- A PRAYER WORTH REMEMBERING.
- Dnly a little longer let me stay, For much remains undone
- Of victories, planned at break of day, . Few, few are won Mand now life's ardent moon fades fast away.
- Only a little longer. Night draws near
- When none may labor more. Deep in my soul the hush I hear evening's nour, And weary, welcome the approaching
- I do not fear to see the shadows grow,
- To feel the darkness spread: To share their rest, who rest below—
- Or to explore the mysteries they know.
- Beyond the night, the eternal soul awakes o other, brighter day, Death is but sleep, that gently takes
- Life's load away. And fits our powers renewed, new parts
- I think the force within can never cease,
- That He from whom it came, From earthly fetters can release
- And, after trial, give His perfect peace-That like white bird, whose tireless wings
- From far up in the sky.
- Skim the dull earth, then backward bend Their flight on high, The soul to life, stoops from eternity.
- Yet would I leave, ere comes the final
- A worthier work behind-Impress with print of keener power
- The human mind-
- little longer labor for mankind.

  -Robert Blaire, in Irish Monthly.

THE LAST CHANCE OF LIFE.

It was a bright, cloudless, burning day in Lower Egypt, in the year 1798. Beneath the blistering glare of the noonday sun, the white, flat-roofed houses and tall tapering minarets of to land. Suez stood gauntly out agianst a dreary background of gray, sandy, lifeless desert. Not a breath of wind was stirring in the hot, close, heavy air, and the blue, shining waters of the Gulf of Suez lay outspread like a vast mirror at the foot of the rocky headland of Ras Attakah, on the summit of which sat erect in their saddles a small group of horsemen in the rich uniform of French staff-officers.

The leader of the party seemed to be a small, thin, long-haired man, with a sallow, sickly face, who sat his horse awkwardly, as if he were anything but a practised rider. His slight figure appeared quite dwarfish among the sturdy frames and grim faces of the veteran warriors around him; but in his and commanding that few men could face it unmoved.

And well might it be so. Young passed his twenty-ninth birthday,this man had already become famous as the greatest soldier of his time; and you do, then? although he was as yet known only as General Bonaparte, the day was not far distant when he was to call himself the Emperor Napoleon.

On the brow of the cliff the General rained up his horse, and spoke a few forth you are my servant, and I think of the Times, which had strongly supremarkable a figure as himself, though in a widely different way. Tall, strongly made, sinewy and active as a deerhound, with his black beard flowing down over his long white robe, his turn the Mameluke,-St. Nicholas. snowy turban overarching his keen dark eyes, his short curving award sus-ed in the face of death patch at the foot of these cliffs is supled the Israelites through the sea?"

Sultan and his host, and destroyed gun lever in his subordinate's hand them every one. The sultan was a great conqueror," added the Sheikh with grim emphasis, as he shot a quick could not conqueror the sea."

What should hinder us from crossis no great distance. Gentlemen, have "Full ebb," answered the guide, turnhis great black eyes.

In his usual tone of decision. "We "Who may you be, sir, who presume to have plenty of time to cross, and if the correct my work?" For answer he retide comes up before we can get back, ceived a card, on which was inscribed, pelled to fire and wound several riot-It is no long ride around by Sucz. Rus"John Millats, R. A.," accompanied by ers. In another colision, at Second tum, you can go back to the town. the kindly remark, "We are never too avenue and Thirty-fourth street, Col. Follow me, gentlemen."

high spirits, while Rustum's keen eyes these fine days." followed them with a glare of savage triumph which might have startled the boldest of them if they could have seen struction," muttered the Sheikh, "even ing his own character. At the trial of as Sultan Pharaoh did in the days of Horne Tooke, speaking of his own rep- stores were sacked by the rioters. Up old. Water quenches fire, and the utation, he said. It is the little inherigreat King of Fire himself, who has tauce I have to leave my children, and the smooth, firm sand and through "Just look at Mitford," said a bystandthe shallow water beyond it, laughing or to Horne Tooke. "What on earth and joking at the idea of going across is he crying for?" Tooke replied, "He was a much pleasanter one than the taree Eldon's children are likely to last, for the wind had begun to rise, get." and was blowing steadily from the south over the Gulf, bringing with it the freshness and coolness of the open sea. And so they rode onward, onward cook than eat." still, until the bold rocky bluff of Ras Attakah and the tall figure of Rustum over his shoulder. on its summit began to grow dim in the distance. Suddenly a young captain who rode a hoarse whisper. Detroit Journal. _ still outstanding.

