If you have a bit of labor
That is difficult to do,
And it's going to take some sweating
And some digging hard for you:
And you know you're going to blister
In the hands before 'tis done,
And your back will ache and swelter
'Neath the burning of the sun;

If you'll just forget the misery
That's connected with the work,
And throw off the inclination
To fret around and shirk;

And look beyond the finished task
With pleasure and delight,
When you'll know you've done a manly part,
And made a manly fight,

The dirt won't be so hard to turn,
The sun not near so hot.
The task won't take so long a time
When dreading is forgot.

LAYING OF CORNERSTONE OF NEW BUILDING

W. A. Witherow, at that time and for long afterward, president of the Institute.

G. F. Patton.

I write the following sketch of the proceedings which resulted in the erection of the new Mt. Zion Institute in the year 1922, to be placed in the copper box inclosed in the cornerstone of the building.

In the spring of 1920, feeling the extreme need of a new building for Mt. Zion School, District No. 14, of Fairfield county, the board of trustees as then constituted, consisting of W. D. Douglas, K. R. McMaster, John H. McMaster, R. Y. Turner and J. M. Jennings, caused to be circulated, in accordance with Section 1743 et seq., Code of Laws of South Carolina (1912) Volume I, a petition asking for a special election on the question of issuing bonds of the said district to an amount not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for the purpose of erecting and equipping adequate buildings. On the 17th of May, 1920, this petition having been signed by the requisite one-third of the qualified electors of the district and by a like proportion of the resident freeholders, was presented to the board of trustees, who, thereupon, ordered an election to be held. The election was held on the 14th day of June, 1920, and resulted in favor of issuing the bonds—every vote cast being in the affirmative.

The condition of the bond market in 1920, due to the effect of the great World War, which had ended only about two years before, was such that it was not possible to secure a bid for par value, as required by law, and it was not until November 25, 1921, that such a bid was received and accepted by the Board. Weil Roth and company of Cincinnati, Ohio, through their attorney, C. S. Monteith, of Columbia, South Carolina, being the successful bidder.

In the meantime, before the sale of the bonds, A. D. Gilchrist, Architect, of Rock Hill, South Carolina, had been employed to draw the plans and supervise the construction of the proposed building. During the winter and spring of 1922, the plans were drawn and approved, and in June 1922 the contract for the erection of the building was awarded to the Mapes Company, of Rock Hill, S. C., at a cost of Sixty thousand dollars ($60,000), exclusive of the heating plant and plumbing fixtures. These latter items were awarded under separate contract to the Brice Heating and Plumbing Company, of Florence, for Ten thousand dollars ($10,000). Included in the general contract to the Mapes Company was the tearing down and removal of the building already occupying the site chosen for the new structure.

The Mapes Company began operations in July 1922, and early in August of the same year, the old building having been torn away, construction of the new building of 1922 was begun and by October 15th was sufficiently advanced for the laying of the cornerstone. When the structure is completed, it will be equipped with modern furniture purchased from the Peabody School Furniture Company, of North Manchester, Indiana, through their local representative, Ernest Gladden, of Winnsboro, S. C. The site occupied by this building has supported a school building since 1777, and I feel that this sketch of the proceedings resulting in the construction of the latest and best of the many buildings which have rested on this historic and sacred spot can not be better brought to an end than by repeating the quotation from Isaiah used by the founders of Mt. Zion Society in the preamble to the constitution adopted by them after their incorporation in 1777, fervently hoping that the same spirit which animated them in that far distant past when South Carolina was still a colony of Great Britain, may still keep alive in us and in our descendants that zeal for knowledge which must be the abiding characteristic of every free people, if they would endure: "Arise, Shine, for thy light is come and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee—to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy, spirit of heaviness, that they might be called the tree of righteousness, the planting of the Lord that he might be glorified."

G. F. Patton,
Supt. Mt. Zion 1922.

We, whose names are hereunto subscribed, being the legally constituted Board of Trustees, of Mt. Zion school District No. 14, of Fairfield county, hereby certify that the foregoing account of the proceeding resulting in the Mt. Zion Institute building of 1922 is correct.
