grow.

CRAZY LIKE A FOX.

(Omaha Bee.)
Once in a while the heirs of a wealthy man sue to prevent his wasting his fortune which by a process of anticipation they have come to regard as theirs. Extravagance in such cases is held to indicate insanity, and sometimes judges appoint a conservator for the fortune.
No such solution could be arrived at for the suit of the wife of a Buffalo millionaire to have him declared insane on the grounds that he was too thrifty. It would be an unheard of thing to appoint a man to assist the defendant in spending his money. Although well able to afford the royal suite at the best hotel the husband is alleged to live in a cheap boarding house. Instead of having his breakfast served in bed, or patronizing a cafe where he would be served more food than he