a little to the right of the party noticed that the water seemed to be deepening rapidly all around them. For a few moments no one thought anything of it; but ere long the General himself checked his horse, and looking southward, every line of his dark brow, sallow face seeming to harden suddenly as he did so.

The tide was coming in fast, and they were not yet half-way across. Their only chance was to turn back: but, the moment they did so, the full sweep of the tide, driven against them by the strong south wind, caught them and a call had been made for a new horses off their feet. Deeper and deeper grew the water, stronger and stronger pressed the curlight, and the wind waved the feathery tops of the distant palm-trees, and all around was bright and beautiful.

bar somewhere hereabouts, upon which the water is only a few feet deep. If all ride in different directions, and he was visited, and a request for free

The commander's cool, clear tones stendied at once the shaken nerves of by Lexington avenue were burned his followers, and he was instantly down. obeyed. Presently a shout was heard from the young captain, who appeared been waged in order to free the Southter, in which his horse now stood barely knee-deep. The bar was found!

along the unseen sand-ridge toward nue. It was set on fire and destroyed. the western shore. More than once The original mob had now increased the exhausted horses seemed about to enormously. It started to go downfall, with safety actually in sight; but, after a long struggle, they all came safe the whole scene with breathless in- Daly's theater. The mob thwarted the terest) saw them return unharmed, he firemen, with the result that the fire ran to meet them, and laying his tur- destroyed all the fronts between Twenhan on Bonaparte's knee in token of ty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets, submission, said gloomily:

"King of Fire, thou are mightier life, for I will ask no mercy."

"What have you done, then, that I some political dislike of harsh meas-should take your life?" asked the ures, had seemingly possessed the poyoung conqueror, on whose marble lice department, (the old Metropolitan features even the peril which he had state organization,) and due prelimijust escaped had left no trace what- nary precautions for the prevention of ever.

"I am a Mameluke," answered Rustum proudly, "and even as thy sword had devoured my brethren, I hoped keen gray eyes, which seemed to pierce When I told thee it was full ebb, I right through any one to whom he spoke falsely. The tide had already turned, and I sent thee, as I thought, needed. Particularly so, because riot-to certain death." needed. Particularly so, because riot-ous feints had been made upon the Fev-

" It is wasting good material to kill though he was,—for he had only just a man while you can do anything else senals and upon the armory at the corwith him," said Napoleon, as coolly as ner of Second avenue and Twenty-"If I spare your life, what will ever.

"I will be thy servant," cried the Mametuke, eying him with a glance of his furniture destroyed; and a riotous savage admiration. "Rustum, the son of Selim, can serve none but the greatest chief on earth, and thou art he!"

And so he did; for in the day of his downfall, years later, one of the few | manding order and with the calling out who remained faithful to him was Rus-

Japanese Self-Sacrifice.

pended in a sash of crimson silk, On board the Matsushima, one man, Sheikh Rustum looked the very picture who had been shot in the abdomen Oa board the Matsushima, one man, of an Eastern warrior; and the scars and whose intestines were protruding chased by a mob through Clarkson milkmaid's beau makes a Sunday coll. that seamed his swarthy features from the gaping wounds, refused to be street, in old Greenwich village, capshe doesn't feed him on milk at all, showed that he had many a time look-carried to the surgeon's ward, because, tured, beaten, and then hanged. Gov. but works up eggs in custard pie and "You say, then," said Bonaparte, adthe fighters from their work in order claring the city under insurrection, when the old man wants a horn, does dressing the guide, "that you sandy to carry him below. Another, after and inviting citizens to envel them, be take the drugglet a lead of carry." having had his body burnt out of all posed to be the very place where Moses | recognition in attempting to extinguish a fire, stood by helping all he could So have our fathers told us, Sultan till the flames were put out, when he Kebir (King of Fire)," answered the died. A third, mortally wounded man. Egyptian, calling the General by the whose every gasp brought forth a gush name under which he was already fam- of blood, would not close his eyes until ous throughout all Egypt and Syria. he had told a comrade where the key "Along these hills the Sultan of Egypt of an important locker was and what encamped with his army, and over the locker contained. A chief gunner, those sands he went down into the sea whose under jaw had been shot away, to pursue after the Beni Izrail (chil- and who could, of course, not utter a dren of Israel). But the Prophet Mous- word, signed to a subordinate with a sa (Moses) prayed unto Allah (God) nod to take his place, and fell dead afend Allah brought the sea upon the ter he had placed the handle of the

A Friendly Critic. oldelong glance at Bonaparte, "but he a celebrated case at Bow street, and was accommodated with a seat in the failed to do was accomplished by popress box. In front of him sat a youth- lice clubs and good discipline before ing it ourselves ?" said the General, too ful new addition to the staff of a leadeager to notice this ominous allusion. ing London illustrated paper. "Don't "The water is shallow enough, and it you think that would be an improvement?" suggested the great artist mildyou a mind to follow in the track of ly, pointing out some technical defect tinued. Colored people were stoned Moses? How is the tide, Rustum?" in the sketch the youngster was engaged on. The young fellow was high- Forty-sixth street, a collision occurred ing his face quickly away to conceal by indignant at first, but eventually between the military and a section of the gleam of cruei joy that lighted up adopted the alteration, which so improved the sketch that he turned round the latter. Another collision came on We'll try it, then," said Napoleon, and inquired somewhat patrnoizingly, the east side, at Broome and Pitt old to learn. Perhaps you may be able O'Brien was unhorsed, stoned, and

It was the habit of Lord Elion, when attorney general, to close his "He goes down in his pride to de- speeches with some remarks justifybrothers the Mamelukes, by God's help, I will leave it unimpairshalf be quenched by the waves of the cd." Here he shed tears, and to the astonishment of those present, Mitford, Merrily rode the French officers over the solicitor general, began to weep.

So She Would.

"I am told your wife would rather The other man glanced nervously

They were alone.

DRAFT RIOT OF 1863.

NEW YORK CITY STILL OWES SOME OF THE DEBT IT INCURRED.

Horace Greeley and Henry J. Raymond Barely Escaped the Mob-Colored Peopie were Stoned, the Militia Defied, and General Disorder Maintained.

In mid-July, 1863, when the whole North was rejoicing over Gettysburg with a force that almost whirled the army to be raised by a draft, a large number of New Yorkers undertook to resist conscription. Their opposition rent. And all this while the sun shone assumed the form early on the mornjoyously overhead, and the leaping ing of July 13 of a riotous onslaught waves danced and sparkled in the upon the headquarters of a district provost marshal at the corner of Third avenue and Forty-sixth street, "We have one chance yet," cried The rioters put to flight Deputy Pro-Bonaparte, rising in his sterrups, and vost Marshal Jenkins and his subordilifting his voice as to be heard by the nates, destroyed wheel and ballots, whole party. "There is a long sand- and then set fire to the house. Marauding bands sprang up in various we can find it, we are saved. Let us parts of the city., Bull's Head Hotel who strikes the bar must shout at drinks being refused, the place was fired, and two private houses on near-

The feeling was that the war had colored race inspired the rioters in All the rest immediately headed to- the afternoon to make a raid on the ward him, and began to pick their way Colored Orphan Asylum in Fifth avetown to set on fire another provost marshal headquarters on the east side When Rustum (who had watched of Broadway, opposite where is now while many of the shops were pillaged.

than the waves of the sea. Take my on popular patriotism, together with some political dislike of harsh measdisturbance had been neglected; but at this stage the Superintendent of police became energetic. It was now seen at the close of Monday that the riotous spirit had exceeded ordinary police resources, and that the military arm was enth avenue and the Center street arfirst street. The house of Mayor Opdyke on Fifth avenue, near Sixteenth street, had been invaded and some of feint had been also made against the residence on Ninth street, near Fifth avenue, of Henry J. Raymond, editor ported the draft. Monday closed with a proclamation from the Mayor, coment Kennedy now had 3,000 bluecoats at his command.

Tuesday, July 14, came and before ine place, where Horace Greeley was a or Opdyke proceeded to the city hall, opposite the Tribune office, (where the compositors and staff were in a state of grenades), and addressed the rioters, urging them to refrain from violence His habitual word in first addressing a meeting had always been "Friends" and he used that word in beginning his speech, which fact was immediately bir John Millais was once attending seized upon by some of the newspapers to his disadvantage. What rhetoric nightfall of Tuesday, and the Tribune was relieved of a mob.

All day Tuesday disturbances constreets, where the military were comers. In another colision, at Second And off rode the whole party in to give me a timely wrinkle one of beaten to death, and his corpse dragged along the pavement and hanged to a lamppost. The house of Postmaster Wakeman, who had been active in promoting the draft, as well as the police station on Eighty-sixth street, were burned, and some clothing to Wednesday morning the third and last day of the rioting, 130 policemen had been more or less injured, including Superintendent Kennedy.

Archbishop Hughes issued a temperate address, one of the judges decided the draft methods not in accordance with the Constitution, and Proves the sea on horseback. This ride, too, is crying to think what a small inheri- Marshal-General Nugent Issued orders suspending the draft, which proceedings, conjoined to the return of the city regiments from the front and details of Federal and state soldiers and the popular experience with the police force, virtually quelled the riot. One result of the riot was a municipal debt for damages of several millions, and a "What she cooks, yes," he replied in few of the riot bonds then issued are for Thirty-Four Years Upon the United States Supreme Bench.

CHIEF JUSTICE FIELDS.

The proud distinction of the longest period of continuous service on the supreme bench of the United States is record that now belongs to Associate Justice Stephen J. Field. Chief Jusice John Marshall served from Januay 31, 1801, to July 6, 1835. Justice Field took his place on the bench on March 10, 1863, and on August 15 he had served for exactly the same number of years, months and days as Chief passed his eightieth year, and although his mind is clear and strong, he is in somewhat enfeebled health. Chief Justice Roger B. Taney died while still in active service in his eighty-eighth year. Justice Field is one of four distinguished brothers, two of whom are dead. Cyrus W. Field died in 1892 and David Dudley Field in 1894. The Rev. Dr. Henry M. Field, who is now seventy-five years of age, is the surviving brother of the eminent jurist.

CHIEF JUSTICE FIELDS.

ODE TO THE BADGER HEN. A Poetical Lay to the Prosaic Lay of the Practical Hen.

We have read of Maud on a summer day, who raked, barefooted, the new mown hay; we have read of the maid in the early morn, who milked the row with the crumpled horn, and we've read the lays that the poets sing, of the rustling corn and the flowers of spring; but of all the lays of tongue or pen, there's naught like the lay of the Badger hen. Long, long before Maud rakes her hav, the Badger hen has bezun to lay, and ere the milkmaid stirs a peg, the hen is up and has dropped her egg. The corn must rustle and flowers must spring if they hold their of police reserves, so that Superintend- own with the barnyard ring. If Maud is needing a hat and gown, she doesn't hustle her hav to town; she goes to the store and obtains her suit with a the day closed a poor negro had been basketfull of fresh hen fruit; if the he said, he did not want to take any of Seymour issued a proclamation de- stuffs him full of chicken fry; and and inviting citizens to enroll them- he take the druggist a load of corn? selves as special aids. Meantime a Not much! He simply robs a nest and large section of the mob was threaten- hies him townward-you know the ing the Tribune office and also the rest. His poor wife stays at home house of a citizen, 19 Lamart- and scowls, but is saved from want by those self-same fowls; for while the guest. Governor Seymour and May- husband lingers there, she watches the cackling hen with care, and gathers eggs, and the eggs she'll hide till she gets enough to stem the tide. Then siege and armed with rifles and hand hall, all hall to the Badger hen, who lays and cackles and lays again! Corn may be king, but it's plainly seen, that the Badger hen is a rustic queen .- Superior (Wis.) Citizen.

Happy-hearted People. It is said that every hearty laugh in which a man or woman indulges tends to prolong life, as it makes the blood move move rapidly and gives a new and different stimulus to all the organ of the body from what is in force at other times. Therefore, perhaps, the saving, "Laugh, and grow fat," is not an exaggerated one, but has a foundation in fact. No truer words were ever uttered than those which state so "Laugh, and the world laughs with you; weep, and you weep alone." The jolly, wholesome, happyhearted people are those who have most friends and see the best that life holds out to them .- Churchman.

A PARIS SUGGESTION.

HINTS TO HOUSEKEEPERS:

Rain water is the best and purest water for bathing delicate complexions. A surgeon who is a specialist in diseases of the ear says more ear troubles are brought about by dust in the ear than by any other cause.

It is well to soak underflannels that have become hard from much perspiration in a weak solution of sods and water for half an hour before washing them in the regular manner. A soft cloth wet with milk and rubbed over boots and shoes three or four Justice Marshall. Justice Field has times a month will improve the appearance of the leather and help to keep it soft, and thus make it last longer. Now is the time to pickle cucumbers.

Put the little cucumbers in vinegar, adding some horseradish root in order to retain the strength of the vinegar and to prevent its moulding. Horseradish leaves are good to put on top. To remove paint from window glass, take some strong vinegar and heat it very hot. Wet a cloth in the hot liquid and wash the glass with it and the paint will come off quite readily. strong solution of oxatic acid will also remove dry paint. The white of a raw egg is the most satisfactory of pastes, and is better than any prepared mucilage or paste one can buy. Papers intended to be put over tumblers of jelly and jam will hold very securely and be air tight if dipped in the white of an egg. A wash that will move the oily appearance of the skin consists of a teaspoonful of tincture of benzoin added to fifteen teaspoonfuls of soft water, shaking thoroughly. Put this on the face with a small sponge or bit of old linen rag, and let it dry on. It leaves a dainty fragrance much resembling mignonette or heliotrope.

In making meringues for a pie, never use less than the whites of two eggs. Take one tablespoonful of pulverized sugar to one egg. Allow the pie to cool, then spread the meringue, which has been beaten as light as possible. over it. Be careful to spread the meringue over the crust. Place in a cool oven until a delicate fawn color.

Spectacles and eyeglasses should be kept perfectly clean and clear, otherwise the eyes will be strained and injured. A famous optician says glasses and spectacles should be placed in a wash bowl and soaked in warm water. Then they should be washed with soap and rubbed with a soft nail brush. Polish them with tooth powder, and give them a final rub with tissue paper. A few drops of ammonia may be added to the water in which the glasses are soaked.

Remember, fair cycling enthusiast, that the ruddy, glowing face you will bring home with you after a many mile spin under a heartless midsummer sun is not alone the result of good, healthful exercise. It is an out-and-out sunburn, and is not by any means a beautifier. Avoid it as much as possible by rubbing well into the skin before going awheeling a little cold cream or some lotion that will protect the skin from the sun's ravages. Your face won't look greasy if you apply the stuff properly, and you will find it the greatest aid in warding off an overdose of sunburn. A cold-water facial bath before hob-nobbing with sun and wind is fatal to complexion charms.

Popular Girls.

"I would like to know why Katherine dow looking out at one of her young who was passing. the difference between her and Emily, safe conduct. who is a regular harmony destroyer, while the other makes peace and pleasantness wherever she goes.'

"I think," said one of her grown-up friends, and grown-up and middle aged friends are exceedingly desirable associates for young women; "I think ed through the gate, carrying poor lit-the secret of Catherine's popularity lies the Fleece's dead body. in her absolute genuineness. She never makes pretenses, and being a Chris-tian girl she always has the soft ans-then with a look of unutterable grief wer that turns away wrath.
"Half a dozen times last winter we church guild. There were several percame together. She was oil on the fore what it meant. troubled waters and smoothed all the rregularities in the most delightful "And while such dispositions are greatly to be commended they are, for he most part, possessed by persons who have sufficient spirit to defend hemselves and their families against imposition and abuse. They are long suffering, slow to anger and often bear that which others would not, and for which they are more nr less severely criticised. But they win in the long 'Blessed are the peacemakers' are words the sweet significance of which did not end with the speaking. They have come to us down through the dim aisles of the past, with their divine flavor still clinging to them, and are as aplicable to the sons and daughters of men as when they first fell from the lips of the meek and lowly Nazarene.'

Woman Deputy Sheriff.

Suffrage for women is playing some queer pranks in Utah. The latest surprise is the appointment of Miss Clair Ferguson to be deputy sheriff for Salt Lake county. The young lady entered the office of Sheriff Lewis last January as a stenographer, and has now received her promotion. The mother of the young woman, Dr. Ellen B. Ferguson, was very prominent in State politics during the last campaign, and she is very proud of her daughter, who, she "takes to politics like a duck to water.

Miss Ferguson is slender and fair, but seemingly young to hold such a responsible position. The deputy is far from the accepted idea of a hard-shooting western peace officer, but then her duties will not be onerous or dangerous, the principal ones being the serving of papers and notification of jurors. Miss Ferguson was born in Provo and has lived in Utah all her life, receiving her education in the public schools and the university of the State. She has lived in Salt Lake since the year after her birth, and is very popular among the young people in the City of the Saints,

Can You Do It?

******************

Take the Star out of the ring and put it back again! It looks easy enough. You do it once—think you have learned the trick and find you haven't. Affords fun by the hour. Amuses old and young. Enter-tains your visitors and friends. Most puzzling puzzle, for a simple one, ever invented.

How to get the "Star Puzzle" FREE. It is offered for a "Limited Time Only" by mail (post-paid) to any one who will send a Dove cut from a package of and a 2-cent stamp (to pay postage) to THE J. B. WILLIAMS COMPANY, Glastonbury, Coon. Without the Dove, it will be sent for three 2-cent stamps - 6 cents. Ivorine is the purest and most perfect washing powder that skill and experience can produce. Manufactured with the same care that has made Williams' Shaving Soaps so famous for half a century. Remember! Each package of Ivorine contains a cake of Williams' fine White Glycerine Toilet Soap, which is greatly enjoyed by all the family.

ORINE WASHING POWDER,

AN AFRICAN POISON STORY.

Strange Phenomenon Witnessed in the Northeast of the Dark Continent. Charles M. Stern, of Chicago, who has just returned to this city, after a journey through northeast Africa, told of a curious meteorological phenomenon which he observed in a district called Gwallah. "The vegetation in that region is very luxuriant," said he, "and the plant life must give off an unusually large quantity of carbonic acid gas. At least, that was the conclusion I reached after seeing three natives dis and four or five dogs. "The moment the animals put their noses to the ground, they would fall over and gasp, and die in about five minutes. The natives who died slept on the ground instead of in hammocks, as others did. I saw hundreds of dead birds. My theory is that a strata of the deadly gas covered the ground for a depth of three or four inches, and any living thing breathing in that area was asphxiated.

"I could not understand, however, how the gas was not distributed in a thinner layer, and what kept it in one place for a whole day. Nothing like it had even been known there before. The deaths of the men and dogs all occurred within twenty-four hours. Then the gas, if it were really gas, seemed to be dissipated. It was a very strange occurrence, and I might have been induced to make a more exhaustive investigation if my presence had not excited distrust. I got away as quickly as possible, rather than be accused of being the cause of the sudden deaths. The natives are superstitious, and attribute most of their misfortunes to witchcraft, so I thought it the part of wisdom to get away."-Mail and Express.

A Dog's Broken Heart.

W. L. Murfree, brother of the well-known novelist, "Charles Egbert Craddock," recently related a remarkable instance of a dog's affection for his

It was during the war, when the Murfree family lived near Murfreesboro, Tenn. The children owned two dogs, a great St. Bernard named Hugo, and a tiny white poodle Fleece. were inseparable companions and wherever Hugo's dignified self appear- ship Franklin during 1883 and 1884 ed, there gamboled beside him the absurd bundle of curls and wool. It was frigate Powhatan. Later he was sta-Landseer's picture of Dignity and Impudence in life. Hugo looked with is so popular," said a bright, vivacious anxlous solicitude after Fleece if the young woman as she stood at the win- little fellow ran away, which he frequently did, and never gave it un un- station at Port Royal, S. C. On August Just note til he brought Fleece home again in > Battles were raging all around them and one night the firing was so near and incessant that no one slept. The next morning Hugo and Fleece > were missing, and while the children searched for them, Hugo wearily walk-He walked to his mistress and laid laid himself down beside it, nor could they coax, nor crive him away. Little had more or less disagreement in our Fleece's white coat was blood stained. sorrows of war, realizing as never be-

They has, a most elaborate funeral and burier. Fleece with military honors, with his body wrapped in a flag, and they marched to the grave to the beat of a toy drum, with Hugo, who followed close, as chief mourner. When the little mound, flower-covered and draped with a flag, was finished. Hugo aid himself down across the tiny grave and refused to be comforted. He would neither eat nor drink, and the next morning they found the great fellow stiff and cold in death, still faithfilly guarding the mound that covered is dear little friend. His great loving sart was broken with grief.

Belgium, with all her great mineral wealth and her busy, industrious popwation, is nevertheless, of all the countries of Western Europe, the one where the toiler suffers most from inadequate remuneration and the pressure of poverty. This excessive struggle is intersified by the frequency of Sunday labor.

Admiral Beardslee.

Admiral Beardslee, who has just been superseded by Admiral Miller at Honolulu, is expected to make an interesting report to the Secretary of the Navy on Hawaiian affairs. Lester A. Beardslee is one of the picturesque characters of the navy, He was born at Little Falls, N. Y. Feb. 1, 1836. Receiving a commor school education, he was appointed acting midshipman March 5, 1850 ..

After being promoted to passed midshipman, June 20, 1856, he was detailed for special service on the steam frigate Merrimac. His promotions to be master and lieutenant followed soon afterward. On July 16, 1863, he was made lieutenant commander and was

-ADMIRAL BLADSIES

accached to the monitor Nantucke He participated in the attack of the fronclad fleet upon the defenses of Charleston Harbor, April 7, 1863, and in the capture of the Confederate steamer Florida, at Bahla

In November, 1880, Commander Beardslee got his captain's commission. and with it at leave of absence for two years. He commanded the receiving when he was transferred to the steam tioned at the torpedo station and on the receiving ship Vermont. From 1891 to 1894 he commanded the naval Capt. Beardslee was transferred to the Pacific station. He was made commodore June 27, 1893, and rear admiral March 1, 1895.

A Sad Accusation. Some Japanese seem to fear Christianity. The Yorodzu Choho, Tokio, says: "In the long history of Christendom we know of not a single country saved by it. With Montezuma's Mexico and the Inca's Peruvian empire, the course of Christendom was absorption, destruction, annihilation. It has killed India, politically, at least. It has killed Burmah and Annam. It has A stray builet had ended his happy lit- killed Hawaii, after keeping it alive sons connected with it who seemed tie life, and the children wept over the some forty years. It has killed Madagascar, and it will yet kill Abyssinia, Egypt and Morocco. What security have we that Christendom will not kill China, Corea, and even Japan, if the opportunity offers? Christendom does its destructive work not only by guns and bayonets, but by means much more formidable. It kills non-Christian countries by its rums and its

To Show His Skill.

"So you are the music teacher that answered my advertisement?" "Yes, sir."

whiskies and by its foul diseases."

"Well, sit down there and play a couple of duets, so I can see what you can do."-Harper's Bazar. The Queen is Considerate.

"I see where the Queen of England has sixty pianos, and doesn't play any of them "That's a good girl. I know a woman who has only one plane, but she plays like sixty."—Cincinnati Tribuna.

FREE

Send us your name and address and we will mail you, free of charge, a beautiful book of

Fairy Tales

Elegantly gotten up and handsomely illustrated in colors. Mention this paper. THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY,
New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Battimore, Pittsburgh, Chicago, St. Leuis.